III. A total Eclipse of the Sun, July 18th, in the morning. In the United States this will only be a partial eclipse, except at Astoria and the north-western part of Washington Territory, where it will be total. The line of central and total eclipse begins in the Pacific Ocean, south-west of the mouth of Columbia river, in lat. 45° 40′ N., and long. 125° 55′ W. of Greenwich; from thence it runs easterly and northerly through British America and Hudson's bay, then bends southerly, crosses the Atlantic, runs through Spain and the Mediterranean sea, then into Africa, and ends by the side of the Red sea, in lat. 15° 43′ 2″ N., and long. 39° 47′ E. of Greenwich. Its size in the Northern States will be from 6 to 7 digits, and in the South from 3 to 5 digits.

The partial Eclipse begins on the Earth in the northern and unsettled part of Texas, lat. 34° 40' 4" N., long. 25° 22' 8" W. of Washington, at the instant of sunrise. See the annexed table of this Solar Eclipse.

True Time.

Two kinds of time are used in Almanacs; clock or mean-time in some, and apparent or sun-time in others. Clock-time is always right, while Sun-time varies every day. People generally suppose it is twelve o'clock when the sun is due south, or at a properly made noon-mark. But this is a mistake. The sun is seldom on the meridian at twelve o'clock; indeed this is the case only on four days of the year: namely, April 15, June 15, Sept. 1, and Dec. 24. In this Almanac, as in most other Almanacs, the time used is clock-time. The time when the sun is on the meridian or at the noon-mark, is also given to the nearest second, for the 1st, 9th, 17th, and 25th days of each month, at the right hand of the top of each calendar page. This affords a ready means of obtaining correct time and for setting a clock by using a noon-mark, adding or subtracting as the sun is slow or fast.

Old-fashioned Almanacs, which use apparent time, give the rising and setting of the sun's centre and make no allowance for the effect of refraction of the sun's rays by the atmosphere. The more modern and improved Almanacs, which use clock-time, give the rising and setting of the sun's upper limb, and duly allow for refraction. The practice of setting time-pieces by the rising or setting of the sun or moon is not strictly correct, as the unevenness of the earth's surface and intervening objects, such as hills and forests, near the points of rising and setting, occasion a deviation in every place, from the time expressed in the Almanac, which time is adapted to a smooth, level horizon. The only means of keeping correct time is by the use of a noon-mark, or a meridian line.

To Ascertain the Length of the Day and Night,

At any time of the year, add 12 hours to the time of the sun's setting, and from the sum subtract the time of rising, for the length of the day. Subtract the time of setting from 12 hours, and to the remainder add the time of rising next morning, for the length of the night. These rules are equally true for apparent time.

Tides.

La Place pronounces the formula for deducing the tides the most difficult problem of celestial mechanics. It sometimes happens that the tide comes in several hours later or earlier than the most learned calculation would determine; and this in consequence of the strength and direction of the wind, which the calculator cannot reckon upon.

The Calendar pages exhibit the time of high-water at Boston, New York and Charleston. To find the time of high-water at any of the following places, add to or subtract from the time of high water, morning or evening, at New York, the quantity of time affixed to such place in this table. In using the quantities in this table, observe that more than 12 hours and less than 24, from midnight or the beginning of morning, is afternoon of the same day; and that more than 12 hours and less than 24, from noon, is morning of the next day.

THE WIDOW MALONEY'S PIG.—Mike Murphy was taken to task by his spiritual guide for having stolen the widow Maloney's pig. The evidence against Mike was so direct and positive that it was worse than useless for him to deny that he had unlawfully appropriated the youthful porker, and he listened with downcast eyes and much meekness to a well-deserved lecture from the priest, upon the wickedness of the theft he had committed, till the reverend gentleman asked him what he would be able to say in the great judgment day, when he should be confronted by Mrs. Maloney and the stolen pig? when he brightened up and said, "And you say that the pig will be there, yer riverence?" "Yes, Mrs. Maloney and the pig, living witnesses to your wrong doing. What, I repeat, can you say in such a presence?" "Yer riverence, I'll say, 'Widdie Maloney, there's yer pig!'"

As the late Rufus Choate was attending the Italian opera one evening, with a lady, he leaned toward her with the extremest gravity, and said, "Interpret the libretto for me, my dear, lest I dilate with the wrong emotion."

GEN. PERKINS and Tom Marshall were once canvassing the State of Kentucky in a hotly contested election. Perkins was a roaring democrat and demagogue. Among other means for catching the flats, he was in the habit of boasting that his father was a cooper by trade, in an obscure part of the State. "He (Perkins) was one of the people. He didn't belong to the kid-gloved aristocracy." His great failing was his fondness for old Monongahela whisky, and the more he drank, the more of a democrat he became, and the prouder of being the son of a cooper. Of this fact he had been making the most, when Marshall, in replying to his speech, while looking at him with great contempt, said: "Fellow-citizens, his father may have been a very good cooper—I don't deny that—but I do say, gentlemen, that he put a mighty poor head into that whisky-barrel."

"Good evening, Mary," said a gentleman to a young lady whom he had offended.

"Miss Mary, if you please," said the damsel, bridling up at his familiarity.

"We can Miss you, Mary, only when you are absent," was a reply which made Mary smile in spite of herself.

A GOOD story is told of an officer in the American army, during the war of 1812–14, who was, and is still, more accustomed to the use of the sword than the pen. While stationed on the lake frontier, two of his soldiers, brothers, by the name of Kennedy, and usually called Kannady, deserted. The officer of whom we are speaking, wrote an order, and issued it to a subaltern, to take a file of men, and proceed to a place named, and take the two Canadas. The order was peremptory, and not to be trifled with. The officer looked at his instructions and prepared to obey them, but he remarked that he did not believe he could take more than one of the provinces without a reenforcement.

QUID PRO QUO.—Mr. Foote had said that he would write a little book in which Mr. Benton should figure very largely. Mr. B. heard of this, and replied, in his characteristic way, to the informant:

"Tell Foote that I will write a very large book, in which he shall not figure at all."

The "Thirty Years" will show how faithfully this promise was kept."

Cause and Effect.—In the hearing of an Irish case for assault and battery, a counsel, while cross-examining one of the witnesses, asked him what they had the first place they stopped at? "Four glasses of ale," was the reply. "Next?" "Two glasses of whisky." "Next?" "One glass of brandy." "Next?" "A fight."

When dressed for the evening, the girls, nowadays,
Scarce an atom of dress on them leave;
None blame them—for what is an evening dress,
But a dress that is suited for Eve?

A Quarter of Twelve.—"Ben, why were you out so late last night?"

"It wasn't so very late—only a quarter of 12!"

"How dare you sit there and tell me that? I was awake when you came, and looked at my watch. It was three o'clock."

"Well, isn't three a quarter of twelve?"

A young man in a western town had patronized the fine arts so far as to buy a picture of the temptation of Adam and Eve. Some one asked him if it was a chaste picture. "Yes," he said, "chased by a snake."

Smith, badly Jilted, findeth Consolation in Philosophy.

" Yes! Jones has wed a handsome wife,
I envy him at present;
But he must keep her all his life,
And that may be unpleasant.
For should these turtles disagree,
Just Heaven! how Jones will envy me!"

" A bee has stung your lip, ah, wife!
You must have kissed your cousin John,

I'll be revenged! I'll take his life!
Boy! bring my double gun, I'll shoot him!
No! bring my double soles! I'll boot him!"

Smith, himself overtaken, at last, by Matrimony, findeth Philosophy of no avail.

Smith's lovely bride has rushed down stairs
To learn what meant that crash.
Her husband in the parlor swears,
Amid a frightful smash
Of cornices and ceiling work;
And there she suicidal Turk
Sits on the floor bestrewn with wreck,
A hempen tie around his neck!

"Good gracious! Mr. Smith! what's this!
I'm going to faint! Get up, you beast,
And catch me! Well, this married bliss
Is three-fourths humbug at the least!"

Smith answers with a hollow voice,
(But his expressions are not choice):

"The devil take these modern houses,
Modern improvements, modern spouses!
Time was when men might end their cares,
Without incurring for repairs
A bill of lath-and-plaster work.
But now we cannot even shirk

That petty torment—Woman's Tongue!
I'd just made fast this half-inch rope,
And entertained a pleasing hope
That I was comfortably hung,
When down came all that filagree.
Well, now, perhaps, we may agree
To live in peace, without contention.
I'll break your neck, if this you mention!"

A WITTY fellow slipped down on an icy pavement. While sitting, he muttered, "I have no desire to see the town burned down, but I sincerely wish the streets were laid in ashes."

A Pious Deacon.—A certain deacon, called Highley, used to trade horses at the Berkshire cattle market. Stirred up by the preaching of his minister, he one Sunday, after meeting, thus communicated with one Brown:

"You don't s'pose, brother Brown," he argued, "You don't s'pose them little stories—sort o' lies, like—that you and I tell in the way o' trade, will be reckoned agin us in the day o' judgment? Sarcumstanced as we are, we can't help it, you know. I don't s'pose it makes no difference in the sight o' the Lord, long's the heart's all right, brother Brown."

Irish Economy.—Pat's master offered him eighteen shillings per week as his wages. Pat shook his head. "What! will not that satisfy you?" inquired his master.

"Faix, an'ye want to ruln me," replied Pat. "I won't take more than twelve shillin's a week, and then if I'm away a week or so, I'll save just six shillin's weekly."

Not one, but t'other—"I don't think, husband, that you are very smart." "No, indeed, wife, but every knows that I am awfully shrewed."

THE LEX TAILORONIS.—In a late trial for the amount of a tailor's bill, it appeared that the clothes supplied did not fit the defendant. "Then," observed the judge, "we must proceed according to the lex tailoronis, and the plaintiff must be non-suited."

SOME people mistake "vale of tears" for "veil of tears," and so go weeping through the world. One would think they fancied virtue to be a species of bulrush, thriving best in wet places.

ONE of the best "hits" ever made at an impropriety in a lady's dress was made by Talleyrand. During the revolution, when asked by a lady his opinion of her dress, he replied, "It began too late and ended too soon."

A GARRULOUS fop, who had annoyed, by his frivolous remarks, his partner in the ball-room, among other empty nothings, asked whether "she had ever had her ears pierced?" "No," was the reply, "but I've often had them bored!"

A CUTE YANKEE.—A Sheriff in Illinois who hates Yankee peddlers as he does "pizen," makes it his especial business to see that this class of itinerating merchants do not vend their wares without a license. This functionary met a peddler lately whom he suspected of violating the statutes, and after pricing a number of his articles purchased a bottle of the "Balm of Columbia," or, as the peddler stated, it "Balm o' Kulumby, price one dollar good for the hair, and assistin' poor human nature," and in reply to the peddler's question whether he wanted anything else, said he did—he wanted to see the peddler's license, which was exhibited, and pronounced "all right." Handing back the bottle to the peddler, the sheriff said, "I don't know that I really want this stuff now, what will you give for it?" "Wal," replied the Yankee, "bein' it's you, Sheriff, I'll give you twenty-five cents for it," and after purchasing it at that low figure, he said to the sheriff, "have you got a peddler's license about your trowsers anywhere?" He allowed he hadn't, and had no use for the article. At the next village the Yankee complained of the sheriff, who was fined eight dollars for vending "Balm o' Kulumby" without a license.

A LECTURER who was contending at a tiresome length and great tautological perplexity, that "art could not improve nature," was startled "out of his boots" by the question, in a deep, sonorous voice, by one of his audience, "How do you think you would look without your wig?" The question was a "poser"—the argument a non sequitur.

A DOWN EAST newspaper in announcing the death of Henry Johnson, of Newburyport, says: "He was an uncle of the Hon. Caleb Cushing, but otherwise a respectable and worthy man."

IN giving the regular toasts at a military entertainment in Cincinnati, not long since, "The Army" was not forgotten, when a distinguished colonel rose, and commenced by saying,

"Here's to the army—may it never want"—and there he rested, colored, stammered, and was completely lost; when a shrewd one sitting at his side whispered, "And may it never be wanted," which the colonel repeated in a clear voice, and which produced the effect of calling down the house.

A HUNGRY traveller who had lost his way on one of the western prairies, stopped at the house of a good parson, who gave him a hearty welcome. Supper was soon announced, and the stranger was asked to "sit by," which he at once proceeded to do; and, without waiting for a second invitation, he laid hold of what he could reach. "Stop! stop!" said the good man of the house, "we are in the habit of saying something here before we eat." This hint to wait till a blessing was asked, the rough customer did not understand, but with his mouth full he muttered, "Go ahead; say what you like; you can't turn my stomach now."

THERE was "some fun" and satire in the olden time as well as now, and much of it was very sharp and biting. Witness the following:

Dr. Byles was a famous Boston punster, but he sometimes met with more than his match. A lady whom he had long courted unsuccessfully, married a man by the name of Quincy.

"So, madam," said the unsuccessful suitor, "It appears that you prefer a Quincy (quinsy) to Byles?"

"Yes; for if there had been anything worse than Byles, God would not have suffered Job to be afflicted with them."

Some recent clerical voyager says he was one day lying in his berth, and holding himself from falling out, when he heard a brother clergyman in an adjoining berth pitch out upon the floor, tipped out by a sudden roll of the ship.

"What kind of a curve, Brother ——, did the ship describe then?" he asked: "a parabolic curve?"

"No," answered his groaning friend, as he clambered into his berth again, "that was a diabolic curve?"

A man was brought into court on the charge of having stolen some ducks from a farmer. "How do you know they are your ducks?" asked the defendant's counsel. "Oh, I should know them anywhere," replied the farmer, who proceeded to describe their peculiarities. "Why" said the prisoner's counsel, "those ducks can't be such a rare breed—I have some very like them in my yard." "That's not unlikely, sir," said the farmer: "they are not the only ducks I've had stolen lately." "Call the next witness."

LAND FOR THE LANDLESS.

ACTION OF CONGRESS ON THE PUBLIC LANDS

THE Public Domain of the United States is still immense, notwithstanding the millions upon millions of acres which have been squandered or passed over to the hands of speculators and monopolists, by the action of the National Government, during the past few years. It is estimated by intelligent persons, who have given their attention to the subject, that lying within the States and Territories of this government there are now about one thousand millions of acres of public lands, still unentered. "What shall be done with this immense domain?" is a question which has for years occupied the minds of thoughtful men, who have the best interests of society at heart. At length, the great question of the proper disposition of these lands has become one of party, and may be stated as follows: "Shall the Public Domain be open to monopoly by speculators, leading inevitably to a landed aristocracy? or shall it be reserved for actual occupants in small quantities, at a nominal price, or without price?" There would be no difficulty whatever in adjusting this question at any time and in the right way, if the Negro question, which, in the National Administration, absorbs or overrides all others, were not behind it. Although this is an old question, it had never commanded, in Congress, the attention to which it is entitled, previous to the organization of the Republican party; because until that time both the great parties into which the country was divided were either controlled, or their action was modified, by the Slaveholding interest of the country. That interest, which is ever vigilant, understands that it cannot well exist where small freeholds prevail, and hence it opposes, with all its great power, all Preëmption and Homestead laws, knowing well that if our new States and Territories are to be occupied in quarter-sections, they will be occupied by working farmers, and not by speculators and great planters.

Since this question has assumed a national importance, a concise record of the proceedings and votes in Congress during the session of 1858–9, upon the disposition of the Public Domain, will be of interest to the purchasers of THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC, as a matter of record.

On the 20th January, 1859, (See Congressional Globe, p. 492), a bill relating to preëmptions, reported from the Committee on Public Lands, was pending before the House. The bill proposed to make some changes in the details of existing preëmption laws, but without affecting the substance of the present system of disposing of the public lands. It was, however, in parliamentary order to propose to amend the bill so as to change the present system, and to bring the House to a direct vote upon such propositions. The friends of such change were prompt to avail themselves of this advantage.

Mr. Grow, of Pennsylvania, moved to amend the bill by adding the following as an additional section:

"Be it further enacted, That from and after the passage of this act, no public land shall be exposed to sale by proclamation of the President, unless the same shall have been surveyed, and the return of such survey duly filed in the Land Office, for ten years or more before such sale."

The force and effect of this amendment would be to give the preëmptors ten years the start of the speculators and land monopolists. That is to say: with the addition of Mr. Grow's amendment to the existing laws and regulations touching the Public Lands, they would be open to preemption ten years before they could come within the grasp of the speculator, thus giving the poor, industrious settler ample time to "clear up" his farm and pay for it from the proceeds of the soil. This was just what the South and the Democracy did not want, as the sequel will show.

The slaveholding aristocracy, who are bold enough when it is necessary to be bold, but who are crafty as well as bold, forthwith resorted to parliamentary tactics to avoid a direct issue upon Mr. Grow's proposition.

Their first movement was a motion to refer the bill and amendment to the Committee of the Whole, familiarly and aptly styled "the tomb of the Capulets." If that reference had been carried, the bill never would have been reached, and would never have been heard of afterward.

The vote upon the motion to refer the bill to the Committee of the Whole was as follows—the Democrats in Roman, the Republicans in Italics, and the Southern Americans in SMALL CAPITALS:

Upon the adoption of Mr. Grow's amendment, the Republican vote, as will be seen, was unanimously in the affirmative. Of the votes from the Slave States, all but nine were in the negative, and, as we shall presently see, there was only one of that number who was really in favor of it, this one being Mr. Blair, Republican, of Missouri.

Mr. Grow's amendment being incorporated into the bill, the next question was upon the passage of the bill, which was defeated by the following vote:

The defeat of the bill, in consequence of the incorporation into it of Mr. Grow's amendment, shows that a majority of the House was really opposed to that amendment, although it had been adopted by a vote of 98 to 81. Certain members, who did not dare to vote directly against the amendment, joined in killing it afterward, by killing the bill, of which it had been made a part by their own votes.

Thus Messrs. Stewart of Maryland, Atkins, Avery, Jones, and Savage, of Tennessee, and Jewett, Stevenson, and Talbott, of Kentucky, who had voted for the amendment, voted afterward against the bill. Only one, Mr. Blair, of the nine Southern supporters of the amendment, proved true to it in the end, and no other Southern member came to its support in the final vote, saving only Mr. Davis of Maryland, who represents the free-labor interests of the city of Baltimore, rather than the interests or passions of the slaveholding and landed aristocracy of the planting States.

Afterward, on the same day, when these votes upon Mr. Grow's amendment were given, the representatives from Minnesota, both of them members of the Democratic party, delivered speeches, in which they made no secret of their chagrin that a measure so vital to their constituency encountered the nearly unanimous opposition of their political friends. Mr. Cavanaugh, one of the members from Minnesota (Globe, p. 505,) said:

"In reference to the vote on this bill to-day, with an overwhelming majority of this side of the House voting against my colleague and myself, voting against this bill, I say it frankly, I say it in sorrow, that it was to the Republican side of the House to whom we were compelled to look for support of this just and honorable measure. Gentlemen from the South, gentlemen who have broad acres and wide plantations, aided here to-day by their votes more to make Republican States in the North than by any vote which has been cast within the last two years. These gentlemen come here and ask us to support the South; yet they, to a man almost, vote against the free, independent labor of the North and West.

"I, sir, have inherited my Democracy; have been attached to the Democratic party from my boyhood; have believed in the great truths as enunciated by the 'fathers of the faith,' and have cherished them religiously, knowing that, by their faithful application to every department of this Government, this nation has grown up from struggling colonies to prosperous, powerful, and sovereign States. But, sir, when I see Southern gentlemen come up, as I did to-day, and refuse, by their votes, to aid my constituents, refuse to place the actual tiller of the soil, the honest, industrious laborer, beyond the grasp and avarice of the speculator, I tell you, sir, I falter and I hesitate."

The amendment of Mr. Grow, forbidding the public sales of lands for at least ten years after their survey, would secure the great bulk of the lands to preëmptors, and would give them a long pay-day, and thus save them from the enormous usury they are now compelled to pay to money lenders. It would not reduce the revenue derived by the Treasury from the public lands, but would only postpone it, and this postponement would be far less prejudicial to the Government than it would be beneficial to the settler. The Government can borrow money at four and a half per cent. per annum, while the settler frequently pays five per cent. per month for the money to enter his lands, to prevent their sale at public auction.

On the first of February, the question of the Public Lands was again before the House, the pending bill (House bill No. 72) being a bill to secure Homesteads to actual settlers, and being in the words following:

A BILL TO SECURE HOMESTEADS TO ACTUAL SETTLERS ON THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

SECTION 1.—Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person who is the head of a family, or who has arrived at the age of twenty-one years, and is a citizen of the United States, or who shall have filed his intention to become such, as required by the naturalization laws of the United States, shall, from and after the passage of this act, be entitled to enter, free of cost, one quarter-section of vacant and unappropriated public lands which may, at the time the application is made, be subject to private entry, at $1 25 per acre, or a quantity equal thereto, to be located in a body, in conformity with the legal subdivisions of public lands, and after the same shall have been surveyed.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the person applying for the benefit of this act shall, upon application to the register of the land office in which he or she is about to make such entry, make affidavit before the said register that he or she is the head of a family, or is twenty-one years or more of age, and that such application is made for his or her exclusive use and benefit, and those specially mentioned in this act, and not either directly or indirectly for the use or benefit of any other person or persons whomsoever; and upon making the affidavit as above required, and filing the affidavit with the register, he or she shall thereupon be permitted to enter the quantity of land already specified: Provided, however, That no certificate shall be given or patent issued therefor until the expiration of five years from the date of such entry: and if, at the expiration of such time, or at any time thereafter, the person making such entry, or, if he be dead, his widow, or, in case of her death, his heirs or devisee, or in case of a widow making such entry, her heirs or devisee, in case of her death shall prove by two credible witnesses that he, she, or they, have continued to reside upon and cultivate such land, and still reside upon the same, and have not alienated the same, or any part thereof, then, in such case, he, she, or they, if at that time a citizen of the United States, shall, on payment of ten dollars, be entitled to a patent, as in other cases provided for by law: And provided, further, In case of the death of both father and mother, leaving an infant child or children under twenty-one years of age, the right and the fee shall inure to the benefit of said infant child or children, and the executor, administrator, or guardian, may, at any time within two years after the death of the surviving parent, and in accordance with the laws of the State in which such children for the time being have their domicil, sell said land for the benefit of said infants, but for no other purpose; and the purchaser shall acquire the absolute title by the purchase, and be entitled to a patent from the United States.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the register of the land office shall note all such applications on the tract-books and plats of his office, and keep a register of all such entries, and make a return thereof to the General Land Office, together with the proof upon which they have been founded.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all lands acquired under the provisions of this act shall in no event become liable to the satisfaction of any debt or debts contracted prior to the issuing the patent therefor.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That if, at any time after the filing the affidavit, as required in the second section of this act, and before the expiration of the five years aforesaid, it shall be proven, after due notice to the settler, to the satisfaction of the register of the land office, that the person having filed such affidavit shall have actually changed his or her residence, or abandoned the said entry for more than six months at any time, then, and in that event, the land so entered shall revert back to the Government, and be disposed of as other public lands are now by law, subject to an appeal to the General Land Office.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That no individual shall be permitted to make more than one entry under the provisions of this act; and that the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby required to prepare and issue such rules and regulations, consistent with this act, as shall be necessary and proper to carry its provisions into effect; and that the registers and receivers of the several land offices shall be entitled to receive the same compensation for any lands entered under the provisions of this act that they are now entitled to receive when the same quantity of land is entered with money, one half to be paid by the person making the application, at the time of so doing, and the other half on the issue of the certificate by the person to whom it may be issued: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to impair or interfere in any manner whatever with existing preëmption rights.

The previous question having been ordered, the House was brought to a direct vote upon this bill, without debate.

A motion to lay the bill on the table was lost—yeas 77, nays 113; and the bill was then passed—yeas 120, nays 76.

As these two votes were substantially the same, we only give the last one, which was upon the passage of the bill, and which was as follows:

Only three Southern members, Jones of Tennessee, Jewett of Kentucky, and Craig of Missouri, voted for the bill, thereby marking unmistakably the sectional character of the opposition to it.

The Republican vote, with a solitary exception, was given solid for the bill. Of the Northern members, connected with the Democratic party, twenty-nine voted for the bill and six voted against it. Thus, of the entire Democratic vote in the House, a large majority was against the bill, but even this is less important than the other fact, that the Southern wing of the party was almost unanimously against, it being this Southern wing which controls in the party councils, and which, when out-voted in the House, has other departments of the Government, the Senate and the President, with which it is more powerful, and by means of which it has so far rarely failed to defeat measures, however popular and beneficial, which it dislikes.

The Homestead bill had now passed the House by a decisive majority, but it had yet to encounter the more dangerous ordeal of the Senate, in which the Democratic majority was larger, and in which the representation of the slaveholding States is proportionately greater.

No direct vote upon the measure was, in fact, reached in the Senate, because the Southern managers would not permit it.

There are two ways of killing off obnoxious measures. One is, to act upon them and vote them down. Another is, to overslaugh them whenever they are proposed, by proceeding to consider some other business. This latter method is invariably resorted to where a measure, obnoxious to a majority of the Senate, is supposed to be acceptable to the people. And it was precisely by this method, and for that reason, that the Homestead bill was run over, shoved aside, evaded, and left unacted upon, by the Senate during its late session. The regular appropriation bills and the bill for the purchase of Cuba were being pressed upon the time of the Senate during the last days of the session, both of them commanding the support of the majority of that body.

On the 17th day of February, Mr. Wade, of Ohio, (Con. Globe, page 1074,) moved to postpone all prior orders and take up the Homestead bill, which had passed the House. The following extracts from the debate upon this motion will exhibit the points made:

"Mr. WADE. The Homestead bill, to which I am a good deal attached, has, I believe, twice passed the House and come to this body, but somehow it has had the go-by, and we have never had a direct vote upon it here that I know of. I do not propose to discuss it for a single moment, and I hope none of its friends will debate it, because it has been pending before Congress for several years, and I presume every senator is perfectly well acquainted with all its provisions, and has made up his mind as to the course he will pursue in regard to it. I have no hope that anything I could say would win an opponent of the bill to its support; and I hope every friend of the measure will take no time in debate, but will try to get a vote upon it, for I think it is the great measure of the session. All I want, all I ask, is to have a vote upon it.

"Mr. REID, of North Carolina. I think it is too late in the session now to take up this bill to be acted upon here, at least until we act upon other great measures upon which there is more unanimity of sentiment in the country, and a higher sense of duty upon us to pass them during the few days of the session that remain.

"Mr. HUNTER, of Virginia. I believe that a fortnight from to-day will take us to the 3d of March. Now, it is known that we have nearly all the important appropriation bills, and one that is unfinished, to take up. I hope there will be no effort to press this Homestead bill, so as to displace the appropriation bills. I must appeal to the Senate to consider how little of the session is now left to us, and whether we ought not to take up the appropriation bill and dispose of it.

"Mr. SHIELDS, of Minnesota. The friends of this bill desire nothing but a vote upon it, not to waste time in debate. Let us take it up, and have a fair vote upon it.

"Mr. HUNTER. I do not conceal the fact that I am very much opposed to it; but I suppose, whenever this bill comes up, it must be the subject of debate.

"Mr. WILSON, of Massachusetts. I appreciate the anxiety of the senator from Virginia to take up the appropriation bills; but I would suggest to that senator that he allow us to take up this bill, and have a vote upon it. I do not suppose that anybody, who is in favor of the measure, desires to consume the time of the Senate, at this stage of the session, by discussing it. It has been discussed before the nation. It is well understood. I believe it is sustained by an overwhelming majority of the people of the country.

"Mr. WADE. I have no doubt, from the business before us, that this is the last opportunity we shall have to act upon this great measure. I hope, as I said before, every friend of it will stand by it until it is either triumphant or defeated, and that, too, in preference to any other business that may be urged upon us. As to the appropriation bills, I have not the least fear but that they will go through. Their gravitation carries them through."

The question was then taken, and Mr. Wade's motion was carried by the following vote, the Republicans being indicated by italics:

YEAS—Messrs. Bright, Broderick, Chandler, Collamer, Dixon, Doolittle, Fessenden, Foot, Foster, Gwin, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, Johnson of Tennessee, King, Pugh, Rice, Seward, Shields, Simmons, Smith, Stuart, Trumbull, Wade, and Wilson—26.

NAYS—Messrs. Allen, Bayard, Benjamin, Bigler, Brown, Chestnut, Clay, Clingman, Davis, Fitch, Fitzpatrick, Green, Hammond, Hunter, Iverson, Lane, Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Reid, Slidell, Toombs, and Ward—23.

Upon an examination of this vote, it will be seen that the Republicans voted unanimously in the affirmative, and that the Southern senators were all in the negative, with the solitary exception of Mr. Johnson of Tennessee. Of the Northern Democrats, Gwin, Bright, Pugh, Rice, Shields, Smith, and Stuart, all being from the new States, voted for Mr. Wade's motion.

The Homestead bill was now up, and, so far as its friends were concerned, nothing was asked but a vote, which would not have consumed ten minutes. But a vote was precisely what the Southern managers were determined to avoid.

Instantly, therefore, upon the announcement of the success of Mr. Wade's motion, which brought the bill before the Senate, Mr. Hunter took the floor, and moved that it be set aside, so as to take up another bill, viz.: the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

No question of order was raised upon this motion of Mr. Hunter, but it was well characterized as "child's play," to move to set aside a bill, instantly after a vote to take it up.

Pending some conversational debate upon Mr. Hunter's motion, the hour of twelve o'clock arrived, and the Vice President decided that the Cuba bill, having been assigned for that hour, was the subject pending before the Senate.

Hereupon, Mr. Wade moved to postpone the twelve o'clock order, and continue the consideration of the Homestead bill, and this motion prevailed by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Bright, Broderick, Chandler, Clark, Collamer, Dixon, Doolittle, Douglas, Durkee, Fessenden, Foot, Foster, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, Johnson of Tennessee, King, Pugh, Rice, Seward, Simmons, Smith, Stuart, Trumbull, Wade, and Wilson—27.

NAYS—Messrs. Allen, Bates, Benjamin, Bigler, Brown, Clay, Clingman, Davis, Fitch, Fitzpatrick, Green, Gwin, Hammond, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson of Arkansas, Lane, Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Reid, Sebastian, Slidell, Toombs, Ward, and Yulee—26.

On this vote, an additional Southern senator, Mr. Bell of Tennessee, ranged himself on the side of homesteads. But this was offset by the ratting back to the negative side of Mr. Gwin.

The Homestead bill was now again before the Senate, but the question, as stated by the Vice President, was still upon

Mr. Hunter's motion to set it aside, and take up the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill.

Mr. Mason, of Virginia, threatened an "extended debate" upon the homestead bill, if its consideration were insisted upon. He declared, at any rate, for himself that he intended to "go into it pretty largely, because he had not yet known a bill so fraught with mischief, and mischief of the most demoralizing kind."

Mr. Wade and Mr. Seward, in brief and energetic terms, exhorted the friends of the bill to stand firm.

The vote was then taken upon Mr. Hunter's motion, and resulted as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Allen, Bates, Bayard, Benjamin, Bigler, Brown, Clay, Clingman, Davis, Fitch, Fitzpatrick, Green, Gwin, Hammond, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson of Arkansas, Kennedy, Lane, Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Reid, Sebastian, Slidell, Toombs, Ward, and Yulee—28.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Bright, Broderick, Chandler, Clark, Collamer, Dixon, Doolittle, Douglas, Durkee, Fessenden, Foot, Foster, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, Houston, Johnson of Tennessee, King, Pugh, Rice, Seward, Simmons, Smith, Stuart, Trumbull, Wade, and Wilson—28.

The vote being a tie, the Vice President, Mr. Breckinridge, voted in the affirmative, and thus, after a long struggle, the Homestead bill was, for that day, overslaughed.

Of the twenty-eight votes for overslaughing it, all but five are from the South, and one of these five, Mr. Gwin, is only a temporary resident of a Free State.

Of the twenty-eight votes in favor of sustaining the bill, only three are from the South.

Two days afterward, on the 19th of February, Mr. Wade again moved to set aside all prior orders and take up the Homestead bill; but this motion was negatived by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. Broderick, Chandler, Clark, Collamer, Dixon, Doolittle, Durkee, Fessenden, Foot, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, Johnson of Tennessee, Jones, King, Pugh, Rice, Seward, Shields, Simmons, Stuart, Trumbull, Wade, and Wilson—24.

NAYS.—Messrs. Allen, Bates, Bayard, Benjamin, Bigler, Bright, Brown, Chestnut, Clay, Clingman, Crittenden, Davis, Fitch, Fitzpatrick, Green, Hammond, Houston, Hunter, Iverson, Kennedy, Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Polk, Reid, Sebastian, Slidell, Smith, Toombs, Ward, and Yulee—31.

Upon these two days, the 17th and 19th of February, the question was made between the consideration of the Homestead bill and the consideration of the appropriation bills, the necessity of passing which last bills did not fail to be insisted upon by the Democratic managers. At a subsequent stage of the session, as will be presently seen, the question was made between considering the Homestead bill and considering the Cuba bill.

Upon the 25th day of February, upon the occasion of a motion by Mr. Slidell to postpone all prior orders and take up the bill for the purchase of Cuba, Mr. Doolittle resisted it, and called upon the friends of homesteads to vote it down, so that he himself might submit a motion to take up the Homestead bill. Mr. Doolittle said:

"I think it would be better to take up this question of the Homestead bill and vote upon it, and then the Cuba bill will come up. I ask the friends of the Homestead bill now to stand by it and give it the preference."

The vote was then taken, and the motion to take up the Cuba bill prevailed, as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Allen, Bayard, Bell, Benjamin, Bigler, Brown, Chestnut, Clay, Clingman, Davis, Fitch, Fitzpatrick, Green, Gwin, Hammond, Houston, Hunter, Iverson, Jones, Lane, Mallory, Mason, Polk, Pugh, Reid, Rice, Sebastian, Shields, Slidell, Smith, Stuart, Toombs, Ward, Wright, and Yulee—35.

NAYS—Messrs. Broderick, Cameron, Chandler, Clark, Collamer, Dixon, Doolittle, Douglas, Durkee, Fessenden, Foot, Foster, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, Johnson of Tennessee, Kennedy, King, Pearce, Seward, Simmons, Trumbull, Wade, and Wilson—24.

The Cuba bill was now up, and the discussion upon it protracted the session late into the night, and almost into the next morning. It was distinctly seen during the progress of this discussion that it would be without practical result, and that no vote could be reached before the final adjournment of Congress.

Accordingly, at ten o'clock in the evening, Mr. Doolittle felt it to be his duty to renew the attempt to set aside the Cuba bill, the subject-matter of a manifestly idle debate, so as to take up the Homestead bill. His motion to that effect, and the commencement of the debate upon it, will be found on page 1351 of the Congressional Globe. Such extracts are made as will exhibit its general character:

"MR. TRUMBULL. If there was any assurance that the Homestead bill could be taken up, after the Cuba question was disposed of, I should be willing to see it have the go-by on the present occasion; but we have sought repeatedly to bring up the Homestead bill, and every movement that has been made to bring it up has been met with a counter movement, crowding it out of the way with something else. . . . . If the senator from Virginia will give us an assurance that we shall have a chance to bring up the Homestead bill, and keep it before the Senate until we can get a vote upon it, after the Cuba bill is through, and that he will not interpose an appropriation bill, I would join with gentlemen in asking my friend from Wisconsin to withdraw the motion he has made.

"Mr. HUNTER. I certainly will press the appropriation bills. I will give no promise to vote to take up the Homestead bill.

"Mr. TRUMBULL.—That is as I expected. We now have notice that we are to be met with an appropriation bill the moment that the Cuba question is disposed of, and here we are wasting our time at this stage of the session in making long speeches, and debating about the acquisition of a country that does not belong to us, instead of providing for the settlement of the country which we own. There can be no hope of getting up the Homestead bill as against an appropriation bill.

"Mr. SEWARD—After nine hours yielding to the discussion of the Cuba question, it is time to come back to the great question of the day and the age. The Senate may as well meet face to face the issue which is before them. It is an issue presented by the competition between these two questions. One, the Homestead bill, is a question of homes, of lands for the landless freemen of the United States. The Cuba bill is a question of slaves for the slaveholders of the United States.

"Mr. WADE—I am very glad that this question has at length come up. I am glad, too, that it has antagonized with this nigger question. [Laughter.] I have been trying here for nearly a month to get a straight-forward vote upon this great measure of land for the landless. I glory in that measure. It is the greatest that has ever come before the American Senate, and it has now come so that there is no dodging it. The question will be, shall we give niggers to the niggerless, or lands to the landless?

"I moved some days ago to take up this subject. It was said then that there was an appropriation bill that stood in the way. The senator from Virginia had his appropriation bills. It was important, then, that they should be settled at once; there was danger that they would be lost, and the government would stop in consequence; and the appeal was made to gentlemen to give this bill the go-by for the time being, at all events, and the appeal was successful. The appropriation bills lie very easy now behind this nigger operation. [Laughter.] When you come to niggers for the niggerless, all other questions sink into insignificance."

Mr. Doolittle's motion to set aside the Cuba bill for the purpose of taking up the Homestead bill, was lost, by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. Broderick, Cameron, Clark, Chandler, Collamer, Doolittle, Fessenden, Foot, Foster, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, Johnson of Tennessee, King, Seward, Simmons, Trumbull, Wade, and Wilson—19.

NAYS—Messrs. Allen, Benjamin, Bayard, Bigler, Brown, Chestnut, Clay, Clingman, Douglas, Fitch, Fitzpatrick, Green, Gwin, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson of Arkansas, Lane, Mallory, Mason, Polk, Pugh, Reid, Rice, Sebastian, Shields, Slidell, Toombs, Ward and Wright—29.

This was the last attempt made to get up the Homestead bill in the Senate. It had first been overslaughed by the appropriation bills, and now by the Cuba bill, and no expectation remained of reaching it during the few remaining days of the session. The Republicans, who had endeavored to get it up in all forms and on all occasions without success, felt it to be their duty to abandon a manifestly hopeless struggle.

From this review of the votes in the Senate and House, it will be seen that the two great national parties, the one representing the rights and interests of free labor, and the other representing the pretensions and interests of negro slavery, have come to a well-defined issue upon this great matter of the disposition of the public domain.

In the House, we see the Republicans voting with unanimity for a proposition to secure to preëmptors all the public lands for the term of ten years after their survey, forbidding, during that time, their disposition either at public sale or by private entry, and giving to the preemptor a pay-day which would save him from usury, by giving him time to provide means out of his crops wherewith to buy his freehold. Afterward, we find these same Republicans in the House voting with the same unanimity for a Homestead bill. It is probable, and indeed is known, that some Republicans preferred one measure to the other, but they voted for both, being agreed in the main object, which was to preserve the public domain for the actual settler and small cultivator, and being willing to waive differences of opinion as to detail, so long as the main object should be at all events secured.

In the Senate, we witness the same unanimity on the Republican side in favor of the Homestead bill, and should have witnessed it upon the proposition to prohibit public sales of lands for ten years after their survey, if a vote upon that proposition could have been reached.

On the side of the Democratic party, we witness an opposition to both these measures, not indeed absolutely unanimous, but of such a character as to render it conclusively certain that that party will continue to oppose those measures to the end.

THE FOREIGN SLAVE TRADE.

When John Quincy Adams, William Slade, Joshua R. Giddings, George N. Briggs, and ten or twelve other sentinels of Freedom warned the people, as early as 1842, that it was the design of the Democracy to annex Texas to the United States, the unthinking public poh pohed and the Democracy ridiculed the idea. When, two years later, Martin Van Buren, who was opposed to Annexation, was thrown overboard by the Democratic National Convention, because of such opposition, and James K. Polk was nominated in his stead, the people began faintly to comprehend what was in prospect. Mr. Clay was put in nomination by the Whigs, and that eminent statesman and his friends assured the public that Mr. Polk's election would inevitably result in the annexation of Texas, to be followed by a wasteful and demoralizing war with Mexico—a view of the case which was stoutly denied by the Democracy. After a hotly contested canvass Mr. Polk was elected President. Texas was annexed, and the war followed, at an expense to the United States of about two hundred millions of dollars (more than enough to construct a Railway to the Pacific), and twenty thousand lives, to say nothing of the national disgrace of having deliberately picked a quarrel with a weak neighboring Republic for the sake of dismembering her. In 1856 the Republican leaders interpreted the Democratic creed as put forth by the National Convention of that party, and familiarly known as the "Cincinnati Platform," as a scheme to buy or steal Cuba, to carry Slavery into the Territories, and particularly to subjugate Kansas, all at the dictation and for the benefit of the Slave Oligarchy. Although this explanation of the platform was vehemently denied by the Democracy during the Presidential canvass of '56, yet, if it has not all become literally true, it is because the administration of Mr. Buchanan has lacked the power and not the disposition to prove it so. By a previously understood arrangement, the Supreme Court, in the Dred Scott case, has declared Slavery to be the law of the Territories (the Dred Scott decision, it will be remembered, was foreshadowed in Mr. Buchanan's Inaugural Address); the whole power and patronage of the Administration was vainly used to enslave Kansas, and the thirty million scheme for obtaining Cuba, was pressed upon Congress by all the power of the Executive, and all, or nearly all, the strength of the South.

During the Presidential Campaign of 1856, it was predicted by prominent Republicans that should the Democracy triumph in that struggle, it was by no means improbable that the re-opening of the African Slave Trade would form a plank in the Democratic National Platform for 1860. Whether this prediction shall become history or not, it is undeniable that a marked change is taking place in the public mind, or at least in the Southern Democratic mind, on the subject of this piratical and murderous trade; and this change indicates anything but improvement in the morals of the South. The rapid growth of the Southern sentiment in favor of re-opening the Slave Trade is not only indicated by the facts that cargoes of Slaves have recently been landed in the ports of the Southern States, and openly sold to Slave-traders and planters there, and that Southern Courts and Juries utterly refuse to convict parties guilty of this peculiar form of piracy, in the face of the most positive and conclusive testimony, but by the proceedings and debates in Congress during the Session of 1858–59.

In 1856, Mr. Etheridge, of Tennessee, offered strong resolutions in reprobation of the Slave Trade in the House of Representatives, when no single member was found on that floor bold enough to express any sympathy for the infernal traffic. Mr. Etheridge's resolutions, after being softened a little in their phraseology by an amendment offered by Mr. Orr, of South Carolina, were passed with only eight dissenting votes; and even these were given, professedly, not from any objection to the sentiments expressed in the Resolution, but from opposition to the adoption of any resolutions whatever upon the ground that the revival of the African Slave Trade was not a practical question before the country. The Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill, which passed at the second session of the XXXVth Congress, contained a clause appropriating $75,000 to enable the President of the U. S. to carry into effect the Act of March 3, 1819, the proposed appropriation being based upon an Executive statement of the expenses incurred and to be incurred in the return to Africa of the negroes rescued from the slaver Echo.

In the House, on the 27th of January, two motions in respect to this appropriation were voted upon; one made by Mr. Dowdell, of Alabama, to strike out the appropriation altogether, and the other made by Mr. Crawford, of Georgia, to reduce the appropriation from seventy-five to forty-five thousand dollars, so as to cut off the sum proposed to be paid to the Colonization Society for maintaining and educating the negroes for one year after their delivery in Africa.

In substance there was no difference, in intent, or in effect, between these two motions. The adoption of either, nullified and practically abrogated the act of March 3, 1819. The motion of Mr. Dowdell left no provision for the expenses of returning rescued negroes to Africa, or of supporting them prior to their return. The motion of Mr. Crawford would leave them to be thrown naked upon the coast of Africa, there to perish by hunger or violence; a course of procedure so repugnant to humanity, as to be certain to render the act of March 3, 1819, odious, and thereby to bring about its repeal.

The motion of Mr. Dowdell was negatived, Yeas 28, Nays 163. Those who voted in the affirmative, were as follows:

South Carolina—Messrs. Bonham, Boyce, McQueen, and Miles—4.

Tennessee—Messrs. Avery, Maynard, and Wright—3.
Texas—Mr. Bryan—1.
Virginia—Messrs. Caskie, and Goode—2.
Florida—Mr. Hawkins—1.
Alabama—Messrs. Cobb, Curry, Dowdell, Houston, Moore, Shorter, and Stallworth—7.
Georgia—Messrs. Crawford, Gartrell, Seward, Stephens, and Trippe—5.
Louisiana—Davidson and Sandidge—2.
Mississippi—McRae and Singleton—2.
North Carolina—Mr. Ruffin—1. Total, 28.

The motion of Mr. Crawford was negatived, Yeas, 50, Nays 145. Those who voted in the affirmative, were as follows:

Tennessee—Messrs. Avery, Maynard, Watkins, Wright, and Zollicoffer—5.
Mississippi—Messrs. Barksdale, McRae, and Singleton—3.
Virginia—Messrs. Bocock, Caskie, Edmundson, Garnett, Goode, Hopkins, Jenkins, Letcher, and Smith—9.
South Carolina—Messrs. Bonham, Boyce, McQueen, and Miles—4.
North Carolina—Messrs. Branch, Ruffin, Shaw, and Vance—4.
Texas—Mr. Bryan—1.
Kentucky—Messrs. Burnett, Clay, Peyton, Stevenson, and Talbott—5.
Alabama—Messrs. Cobb, Curry, Dowdell, Moore, and Stallworth—5.
Georgia—Messrs. Crawford, Gartrell, Jackson, Seward, Stephens, and Trippe—6.
Louisiana—Messrs. Davidson, Eustis, and Sandidge—3.
Florida—Mr. Hawkins—1.
Illinois—Mr. Hodges—1.
North Carolina.—Messrs. Ruffin, Shaw, and Vance—3. Total, 50.

Of the one hundred and forty-five votes against Mr. Crawford's motion, only nineteen were from the Slave States, as follows:

Missouri—Messrs. Anderson, Caruthers, Craig, and Phelps—4.
Maryland—Messrs. Bowie, Davis, Ricaud, and Stewart—4.
North Carolina—Messrs. Gilmer and Winslow—2.
Arkansas—Mr. Greenwood—1.
Tennessee—Messrs. Jones and Smith—2.
Kentucky—Messrs. Marshall, Mason, and Underwood—3.
Virginia.—Mr. Millson—1.
Delaware—Mr. Whiteley—1.
Georgia—Mr. Wright—1. Total, 19.

Thus, of the sixty-eight Slave-State members present and voting, forty-nine voted for Mr. Crawford's motion. Of the absentees, Mr. Woodson, of Missouri, who came in after the vote was declared, said he should have voted for the motion, if he had arrived in season.

Another motion in respect to this appropriation, had been voted upon in Committee of the Whole on the 26th of January. This was made by Mr. Bonham, of South Carolina, and being rejected in Committee of the Whole, there is no record to show who supported it.

Mr. Bonham's motion was to qualify the appropriation by the following proviso:

"Provided, That no part of this sum shall be used for schooling the children, or for instructing the children and adults in the arts of civilized life."

Mr. Bonham said, among other things:

"It is now, for the first time, that we have an instance in an appropriation bill for teaching Africans the arts of civilized life. This is the point."

Mr. Bonham could tolerate nothing, which treated Africans as if they were capable of being civilized, or which implied the idea, that it was desirable to civilize them.

The opposition in the House to the appropriation for the expenses of the Echo negroes, was carried to an unusual extreme. The principal portion of the men concerned in it, having failed to strike the appropriation out of the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill, voted against the passage of the bill itself, and succeeded in defeating it three times. They did this, although they were the political friends of the Administration, and under party obligations to sustain the general appropriation bills for carrying on the Government. This violent course of procedure, proposing to sacrifice an entire appropriation bill rather than submit to an obnoxious section, marks the rancor and desperation of the partisans of the African Slave Trade.

In the Senate this appropriation for the Echo negroes gave rise to the same discussions which it had excited in the House.

Mr. Clay, of Alabama, moved to strike out the whole appropriation, but, just before the vote was taken on the 16th of February, he so modified his motion as to propose to strike out $75,000 and insert $45,000, being a motion similar to that made in the House by Mr. Crawford.

Mr. Clay's motion was negatived, Yeas 12, Nays 40, the following senators voting for it:

Messrs. Chestnut, Clay, Davis, Fitzpatrick, Hammond, Iverson, Johnson of Tennessee, Mason, Reid, Thompson of Kentucky, Toombs, and Ward—all from the Slave States.

Of the forty negative votes, twelve were from the Slave States, (if we reckon Delaware as such) as follows:

Messrs. Bates, Bell, Benjamin, Crittenden, Green, Houston, Hunter, Mallory, Pearce, Polk, Slidell, and Yulee.

Let us now examine what was said in the debates in Congress upon this Echo appropriation.

In the House, on the 25th of January, Mr. Dowdell, of Alabama, said:

"I will take this occasion to say, without discussing the expediency of reopening the Slave Trade, a matter which properly belongs to the sovereign States whose industrial policy is to be affected by it, that the laws are highly offensive in defining that to be piracy upon the high seas which is not robbery, and in attaching the death penalty to an act which in itself is not necessarily immoral."

Mr. Clay, of Kentucky (a son of the Henry Clay who was for so many years President of the American Colonization Society), said:

"I am opposed to all these laws on our statute book in relation to the Slave Trade, and I will not vote a dollar for the purpose."

In the House, on the next day, (January 26th) Mr. Crawford, of Georgia, said:

"In 1819, the whole South was unanimously against the Slave Trade. Now, it is becoming divided, and unless the war upon Slavery is stopped, fifteen years will witness the trade open for the South, and our then Mexican possessions reaching to Guatemala certainly, and probably further South."

Mr. Seward, of Georgia, said:

"I look upon the law for the suppression of the Slave Trade as mischievous and wrong, and a violation of the Constitution. . . . . .

"I want to have that law repealed, I want to leave this matter to be settled by the States as a domestic question."

Mr. Miles, of South Carolina, said:

"I am not prepared to advocate the reopening of the Slave Trade, but I am prepared to advocate, with all my mind and strength, the sweeping away from our statute book, of laws which stamp the people of my section as pirates, and put a stigma upon their institutions."

In the House, on the 27th of January, Mr. Crawford, of Georgia, said:

"This question of opening the Slave Trade is one of the highest importance, and one which threatens to make and unmake parties in the country. It is a question which grows stronger and stronger every day, and I believe the result of it will be the building up and tearing down of party platforms."

In the debate in the Senate, February 16, Mr. Mason, of Virginia, and Mr. Brown, of Mississippi, both maintained that humanity required that the Echo negroes should have been retained in the United States as slaves.

Mr. Brown, referring to the law against the Slave Trade, said:

"I would repeal the law, repeal it instantly, as not based upon the Constitution, which we are sworn to support."

Some other proceedings in Congress at the same session, in connection with the Slave Trade, are deserving of notice.

On the 23d of December, Mr. Blair, of Missouri, asked leave to submit the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Committee on the Judiciary be, and hereby is, instructed to report a bill more effectually to prevent the Slave Trade, under the guise of the 'coolie trade' so called, or of 'apprentices, or of 'African labor importation companies,' or under any other name or in any other guise, the real purpose or effect of which may be, directly or indirectly, immediately or ultimately, to make slaves of the persons so procured and transported."

Unanimous consent being required, objection was made by Mr. Houston, of Alabama.

On the same day, Mr. Kilgore, of Indiana, asked leave to submit the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to report to this House, what information has been received by him in regard to the recent importation of slaves from Africa into Georgia, and what steps, if any, have been taken to punish this violation of the laws of the United States."

Unanimous consent being required, objection was made by Mr. Garnett, of Virginia.

On the 26th of January, the Committee of the Whole House having under consideration the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill, Mr. Seward, of Georgia, moved the following as an amendment:

"Provided, further, That all the laws here tofore passed, prohibiting the Slave Trade, be and the same are hereby repealed. And that the policy of restricting the foreign Slave Trade be left with each of the States, as affecting their own local policy."

This amendment was not voted upon, being ruled to be out of order.

On the 23rd of December, Mr. Sandidge, of Louisiana, introduced a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, for the abrogation of that article of the Ashburton treaty which requires the keeping of a squadron on the coast of Africa, for the suppression of the Slave Trade.

On the 31st of January, Mr. Kilgore, of Indiana, asked leave to submit the following resolutions:

"Whereas the laws prohibiting the African Slave Trade have become a topic of discussion with newspaper writers and political agitators, many of them boldly denouncing these laws as unwise in policy and disgraceful in their provisions, and insisting on the justice and propriety of their repeal, and the revival of the odious traffic in African slaves; and whereas recent demonstrations afford strong reasons to apprehend that said laws are to be set at defiance, and their violation openly countenanced and encouraged by a portion of the citizens of some of the States of this Union; and whereas it is proper, in view of said facts, that the sentiment of the people's representatives in Congress should be made public in relation thereto: Therefore,

"1. Resolved, That while we recognize no right, on the part of the Federal Government or any other law-making power save that of the States wherein it exists, to interfere with or disturb the institution of domestic Slavery where it is established or protected by State legislation, we do hold that Congress has power to prohibit the foreign traffic, and that no legislation can be too thorough in its measures, nor can any penalty known to the catalogue of modern punishment for crime be too severe against a traffic so inhuman and unchristian.

"2. Resolved, That the laws in force against said traffic are founded upon the broadest principles of philanthropy, religion, and humanity; that they should remain unchanged except so far as legislation may be needed to render them more efficient; and that they should be faithfully and promptly executed by our Government, and respected by all good citizens.

"3. Resolved, That the Executive should be sustained and commended for any proper effort, whenever and wherever made, to enforce said laws, and to bring to speedy punishment the wicked violators thereof, and all their aiders and abettors."

Mr. Burnett, of Kentucky, objected to the introduction of these resolutions, but it being in order on that day to move a suspension of the rules, Mr. Kilgore moved that they be suspended, so that his resolutions might be considered. The suspension of the rules was not carried, Yeas 115, Nays 84—not two-thirds.

Of the affirmative votes, only five were from the Slave States, as follows:

MARYLAND—Messrs. Bowie, Davis, and Ricaud.

NORTH CAROLINA—Mr. Gilmer.

KENTUCKY—Mr. Marshall.

And of these five, only one, Mr. Bowie, belongs to the Democratic party.

The negative vote came, as to the bulk of it, from the Slave States. The balance was contributed by their Northern allies. as follows:

Messrs. Barr, Florence, Gillis, Gregg Lawrence W. Hall, Hodges, Miller, Nib lack, Searing, Aaron Shaw, Robert Smith, George Taylor, Vallandigham, White, and Wortendyke—15.

The favor into which the Slave Trade has of late grown in the South comes very naturally from the change of sentiment on the subject of Slavery itself. Until within a few years the Institution had been generally regarded at the South as an evil to be tolerated only until such time as it could be conveniently and safely abolished. Now the leading lights of the South regard it, or profess to regard it, as a good to be cherished and extended. If these gentlemen are right, and the fathers of the Republic, both North and South, were mistaken in their views with reference to Slavery per se, then it would certainly be difficult logically to demonstrate that the Foreign Slave Trade is an evil and a wrong. But it will probably require something beyond the mere assertion of these new lights, however vehemently uttered, to convince the great body of the American people that they are so very much wiser than their fathers and grandfathers.

KANSAS.

Our last summary of Kansas affairs concluded with the rejection by the People of the Territory, by a most decisive majority, of the bogus Lecompton Constitution. Shortly after, Governor Denver resigned, and Samuel Medary, of Ohio, was appointed to succeed him. A comparative lull in the fierce excitement, of which Kansas had so long been the scene, followed the concession which the government at Washington had at last been compelled to make to the popular sentiment. But about Fort Scott, on the southeastern borders of the Territory, armed collisions still continued to occur between the Free-State and the Pro-Slavery men, the latter backed by sympathizing friends in Missouri. The policy adopted by Medary was substantially that followed by Denver, of leaving matters, as far as possible, to regulate themselves. The Territorial Legislature, in which the Republicans had secured a majority, met early in January. The Controller reported the taxable property in the Territory at $25,000,000, exclusive of preemption claims, and the number of acres of land paid for and in the possession of individuals at about three millions.

The most noticeable laws of this session were an act repealing the bogus laws; a new apportionment act; an act for referring to the people the question of a new Constitutional Convention, the election to be held on the third Monday in March; and, finally, an amnesty act, putting a stop to the various prosecutions for political offences which had been commenced in the southeastern counties, and which had the effect finally to quiet the disturbances, amounting in fact to civil war, of which those counties had so long been the scene. The Legislature also passed a bill abolishing and prohibiting Slavery in the Territory, but so late in the session that the Governor was able to defeat it by omitting to sign it. At midnight, when the session closed, a bonfire was made of all the bogus statutes that could be found.

The election on the question of a new Constitutional Convention resulted in a majority of 3.881 in its favor; and, this result being ascertained, the Governor issued his proclamation for an election of delegates. The old party organizations were now abandoned, and those of Republicans and Democrats substituted, and it was on this basis that the canvass for the election of delegates proceeded. The Convention was to consist of fifty-two delegates. The Democrats proclaimed themselves disciples of Mr. Douglas and his Territorial Sovereignty doctrine, and decidedly opposed to making Kansas a Slave State. The Leavenworth district, where, through its contractors for army supplies, the Government exercised a great influence, and which from its population was entitled to ten delegates, elected the Democratic ticket, not, however, without the aid of fraudulent votes. But the Republicans, by their predominance in other parts of the Territory, succeeded in securing a majority in the Convention of thirty-five to seventeen.

The Convention met at Wyandot on the 5th of July, and adjourned on the 27th of the same month, after adopting a Constitution by a vote of thirty-four to thirteen, all the Democrats present voting against it and refusing to sign it. They had strenuously contended, in the Convention, for the annexation to Kansas of that part of Nebraska south of the Platte; for retaining as a part of the new State the western gold region about Pike's Peak, which was beginning to attract great numbers of immigrants; for the exclusion from the State of free negroes, and for the prohibition of bank issues, but had been defeated as to all these points.

By the Constitution, as adopted, the boundaries of the new State were declared to be the State of Missouri on the east, the 37th parallel of north latitude on the south, the 41st parallel of north latitude on the north, and the 23rd meridian of longitude west from Washington on the west. The western boundary cuts off the Pike'a Peak region and the desert which bounds it on the east, and limits the new State to the habitable eastern portion of the Territory, embracing an area of some sixty thousand square miles. The executive is to consist of a Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Attorney-General, and Superintendent of Public Schools, to be chosen by the people and to serve for two years. The House of Representatives is to consist of seventy-five members, to serve one year, and the senate of twenty-five senators, to serve two years, the numbers to be regulated by law, but never to exceed one hundred representatives, and thirty-three Senators. The pay is to be three dollars a day and fifteen cents per mile travel. All bills must originate with the House, and no act can include more than one subject. The Supreme Court is to consist of three Judges, to be chosen by the people, to hold office for six years, one to go out every two years. There are to be five District Judges to be chosen by the people of their respective districts, and to serve for four years. Each county is to choose a Judge of Probate, to serve for two years, and each township is to choose Justices of the Peace, to serve also for two years. Elections are to be by ballot. Every white male who is a citizen of the United States, or who has declared his intention to become one, having been a resident in the State for six months, and in the precinct for thirty days, is entitled to vote.

The State is prohibited from becoming a party in carrying on any work of internal improvements, nor can any debt, to exceed a million of dollars, be contracted, unless the question be previously submitted to, and the debt authorized by, a popular vote; and in all cases a special tax must be levied sufficient to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund adequate to meet the principal when it becomes due. All corporations, banks included, must be established under general laws only, and the corporators made liable to twice the amount of their stock. The sale of lottery tickets is prohibited. The schedule annexed to the Constitution claimed of Congress $500,000, or in lieu thereof, 500,000 acres of land to meet the claims andited to mostly that amount for losses incurred by citizens of Kansas during the late troubles. The Commissioners had declined to entertain the claim of the New-England Emigrant Aid Society, to the amount of $25,000, for the destruction of their hotel at Lawrence, on the gronnd that they had no authority to act on any claims except those presented by citizens of Kansas, and the Convention declined to go beyond the report of the Commissioners.

A grant is asked from Congress of 4,550,000 acres of land for internal improvements, also the swamp lands of the State to be appropriated as a school fund.

Prefixed to the Constitution is a Bill of Rights, which includes a prohibition of Slavery. This Bill of Rights also provides that no person shall be incompetent to testify on account of his religious belief.

By a provision of the schedule, this Constitution was submitted to a popular vote on the first Tuesday in October, which resulted in its ratification by the people by a majority of some four thousand. The Territorial election in November attracted but little interest from the general expectation of the admission of the State under the new Constitution. The Republicans, however, succeeded in electing their delegate to Congress and a majority of the Legislature.

The first State Election under thia Constitution was held December 6, 1859. The returns from this election, as we put these pages to press, are incomplete, but leave no reasonable doubt of the success of the entire Republican ticket, viz.: Charles Robinson for Governor, Marvin F. Conway for Congress, etc.

THE ITALIAN WAR.

THE Austrian rule established over the Lombardo-Venetian provinces of Italy, by the treaty of Vienna in 1815, was from the first very irksome to the Italians. They not only accused Austria of ruling her own provinces with a heavy hand, but of being the support of arbitrary government in the other Italian states. The first attempt to get rid of the Austrians was set on foot in 1819 or 1820, by the secret society of the Carbonari. The then presumptive heir of the crown of Sardinia, afterward the king Charles Albert, is said to have been a member of that society, though upon its failure he fell into disgrace with his associates, as having saved himself by treachery. However that may have been, he still continued to entertain the idea of expelling the Austrians. When, in 1848, the people of the Lombardo-Venetian provinces rose in arms, drove out the Austrian troops, and constituted themselves into two republics, Charles Albert, the king of Sardinia, having just given to his subjects a representative constitution, offered the aid of his army to the Lombards and Venetians, who agreed to accept him as king. But Charles Albert proved unable to cope with the Austrians under Radetzky, who soon entered Italy in force. The battle of Novarra settled the question, and the defeated Charles Albert abdicated in favor of his son, Victor Emanuel, the present king, to whom the Austrians —then hard pressed in other quarters— granted a peace, on condition of his paying the expenses of the war.

The Austrian predominance in Italy was thus reëstablished. But Sardinia retained her free constitution, and, being wisely governed, gradually strengthened herself at home, while she drew toward her the hopes and good wishes of the patriotic party in the other Italian states, to whom Austrian rule and influence continued distasteful as ever. Austria, on the other hand, under the plea of preventing revolutionary movements, which, once set on foot, might spread to her own discontented provinces, occupied with garrisons the northern papal cities as well as the duchies of Modena, Parma and Tuscany, with whose princes she had negotiated treaties authorizing her to do so.

Sardinia, by means of her quota of troops contributed to the Crimean war, became entitled to a representative in the Paris Conference in 1856. The affairs of Italy were introduced into that conference by Walewski, the minister of France. He declared the emperor's willingness to withdraw the French army of occupation from Rome, if Austria would at the same time withdraw her troops from the papal Legations. He suggested, too, that the Congress might hint to the king of Naples their disapprobation of his tyrannical proceedings, as dangerous to the tranquillity of his dominions, and, by consequence, to the peace of Europe. The Count Cavour, the Sardinian minister, thereupon took occasion to suggest that misgovernment and consequent discontent were not confined to Naples, but existed also in the Italian dominions of Austria. He complained, also, of the constant increase of Austrian troops in Italy, which obliged Sardinia to maintain her army on a war footing. The Congress took no action on this subject, though it seemed to be agreed that the withdrawal of both French and Austrian troops from the papal dominions was much to be desired.

From that time, the mutual jealousies and suspicions of Sardinia and Austria grew more and more marked. Sardinia was regarded by Austria as waiting an opportunity to take the lead in a new attempt to expel her from Italy, while Sardinia accused Austria of designs against her independence, and of aiming at, and indeed, already exercising, a control over Italy which the treaty of Vienna never intended to give her.

At the diplomatic reception at Paris on New Year's Day, 1859, Napoleon addressed to the Austrian minister a few words, to the effect that the relations between France and Austria were not so cordial as he could wish. This gave to Europe the first intimation that France had determined to support Sardinia in her reclamations against Austria. This idea received confirmation from the marriage, which speedily followed, of the Emperor's cousin, the son of Jerome, to a daughter of the King of Sardinia. On the side both of Austria and Sardinia, preparations were at once made for war. Additional Austrian troops were hastily marched into Italy and advanced toward the Sardinian frontier, while Sardinia strained every effort to put herself on a war footing, and accepted the services of volunteers from the neighboring Italian states, who, to the number of several thousands, offered their services. France, also, quietly made preparations. France and Sardinia were understood to demand that Austria should withdraw her garrisons from the other Italian states, and should confine herself strictly within her own provinces. England, alarmed at the prospect of war, offered her mediation. As the parties could not be brought to terms, a European Congress was proposed to settle the conditions of an arrangement. The preliminaries of a Congress were agreed to by England, Prussia, Russia, and France; but Austria, not disposed to concede to others the control of her Italian policy, finally broke off the negotiation, and, on the 21st of April, sent an ultimatum to Sardinia, demanding her instant disarmament, and the disbandment of her volunteers, allowing three days for an answer, and threatening war in case of refusal. The English Government, hitherto inclined to support Austria, warmly protested against this proceeding, but only succeeded in delaying the invasion for a few days. The Austrians, 120,000 strong, crossed the Ticino on the 29th of April. Their policy was supposed to be to strike at and destroy the Sardinian army, some 60,000 strong, before aid from France could arrive. But this intention, if entertained, was defeated, not only by the slowness characteristic of Austrian military movements, but by floods of rain, which swelled all the rivers, and made the roads almost impassable.

Meanwhile, French troops were poured into Italy with wonderful rapidity. One column was transported in steamers from Marseilles to Genoa; another advanced over the Alps by the road of Mont Cenis. Within three weeks, the Austrians found themselves confronted by a hundred thousand French troops, in addition to the Sardinian army. The duchies of Tuscany, Parma and Modena drove off their dukes, who adhered to Austria, and declared in favor of the Allies, thus exposing Lombardy to a flank attack. On the 19th of May, the Austrians commenced a retrograde movement. On the 21st occurred the first considerable engagement at Montebello. Count Stadion, at the head of 15,000 Austrians, thrown forward to make a reconnoissance, was repulsed by an advanced French division of 6,000 men under General Forey, with a loss in killed and wounded of 1,300 men. The French, who were supported by a regiment of Sardinian cavalry, admitted a loss or half that number. On the 30th of May, the Sardinians, led by their king, passed the Sesia in the face of the Austrians, who were fortified at Palestro. That village was attacked, and after a severe conflict, the Austrians were driven out of it with a loss, in killed, wounded and prisoners, of 2,200 men. The Sardinian loss was comparatively trifling. This victory was followed by the retreat of the whole Austrian army across the Ticino. The Allies followed them closely, and on the banks of that river was fought, on the 4th of June, the great battle of Magenta. In this battle were engaged 120,000 French and 150,000 Austrians. The Austrians lost 7,000 men taken prisoners, and some 4,000 to 5,000 killed and wounded, and, in consequence of their defeat, evacuated Milan the next day. Meanwhile, Garibaldi, at the head of five or six thousand volunteers, had made his way into northern Lombardy, and was giving the Austrians much annoyance. From the field of Magenta, the Austrians made a rapid retreat upon the Mincio, evacuating Pavia and blowing up the fortifications. To cover that retreat, an Austrian division fought the battle of Malegnano, from which town, after an energetic resistance of three hours, they were dislodged with heavy loss.

The Austrians having succeeded in concentrating all their forces behind the Mincio, as the French approached, recrossed that river, in order to try, on ground selected by themselves, the fate of another battle. The armies met at Solferino on the 24th of June. The Austrians brought into the field some 200,000 men, and the Allies about the same number. Both Emperors were at the head of their respective armies. The attack began at 5 o'clock in the morning, and the battle—one corps after another engaging in it—lasted the whole day. For some time, the result seemed to be doubtful, but, at half-past six in the evening, the Austrians retreated along their whole line. The total loss of the Allies was some 18,000 men. They took 6,000 prisoners and 30 cannon. The loss of the Austrians, who were allowed to retreat without being pursued, was not, according to their own accounts, greater than that of the Allies.

The night after this battle, the Austrians recrossed the Mincio to seek the refuge of their fortresses in the celebrated quadrangle. The Sardinians invested Peschiera, the northwesternmost of these fortresses. Prince Napoleon, who, at the head of 35,000 men, had advanced from Tuscany, where he had been employed in organizing the troops of the revolted duchies, was left to mask the fortress of Mantua, while the French army crossed the Mincio and advanced to lay siege to Verona. Meanwhile, the Austrian garrisons in the dominions of the Pope at Ancona, Ravenna and Bologna, had been hastily withdrawn, and that portion of the Papal dominions known as the Legations, threw off the government of the Pope, and claimed, as the revolted duchies had done, annexation to Sardinia. A formidable French fleet, with troops on board, also made its appearance in the Adriatic, and threatened to assail from that side the communication between Venice and Austria. Preparations were also on foot for getting up a revolution in Hungary, the Allies having entered into communications with Kossuth and other Hungarian exiles, and the Hungarian prisoners taken at Magenta having been organized as the nucleus of an army.

Meanwhile, a great interest on behalf of Austria, had been excited in Germany, and there was reason to apprehend that, if the war went on, the Germans would take side with Austria. The Austrians, though beaten, still preserved their army unbroken, and the quadrangle was a very formidable position. These considerations inclined Napoleon to be content with what he had already gained. He proposed an armistice, which was signed on the 8th of July. Three days afterward, the Emperors, having met at Villafranca, the terms of a final treaty of peace were arranged. Austria agreed to resign Lombardy, which was to be annexed to Sardinia, Austria, however, to retain the fortresses of Mantua and Peschiera. Beside this, which was the main condition, the Emperors agreed to give their support to an Italian confederation under the Presidency of the Pope, and also to favor the restoration of the banished dukes of Tuscany and Modena, though it seems to have been agreed that no force should be used for that purpose. This peace, made without any consultation with Sardinia, did not satisfy the wishes of the Italians, especially the inhabitants of Tuscany, Modena, Parma, and the Papal Legations. In spite of all the representations made to them on behalf of France, they declined to receive back their former rulers, and insisted on annexation to Sardinia. The king of Sardinia, though prevented by France from accepting this offer, yet encouraged the people of Central Italy in maintaining their independent position, and referred them to a European Congress as the necessary sanction for the fulfillment of their wishes. Meanwhile, the details of the cession of Lombardy to Sardinia were the subject of conferences between plenipotentiaries from the three powers assembled at Zurich, the chief difficulty being to settle the amount of the Austrian debt to be assumed by Sardinia, in consequence of the cession. This amount was finally fixed at a hundred and two million francs (about $20,000,000). The signature of the treaties of Zurich was immediately followed by letters of invitation to a Congress, to assemble at Paris on the 15th of December, to decide the fate of Central Italy. Besides the powers which took part in the treaty of Vienna—Great Britain, Russia, Prussia, Austria, France, Spain, Portugal and Sweden—this invitation included also Sardinia, Naples, and the Pope.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

We, the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States.

ARTICLE 1.—Section 1.—All legislative powers herein granted, shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2.—1. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States; and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislature.

2. No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

3. Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one representative; and until each enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three; Massachusetts, eight; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, one; Connecticut, five; New York, six; New Jersey, four; Pennsylvania, eight; Delaware, one; Maryland, six; Virginia, ten; North Carolina, five; South Carolina, five; and Georgia, three.

4. When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

5. The House of Representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

Section 3.—1. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each State, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote.

2. Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen, by resignation or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any State, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

3. No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

4. The Vice President of the United States shall be president of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

5. The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a president pro tempore in the absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

6. The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside: and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

7. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

Section 4.—1. The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time, by law, make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year; and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

Section 5.—1. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

2. Each house may determine the rule of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

3. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question, shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

4. Neither house, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

Section 6.—1. The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

2. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased, during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

Section 7.—1 All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

2. Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if not he shall return it with his objection, to that house in which it shall have originated; who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases, the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

3. Every order, resolution or vote, to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment), shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him; or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

Section 8.—The Congress shall have power—

1. To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises; to pay the debts, and provide for the common defence and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

2. To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

3. To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes;

4. To establish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcy throughout the United States;

5. To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures;

6. To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;

7. To establish post-offices and post-roads;

8. To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times, to authors and inventors, the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

9. To constitute tribunals inferior to the supreme court; to define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offences against the law of nations;

10. To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;

11. To raise and support armies; but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;

12. To provide and maintain a navy;

13. To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

14. To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;

15. To provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such parts of them as may be employed in the service of the United States; reserving to the States respectively the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress.

16. To execute exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever, over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular States, and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of government of the United States; and to exercise the like authority over all places purchased, by the consent of the legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock-yards, and other needful buildings;—and

17. To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

Section 9.—1. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight; but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

2. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when, in cases of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require it.

3. No bill of attainder, or ex post facto law, shall be passed.

4. No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

5. No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State. No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one State over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to or from one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay duties in another.

6. No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

7. No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office, or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign state.

Section 10.—1. No State shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts; or grant any title of nobility.

2. No State shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the Treasury of the United States, and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress. No State shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.—Section 1.—1. The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years; and, together with the Vice-President, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

2. Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but not senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

3. The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The president of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose, by ballot, one of them for President; and if no person have a majority, then, from the five highest on the list, the said House shall, in like manner, choose a President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representatives from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the Vice-President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them, by ballot, the Vice-President.

4. The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes, which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

5. No person, except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

6. In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President; and the Congress may, by law, provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President; and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

7. The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected; and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

8. Before he enters on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

9. "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States: and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Section 2.—1. The President shall be Commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States, when called into the actual service of the United States. He may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices; and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offences against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

2. He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors and other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States, whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law. But the Congress may, by law, vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

3. The President shall have power to fill any vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions, which shall expire at the end of their next session.

Section 3.—1. He shall, from time to time, give to the Congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient. He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them; and in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper. He shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed; and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

Section 4.—1. The President, Vice-President, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.—Section 1.—1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may, from time to time, ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior; and shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

Section 2.—1. The judicial power shall extend to all cases in law and equity arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States; between a State and citizens of another State, between citizens of different States, between citizens of the same State claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State, or the citizens thereof, and foreign states, citizens, or subjects.

2. In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all other cases before mentioned, the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions, and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

3. The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury, and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the trial shall be in such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

Section 3.—1. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

2. The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason; but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.—Section 1.—1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other State; and the Congress may, by general laws, prescribe the manner in which such acts, records, and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

Section 2.—1. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.

2. A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice, and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.

3. No person held to service or labor in one State under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor; but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

Section 3.—1. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State, nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States or parts of States, without the consent of the legislatures of the States concerned, as well as of the Congress.

2. The Congress shall have power to dispose of, and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

Section 4.—1. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican form of Government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and, on application of the legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.—1. The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution; or, on the application to the legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid, to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.—1. All debts contracted, and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

2. This Constitution, and the laws of the United States, which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

3. The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.—1. The ratification of the conventions of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the same.

Done in convention by the unanimous consent of the States present, the seventeenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the twelfth. In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names.

GEORGE WASHINGTON,

ALABAMA.

AN Election was held in this State for Governor, Congressmen, and Members of the Legislature, which was a very one-sided affair—the party labelled Regular Democratic sweeping the State by a majority so large that the Opposition candidates, after the election, were not positive that they had been running at all. The Opposition appealed to the people, as being better friends of the South, or rather of the slaveholders, than the regular Democracy, a dodge which does not seem to have succeeded either in Alabama or elsewhere in the South where it has been resorted to. Andrew B. Moore, regular Democrat, was re-elected Governor, over William F. Samford, fire-eater, by about 20,000 majority.

For Congress there was a show of opposition to James A. Stallworth, regular Democrat, in the 1st (Mobile) District, but he was re-elected by 3083 majority. In the IIId. (Montgomery) District there was quite a sharp contest between David Clopton, regular Democrat, and T. J. Judge, Whig, or ex-Whig, or American, which resulted in the success of the Democratic candidate by a more decisive majority than at the last previous Congressional election, as follows:

| Counties. | 1859. Judge. | Clopton. | 1857. Judge. | Dowdell. |

| Total | 6666 | 6880.... | 6418 | 6505 |

Majority for Clopton, 214; do. for Dowdell, 87.

In the other Congressional districts the Democratic candidates were elected with no opposition, or next to none.

THE LEGISLATURE is very Democratic, of course.

The Democratic candidates for other Territorial officers, Treasurer, Auditor, etc., were also elected.

Mr. Daily, the Republican candidate for Congress, will contest the seat, on the ground of alleged frauds in the election, the returning of the vote from Buffalo county, which had not been organized according to law, and was not, therefore, entitled to vote, etc.

THE LEGISLATURE is Democratic.

MISSOURI.

THERE was no election in this State during the year 1859, for either State Officers or Congressmen. A Judge of the Supreme Court and Judges of the Circuit Courts were chosen, but party politics did not enter into the contest to any considerable extent. For Supreme Court Judge there were three candidates, who received each nearly the same number of votes, viz., Ewing, Adams and Hall. The Hon. E. B. Ewing was the successful candidate.

For Governor of the Alms House, the result was for Wm. Pinckney, Dem., 21,463; Mc Mokiroy, Tammany Dem., 21463; Lynch, Mozart Dem., 23593.

Aldermen were chosen at this election in 8 of the 17 districts of the city, and the whole number elected are Democrats, though a portion belong to Mozart, and others to Tammany. The Board, including the 9 who hold over, stands, 5 Republicans or Opposition, and 12 Democrats.

A full Board of Councilmen, 24, were elected, of whom 8 are Republicans, and 16 Democrats of various stripes.

INDIANA.

No election was held for any State Officer last October, except as follows. Mr. McClure, Dem., who had been re-elected Secretary of State in October, 1858, having received an appointment to a more profitable office from the President, resigned the Secretaryship before the commencement of his new term. Gov. Willard appointed C. L. Dunham, not only for the unexpired portion of Mr. McClure's old term, but for the whole of the new term for which McClure had been elected, but on which he had not commenced before his resignation. The term being for two years, and the regular October election intervening, at which, it was held by the Republicans, that any vacant State Office should be filled, many counties voted for Secretary of State. James M. Hill, Esq., Republican, having received the largest number of votes, will, it is understood, claim the office, and his title will be decided by the Courts. Apart from this the only election in the State was for Judges in two or three circuits, and for County Officers, the result of which was unexpectedly gratifying to the Opposition, who claim that a State canvass, judging from these returns, would have resulted in their favor.

THE COURT OF DEATH,

A LARGE AND SPLENDID

ENGRAVING,

23 by 31 inches,

OF THIS WORLD-RENOWNED

PAINTING,

By REMBRANDT PEALE, has been issued by the subscriber.

From the New York Weekly Tribune, of Dec. 9, 1859.

THE COURT OF DEATH.—Mr. G. Q. Colton, of No. 37 Park Row, is endeavoring to inaugurate a new principle in the sale of works of art. Sarony, Major & Knapp have executed for him a fine Lithographic Engraving of Rembrandt Peale's painting of the "Court of Death," which, by six printings, in as many colors, produces an accurate copy of the picture. Mr. Peale certifies that it is an accurate and admirable copy of the original painting." Instead of selling these engravings at $5 —the usual price for prints of the sort—he proposes to sell them for $1 each, under the conviction that he can sell 100,000 copies, by which he will be well repaid for his time and outlay.

From Ex-President Fillmore.

"I confess I have been greatly pleased with this splendid specimen of American genius, and cannot doubt that all persons of taste will be glad to have an opportunity of seeing so eminent a work. MILLARD FILLMORE."

"PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16th, 1859.

"I have seen the Chromo-Lithographic engraving of my painting of the Court of Death, recently executed for Dr. G. Q. Colton, (the present proprietor,) by Sarony, Major & Knapp, of New York, and can certify that it is an accurate and admirable copy of the original painting. REMBRANDT PEALE."

From the New York Observer, of Nov. 24.

"A new and really beautiful engraving of this celebrated picture. No printed description can fully realize the conceptions of the artist, or come up to the requirements of the imagination in its study. . . . Mr. Colton is a responsible man, and our friends may feel safe in sending their money for his picture."

Every subscriber obtains a numbered certificate of one share in the original painting, valued at $25,000.

SIX COPIES will be sent for $5, postage free.

Every parlor where correct taste and good morals are cultivated, should contain this picture.

The Engravings will be sent in a strong case, so as not to be injured in the mails.

Our STEEL PEN BLACK INK was tested by the Mechanics' Institute in 1836, with two other well known Inks, to show their comparative qualities for permanence. The result shows our Ink to be legible, while the others are much faded.

Dr. Chilton's test, made in 1836, engraved fac-similes of which can be seen at our office, proves conclusively that

Our Black Ink is better adapted for STATE AND COUNTY RECORDS, and for all purposes where it is important that the writing should be legible fifty years hence, than any other Ink now before the public.

FOR INFLAMED EYELIDS,

And for the cure of Scrofulous Humors and soreness surrounding or near the eye. In all diseases of this character it is almost a certain cure. The following extract from a letter just received, refers to one of the many similar cases constantly reported:

MESSRS. A. B. & D. SANDS: Jersey City, Oct. 29, 1859.

Dear Sirs—I have for a number of years been troubled with sore and inflamed eyelids, which, though they never caused me much pain, were very annoying on other accounts. I have tried a number of medicines at different times without the slightest success. Seeing an advertisement of your Roman Eye Balsam, in spite of my skepticism, I resolved to get some, and at least try it. I am now writing this in the fullest gratitude to inform you (I could almost send you a fifty dollar bill) that a few, and only a few, applications have resulted in a complete cure. Respectfully yours, L. ZABRISKIE.

Price 25 cents per jar.—Will be sent free per Mail to any part of the United States upon receipt of 30 cents in postage stamps.

PROSPECTUS

THE NEW YORK LEDGER.

As an indication of the popularity of the LEDGER, we need only state the simple fact that its circulation is larger than that of any other TEN literary papers in the country. Its great success is owing to the fact that its proprietor secures the best writers in the country, and spares no expense in getting up the BEST FAMILY PAPER—a paper of high moral tone. The exalted reputation of its contributors, the practical and invariably pure and healthy character of all its articles, the care which is taken that not even one offensive word shall appear in its columns, and the superiority of its Tales and Sketches, have gained for the NEW YORK LEDGER a position that NO literary paper has ever before reached. We feel, and always have felt, since the LEDGER attained its immense circulation, that a heavy responsibility rests upon us, and have endeavored to discharge that responsibility conscientiously, feeling confident that ultimately we should receive the thanks of thousands and tens of thousands of families.

As to the future, we are at a loss what to say. We prefer to PERFORM rather than to PROMISE. What we have heretofore done is known to our readers; they know what the LEDGER has been and is now, and must therefore judge what it will be hereafter. We can only say that among the contributors to the LEDGER are

| EDWARD EVERETT, | EMERSON BENNETT, | FANNY FERN, |
| CHARLES DICKENS, | WM. ROSS WALLACE, | MRS. SIGOURNEY, |
| HENRY WARD BEECHER. | CARLOS D. STUART, | MRS. SOUTHWORTH, |

and many eminent Lawyers, Clergymen, Professors in Colleges, and others who write for the LEDGER anonymously; and that our complete arrangements are such that the current expenses of the LEDGER are now and will constantly be at the rate of over three hundred thousand dollars per annum.

FACTS like these carry with them more weight than any comments that could be made, and comments will therefore be dispensed with. As we have already intimated, we shall leave promising to those who prefer to expend their force in that way, and content ourselves with doing what we can to make the LEDGER the most interesting and instructive FAMILY PAPER in the world.

THE NEW YORK LEDGER is published every Saturday, and sold at all the news-offices in every city and town throughout the country, and is mailed to subscribers at two dollars per annum; two copies sent for three dollars. Any Postmaster obtaining eight subscribers at $1 50 each (which is our lowest club rate), and sending us $12, will be entitled to one copy free. Terms invariably in advance.

☞ The postage on the LEDGER to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only twenty-six cents a year. Canada subscribers must each send us twenty-six cents in addition to the subscription price of the LEDGER, to pay the American postage.

☞ Subscribers must write their addresses, including the name of the place, county, and State in which they reside, in a plain hand, so as to avoid mistakes.

☞ No subscriptions are wanted from cities, large villages, or other places where news-offices are permanently established.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS

Are the most useful article of the kind yet introduced to the public. They are entirely pleasant; they do not roll up in heaps, they do not adhere to your linen; they only adhere to the skin, and they are pleasant because they are flexible and move with every motion. They are the best strengthening plaster, best pain relievers, and an admirable plaster for skin diseases, especially moth of the skin (lichen) and all unsightly discolorations.

In affections of the kidneys, their use over the small of the back or over the sacrum is attended with the best results; ask for a bill of directions, and examine cases of cure for yourselves.

"ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—They resolve and assuage pain by calling forth the acrid humors from parts internal to the skin and general circulation Thus, in many cases, positively evaporating the disease. JAMES LULL, M.D."

One Thousand Dollars' Worth Sold.

"SING SING, N. Y., July 21, 1859.

"This may certify that we have sold, within the past five years, at least one thousand dollars' worth of ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS. They have invariably given satisfaction, and we consider them the best article of the kind made or sold.

"JONES & BRO., Apothecaries and Chemists."

NERVOUS AFFECTIONS CURED.—Julius Metz, Esq., of Brooklyn, the well-known professor of music, was long subject to an affection of the muscles of the chest, attended with most violent spasmodic asthma. His physical sufferings were great, and his professional duties much interfered with. The application of one Plaster cured him.

MALIGNANT PUSTULES, BOILS AND CARBUNCLES.—In these cases, a piece of the Plaster large enough to cover the pustule, boil or carbuncle, is all that is required. The Plaster should be changed two or three times a day, and when the tumors break, keep them clean, and apply till healed. Mr. Caifassi, Dr. Vaillaindet, and Dr. Jacquinot, report that probably these plasters are specifics in all diseases of the skin surface. Their value is beyond dispute. They even take out wrinkles, or lessen their corrugations.

Hear what the Hon. Carl Schultze, of Chicago, says:

"CHICAGO, Sept. 26, 1859.

"TO THE EDITORS OF THE 'NEW YORK CRIMINAL ZEITUNG'—GENTLEMEN: I shall feel obliged if you will inform your friend, Mr. Deichman, that I have quite recovered from the severe pains in my chest, from which I have so long suffered. Allcock's Porous Plaster cured me, of which he spoke so highly. I had tried almost everything to relieve the pain, without any benefit, before I used this Plaster, which, strange to say, in a few days after putting it on, perfectly relieved me. I have worn the Plasters for the last nine months, changing once in a week or two, without any return of the pain in my chest, or the least difficulty in taking any kind of food. This can be attested by all my friends and my family. Show Deichman this letter, and please to publish in your paper. Most respectfully, CARL SCHULTZE."

NOTE BY EDITOR OF "CRIMINAL ZEITUNG."—"We insert this letter with pleasure, as it affords us an opportunity for saying that any one afflicted with pains in the chest, accompanied with indigestion, can, by applying at this office, receive ample testimony from one who has been restored to health by these very Plasters of Mr. Allcock, which he used for six months for a similar affection."

CURE THE WHOOPING COUGH.—In fact, their use in these cases acts like a charm. These excellent Strengthening Plasters are taking the place of all others, when known. They resolve and assuage pain, wherever applied. In asthma, consumption, cough, tic-douloureux, or other pains, they have qualities which surpass all other remedies whatsoever.

LAME BACK.

"NO. 294 CANAL ST., NEW YORK, Nov. 26, 1859.

T. ALLCOCK & CO.—GENTLEMEN: I lately suffered severely from a weakness in my back, occasioned by suddenly over-exerting myself. # KEEP YOUR FEET DRY AND PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.

The long sought-for principle of making leather perfectly impervious to water without injuring it has at last been discovered. A. Brower's Patent Waterproof Composition for Leather, makes Boots, Shoes, Hose, Harness, Belts, and all leather, waterproof by a single application, if the directions are followed, and will keep so until worn out; at the same time, it softens and prevents cracking, can polish with blacking better after than before the application, and what is equal to all the other advantages, leather will last at least half as long again for using it. All that have tried it or have seen it used say there never has been anything of the kind before, and that it is what everybody ought to have. The U. S. Navy have adopted it as being the best thing in use for leather, and say it is all that is claimed for it. The American Institute, at their fair this fall, appointed a special committee to examine it, and reported it as being all that is claimed for it, awarding a silver medal and recommending it to all.

It is what every man, woman, and child ought to use on their boots and shoes. For sale by all principal Boot and Shoe, Hardware, Yankee Notion, Grocers, Druggists, &c., and by A. BROWER & CO., 4 Reade st., N. Y. Agents wanted. N. B. None genuine, unless signed by A. BROWER. Prices, 25 cents single box, $2 doz., $18 gross.

ONLY PREPARATION

HAVING PROOFS SO STRONG AND DIRECT AS TO ## EXPEL THE DOUBTS OF ALL.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction and recommend it for all cases of eruptions and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling, to any age, as well as restore. Read the following:—

OAK GROVE, S. C., June 24th, 1859.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudices aside and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was finally destroyed over the entire surface of the head. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man, myself, and as I thought understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These, and no other circumstances, induced me to resort to your worthy Hair Restorative, which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my most sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours very respectfully, M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Office of the Jeffersonian, PHILIPPI, VA., Dec. 12th, 1858.

Dear Sir—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give it to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

Yours, &c., THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

NEW YORK, Dec, 3rd, 1857.

DR. WOOD—Dear Sir:—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming grey, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, forty per cent. more in proportion, and retails for three dollars per bottle.

* Dec. 16.

IV. A total Eclipse of the Sun, but only partial in the United States, December 31. The Sun rises eclipsed, and the obscuration will be visible in all the States east of the Mississippi River, and in those States adjacent to it on the west, except Iowa. It ends at Washington, at 8h. 56m. In Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, and Wisconsin, the Eclipse ends just at sunrise, and east of Maine it begins at sunrise. Size in the Atlantic States about 6 digits.

Transit of Mercury.

There will be a transit of Mercury over the Sun's disc, November 12, invisible in America.

Occultation of Mars.

Mars will be eclipsed by the Moon May 12, at 7h. 30m. in the evening, at Washington, and reappear at 8h. 32m. Visible generally.

Morning and Evening Stars.

Venus will be Morning Star until May 11, then Evening Star the rest of the year. Mars will be Evening Star until August 27, then Morning Star the rest of the year. Jupiter will be Morning Star until February 10, then Evening Star until August 30, then Morning Star the rest of the year. Saturn will be Morning Star until February 24, then Evening Star until September 5.

The Fifty-Seventh Asteroid,

Between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, was discovered by M. Luther, of Bilk, on the evening of September 22, 1859. It has received the name Mnemosyne.

Mercury.

This planet, being rarely seen, may be discovered in the west soon after sunset about February 24, June 22, October 17, and in the east just before sunrise about April 15, August 13, and December 2.

Leap-Year.

Every year the number of which is divisible by 4 without a remainder, is a leap-year, except the last year of the century, which is a leap-year only when divisible by 400 without a remainder. Thus the year 1900 will not be leap-year.

Nebulæ.

"I wonder as I gaze. That stream of light
Undimmed, unquenched—just as I see it now—
Has issued from those dazzling points through years
That run far back into eternity.
Exhaustless flood! forever spent, renewed Forever!"

A NEBULA is a cloudy spot of light in the sky, invisible to the naked eye, and which the most powerful telescope cannot in all cases resolve into the stars which compose it. There are between one and two thousand nebulæ noted in Herschel's catalogue. They are supposed to be immensely remote beyond the fixed stars; and if they are each composed of multitudes of stars, how vast must be the system, the combined light of whose thousands of suns appears only as a faint haze, and has required thousands of years to reach us!

Nebulæ vary exceedingly, both in apparent size and in form. Some are elliptical, others annular, and many are globular. In the tail of Scorpio is a cometary nebula. In Sobieski's Shield is a singular oval nebula containing two small distinct stars. And in the constellation Cygnus is a globular nebula, with a single distinct star in the centre. Another in Auriga, surrounds an equilateral triangle of three minute stars.

In the right foot of Andromeda is a beautiful elliptical nebula, called by Sir John Herschel "a wonderful object." The centre is black, with a small star at each end. It is believed to be of immense size, and to be in shape a ring, seen sidelways.

The nebular cluster appears like a small hazy star to the naked eye, but in a good telescope shines with a lustre truly astonishing.

In the constellation Orion is a remarkable nebula, the diameter of which must be at least 19,000,000,000 of miles; and if, as is altogether probable, it lies at a vast distance beyond the most distant stars, its magnitude must be inconceivably great. It is like a universe by itself, immeasurably remote beyond the universe heretofore known.

And yet it is but one of many such, disclosed to the telescopic eye of modern science, and proclaiming as nothing else can the Infinite power of Him at whose word they sprang into being.

The Milky Way—

That irregular stream of faint, cloudy light, which may be seen on clear, moonless nights by the naked eye, forming a circle entirely round the heavens—is supposed to be the remoter parts of the group of stars in which our sun is enveloped. To a spectator at a distant point in the heavens it may appear as a small annular nebula, or as a thin stratum of starry light, covering but a small spot in the sky. In the constellation Argo Navis, is a vast nebular cluster, in which from 2,000 to 6,000 stars have been revealed by the telescope, besides large nebulous tracts which no telescope has yet resolved into stars. This nebula is seen through the Milky Way, but is supposed to lie at an immeasurable distance beyond it.

To Ascertain the Length of the Day and Night,

At any time of the year, add 12 hours to the time of the sun's setting, and from the sum subtract the time of rising, for the length of the day. Subtract the time of setting from 12 hours, and to the remainder add the time of rising next morning, for the length of the night. These rules are equally true for apparent time.

The Polestar Four Thousand Years Ago.

The following, from Sir John Herschel's Outlines of Astronomy, shows the changes in the celestial pole in four thousand years:

"At the date of the erection of the Great Pyramid of Gizeh, which precedes the present epoch by nearly 4,000 years, the longitudes of all the stars were less by 55' 45" than at present. Calculating, from this datum, the place of the pole of the heavens among the stars, it will be found to fall near $\alpha$ Draconis; its distance from that star being 3° 44' 25". This being the most conspicuous star in the immediate neighborhood, was therefore the Polestar at that epoch. The latitude of Gizeh being just 30° north, and consequently the altitude of the North Pole there also 30°, it follows that the star in question must have had at its lower culmination at Gizeh, an altitude of 26° 15' 35". Now it is a remarkable fact, that of the nine pyramids still existing at Gizeh, six—including all the largest—have the narrow passages, by which alone they can be entered—all which open out on the northern faces of their respective pyramids—inclined downward at an angle as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | Pyramid of Cheops..... | 26° | 41' |
| 2. | " Cephren ..... | 25 | 55 |
| 3. | " Mycerinus ... . | 26 | 2 |
| 4. | ..... | 27 | 0 |
| 5. | ..... | 27 | 12 |
| 6. | ..... | 28 | 0 |
| | Mean ..... | 26° | 47' |

At the bottom of every one of these passages, therefore, the Polestar must have been visible at its lower culmination, a circumstance which can hardly be supposed to have been unintentional, and was doubtless connected—perhaps superstitiously—with the astronomical observations of that star, of whose proximity to the pole at the epoch of the erection of these wonderful structures we are thus furnished with a monumental record of the most imperishable nature."

Planet between Mercury and the Sun.

Within a century and a half, twenty-one reliable observations have been had of transits of Mercury over the sun's disk. In these a progressive error of small amount was noted, which led astronomers to conclude there must be some small planetary body within the orbit of Mercury. Studying therefore attentively the small spots upon the sun, an observer fifty miles from Paris, named Lescarbault, has discovered the planet in question.

Fires in the United States.

During the year 1859, 208 fires were reported, at each of which the loss was $20,000 or more; total loss, $16,058,000. By smaller fires, an additional loss of perhaps five millions was incurred. Lives were lost at 51 fires, 112 in all.

True Time.

Two kinds of time are used in Almanacs; clock or mean-time in some, and apparent or sun-time in others. Clock-time is always right, while Sun-time varies every day. People generally suppose it is twelve o'clock when the sun is due south, or at a properly made noon-mark. But this is a mistake. The sun is seldom on the meridian at twelve o'clock; indeed this is the case only on four days of the year: namely, April 15, June 15, Sept. 1, and Dec. 24. In this Almanac, as in most other Almanacs, the time used is clock-time. The time when the sun is on the meridian or at the noon-mark, is also given to the nearest second, for the 1st, 9th, 17th, and 25th days of each month, at the right hand of the top of each calendar page. This affords a ready means of obtaining correct time and for setting a clock by using a noon-mark, adding or subtracting as the sun is slow or fast.

Old-fashioned Almanacs, which use apparent time, give the rising and setting of the sun's centre and make no allowance for the effect of refraction of the sun's rays by the atmosphere. The more modern and improved Almanacs, which use clock-time, give the rising and setting of the sun's upper limb, and duly allow for refraction. The practice of setting time-pieces by the rising or setting of the sun or moon is not strictly correct, as the unevenness of the earth's surface and intervening objects, such as hills and forests, near the points of rising and setting, occasion a deviation in every place, from the time expressed in the Almanac, which time is adapted to a smooth, level horizon. The only means of keeping correct time is by the use of a noon-mark, or a meridian line.

Thickness of the Earth's Crust.

From the average of numerous experiments, the temperature is found to increase one degree for every 60 feet the earth is penetrated. By this law, the heat at the depth of 60 or 70 miles would reduce to a state of fusion most of the mineral substances known to us. Hence it has been concluded that the centre of the earth is a molten and fluid mass. In view, however, of the increased conducting power of the primitive rocks, and of certain astronomical arguments, it is probable that the solid crust of the earth can not be less than from 200 to 500 miles in thickness.

Telegraphic Weather-Reports

Are daily sent to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, from almost all parts of the Union; and the state of the weather being indicated on a large map in the public hall, by cards of different colors, the spectator can observe where storms are occurring, and trace their progress annually toward the east. Thus, from the Cincinnati and St. Louis reports, the state of the weather at Washington may be foretold twelve hours in advance.

THE RAT-TAIL CACTUS.—The N. York Leader relates the following anecdote of the late Mike Walsh. The incident is said to have taken place at Washington, while Mike was a member of the House of Representatives:

At the foot of the Capitol gardens in Pennsylvania avenue (on the right hand side, as you are fronting the building) is an inclosed space—national property—containing one or more tenements and some conservatories and hothouses. Here for some years past, and until his death, enjoying Uncle Sam's patronage, sojourned a Frenchman, learned in botany and many other sciences. Some companions, while passing these premises, were vaunting his acquirements to Mike, who, from a spirit of contradiction, called them in question. He doubted whether these eminent botanists knew the difference between oats and wheat, and believed, he said, that a Bowery boy could persuade them that cotton was clover. Finally, Mike undertook, "botanically," to deceive the Frenchman with whatever he could pick up where they stood, in the lane skirting his premises.

From a wreck of flower-pots and rubbish he selected one sound pot and a dead rat lying next the heap. Placing the rat in the flower-pot, he covered it up with mould, leaving out the tail, which he fixed perpendicularly by tying it carefully to a green stick which happened to be "convenient" amongst the garden rubbish. He next called on the Professor, and told him that his friend Lieut. ——— (whose ship having touched one of the islands of the then terra incognito Japan, had excited some interest) had presented him with a very curious kind of cactus. This he wished the Professor to examine. No one, Mike said, had been able to make it out, and he might have it for ten years and not find five people who would; so he hardly felt justified in keeping it out of a public collection, and yet he did not like to part with a keepsake from a "friend."

The Professor eagerly repaired to examine the vegetable curiosity.

After a close inspection, he determined what it was, or at least christened it by a fine Greek name—two words, Mike said, averaging sixteen letters. The Professor exhausted himself in persuading Mike that the interests of science required that he should sacrifice to them the sentiments of friendship, by surrendering this rare production of the vegetable kingdom to the botanist. The reluctant Mike eventually consented, on the willing and solemn assurances of the Professor that it would be tended with the utmost care; and so it would. Placed in a hothouse, it was cautiously but carefully besprinkled with water at a temperature of seventy degrees by the thermometer. It was noticed and described in the National Intelligencer.

The notice was copied into other papers. The plant was exhibited with pride to several eminent individuals. At length, with the heat and moistare the tip of the tail began to excoriate. The Professor was delighted—it was examined with the greatest interest by one of the chief patrons, "the great Daniel," to whom the Professor promised one of the first slips for Marshfield.

"It was too good a joke to keep," said Michael, "especially in a hot-house; so before long, they smelt a rat." The wrath and shame of the Professor were excessive, and so was the indignation of the great Daniel, not at the author of the joke, but at the unfortunate botanist, whom he stigmatized as a "d——d frog-eating Frenchman," through whom he had been taken in, and who ought to have known better.

A WESTERN Representative in Congress boasts that he can "bring an argument to a p'int as quick as any other man." He can bring a quart to a pint a good deal quicker.

A FEMALE correspondent suggests a condition on which she will give us a kiss. We feel in duty bound to say to her, that kissing is a thing that, at every proper opportunity, we set our face against.

A YOUNG widow has established a pistol-gallery in New Orleans. Her qualifications as a teacher of the art of duelling are of course undoubted—she has killed her man.

IT is stated that the members of a late court martial ran up a bill of four hundred and fifty dollars against the government for port wine. We suppose those men-of-war thought they ought to make port holes of their mouths.

THE question is often discussed whether the savages enjoy life. We suppose they do, as they always seem anxious to take it when they get a chance.

A MAN was recently convicted in Kentucky of stealing his neighbor's cows and hiding them in a cellar. It was a cowardly mode of cow-hiding.

"I HAVEN'T taken a drop of liquor for a year," said an individual of questionable morals. "Indeed! but which of your features are we to believe—your lips or your nose?"

THE "American Agriculturist" speaks of a species of pigs with square mouths. A learned goat can add, subtract and multiply, but these pigs can give an illustration of the square root.

WORDS are often signs of ideas, and quite as often of the want of them.

"Is the smoke of my cigarette unpleasant to you, sir?" "Oh, no, madam; I would rather inhale smoke from your beautiful lips, than kisses from any others."

IN Columbia, a week or two since, a man whistled to his neighbor, as if calling a dog, and got soundly whipped for it. That was "paying dear for his whistle."

THE coat of a horse is the gift of nature. That of an ass is often the work of a tailor.

An exchange says that we have a right to take an umbrella or a kiss without permission whenever we can. Well, but if the umbrella isn't returned, the fault is ours; if the kiss isn't, it is the lady's.

A New England writer says that it has been found that negroes can be better trusted than white men not to betray secrets. We suppose this is upon the principle that they always "keep dark."

The botanists tell us that there is no such thing in nature as a black flower. We suppose they never heard of the "coal-black Rose."

"Doctor, what do you think is the cause of this frequent rush of blood to my head?" "Oh, it is nothing but an effort of nature. Nature, you know, abhors a vacuum."

"She isn't all that fancy painted her," bitterly exclaimed a rejected lover; "and, worse than that, she isn't all that she paints herself."

He who reels and staggers most in the journey of life, takes the straightest cut to the devil.

One of the very best of earthly possessions is self-possession.

"I REMEMBER," says Lord Bidden, "Mr. Justice Gold trying a case at York, and when he had proceeded for about two hours, he observed: "Here are only eleven jurymen in the box, where is the twelfth?" "Please, you, my lord," said one of the eleven, "he has gone away about some other business, but he has left his verdict with me."

A DOWN EAST editor says he has seen the contrivance lawyers use when they "warm up the subject." He says it is a glass concern, and holds about a pint.

As Pat, an old joker, and a Yankee more sly,
Once riding together a gallows passed by,
Said the Yankee to Pat: "If I don't make too free, Give that gallows its due, pray where would you be?"
"Why, honey," said Pat, "faith that's aizily known, I'd be riding to town by meself, all alone!"

"Do you see anything ridiculous in this wig?" said a brother judge to Curran. "Nothing but the head," he replied.

"I AM rejoiced, my dear wife, to see you in such good health," said Sparks to his wife. "Health?" was the quick retort; "why I have had the plague ever since I was married."

"I AM certain, wife, that I am right and you are wrong; I'll bet my ears on it." "Indeed, husband, you shouldn't carry betting to such extreme lengths."

"WHERE are you going?" asked a little boy of another, who had slipped and fallen down on an icy pavement. "Going to get up!" was the blunt reply.

A TALL, slabsided Yankee who was making his appearance at Cape May last summer, strolled down to the beach during bathing time. On seeing the bevy of beauties disporting in the waves, he burst into a fit of enthusiasm. "Jeru-sa-lem! if that don't jest remind me of something good we have to hum." "What is that?" remarked a friend who heard him. "What is it?" said Jonathan, smacking his lips. "Why, it's 'lasses in water!"

To keep your friends, treat them kindly; to kill them, treat them often.

SHARP.—A humorous fellow was one day subpœnaed as a witness on a trial for an assault. One of the counsel, who was notorious for browbeating witnesses, asked him at what distance he was from the parties when the assault happened. He answered:

"Just four feet five inches and a half."

"How came you to be so exact, fellow?" said the counsel.

"Because I expected some fool or other would ask me, and so I measured it."

REMEDY FOR FITS.—Buy your clothes at a slop-shop, and you will never have a fit afterward.

NEW MARKET RULE.—A wag recently appended to the list of market regulations of Cincinnati, "No whistling near the sausage stalls."

"JIMMY, do you go to school?" "Yes, sir, to the school kept by Miss Post." "Miss Post! not a whipping post, I hope." "O no, sir, she is a guide post!"

AN Irishman being asked, on a late trial, for a certificate of his marriage, took his hat off and exhibited a huge scar, which looked as though it had been made with a fire shovel. The evidence was satisfactory.

A PENNY paper in New York says that a strong-fisted servant girl in that city was recently assaulted by a couple of scoundrels, named John and Elam Mile, and that she flogged them both. We have heard that a miss was as good as a mile, but here was a case in which a miss was as good as two Miles, and a little better.

"STEEL your heart," said a considerate father to his son, "for you are going now among some fascinating girls." "I had much rather steal theirs," said the promising young man.

MAKING AN APOLOGY.—Rudolph says that once upon a time, a colored cook expected company, of her own kind, and was at a loss to entertain her friends. Her mistress said—"Chloe, you must make an apology." "Good Lord! missus, how can I make it? I got no eggs, no butter, nor nothing to make it with."

"I HAVE no apprehension that the devil will ever come for me," said a youth of questionable morals. "He will not be silly enough to take the trouble," said a bystander, "for you are going straight to him."

A CLERGYMAN lately illustrated the necessity of corporeal punishment for the correction of juvenile depravity, with the remark, that "the child, when once started in a course of evil conduct, was like a locomotive on the wrong track—it takes the switch to get it off."

"DOES the razor take hold well?" inquired a darkey, who was shaving a gentleman from the country. "Yes," replied the customer, with tears in his eyes, "it takes hold first rate, but it don't let go worth a cent."

As a man drinks he generally grows reckless; in his case, the more drams the fewer scruples.

A MAN having bought a five dollar handkerchief for his better half, an acquaintance remarked that she must be a "duck of a wife;" to which a bystander added, "or he a goose of a husband."

MRS. SMITHERS says the only way to prevent steamboat explosions is to make the engineers bile their water on shore. In her opinion, all the bustin' is done by cooking the steam on board.

EVERY man ought to have a wife. If a man is happily married, his "rib" is worth all the other bones in his body.

We find in an English paper an account of two murderers who escaped from the custody of the sheriff, and hid themselves in the big gun at Dover. They should, when found, have been discharged at once.

A MODERN tourist calls the Niagara River "the pride of rivers." That pride certainly has a tremendous fall.

"You seem to walk more erect than usual, my friend." "Yes, I have been straightened by circumstances."

"OH, pray let me have my way, this time," said a young gentleman to his lady-love. "Well, Willie, I suppose I must, this once; but you know that after we are married I shall always have a Will of my own."

MRS. SMIKE says the reason children are so bad this generation, is owing to the wearing of gaiter shoes instead of old-fashioned slippers. Mothers find it too much trouble to untie gaiters to whip children, so they go unpunished; but when she was a child, the way the slipper used to do its duty was a caution to snakes.

FREE HOMESTEADS.

ACTION OF CONGRESS ON THE PUBLIC LANDS.

In The Tribune Almanac for 1860, we presented a brief and concise history of the action of the Federal Legislature, up to the close of the XXXVth Congress, on the great question of granting to each landless citizen who might see fit to settle on the public domain, a free homestead. That record clearly discloses the fact that the Republican and Democratic parties—the one representing the interests of the free labor of the whole country, and the other the pretensions of the Slave masters of the South—have come to a distinct issue upon this all-important question. The subsequent action of both the Legislative and Executive branches of the national Government, during the First Session of the XXXVIth Congress, fully confirms this view of the case; hence, that action becomes a matter of so much public interest, as to justify a continuance of the record.

In the House of Representatives, on the 6th of March, 1860, Mr. Lovejoy, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported the following bill (previously introduced by Mr. Grow), which was read twice, and committed to the Committee of the Whole.

A BILL TO SECURE HOMESTEADS TO ACTUAL SETTLERS ON THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person who is the head of a family, or who has arrived at the age of twenty-one years, and is a citizen of the United States, or who shall have filed his intention to become such, as required by the naturalization laws of the United States, shall, from and after the passage of this act, be entitled to enter, free of cost, one hundred and sixty acres of unappropriated public lands, upon which said person may have filed a preëmption claim, or which may, at the time the application is made, be subject to preëmption at one dollar and twenty-five cents, or less, per acre; or eighty acres of such unappropriated lands, at two dollars and fifty cents per acre: to be located in a body, in conformity to the legal subdivisions of the public lands, and after the same shall have been surveyed.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the person applying for the benefit of this act shall, upon application to the register of the land office in which he or she is about to make such entry, make affidavit before the said register or receiver that he or she is the head of a family, or is twenty-one years or more of age, and that such application is made for his or her exclusive use and benefit, and those specially mentioned in this act, and not, either directly or indirectly, for the use or benefit of any other person or persons whomsoever; and upon filing the affidavit with the register or receiver, he or she shall thereupon be permitted to enter the quantity of land specified: Provided, however, That no certificate shall be given or patent issued therefor until the expiration of five years from the date of such entry; and if, at the expiration of such time, or at any time within two years thereafter, the person making such entry—or if he be dead, his widow; or, in case of her death, his heirs or devisee; or, in case of a widow making such entry, her heirs or devisee, in case of her death—shall prove by two credible witnesses that he, she, or they have resided upon and cultivated the same for the term of five years immediately succeeding the time of filing the affidavit aforesaid; then, in such case, he, she, or they, if at that time a citizen of the United States, shall, on payment of ten dollars, be entitled to a patent, as in other cases provided for by law: And provided further, That in case of the death of both father and mother, leaving an infant child, or children, under twenty-one years of age, the right and fee shall inure to the benefit of said infant child, or children; and the executor, administrator, or guardian may, at any time within two years after the death of the surviving parent, and in accordance with the laws of the State in which such children for the time being have their domicil, sell said land for the benefit of said infants, but for no other purpose; and the purchaser shall acquire the absolute title by the purchase, and be entitled to a patent from the United States, on payment of the office fees and sum of money herein specified.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the register of the land office shall note all such applications on the tract-books and plats of his office, and keep a register of all such entries, and make return thereof to the General Land Office, together with the proof upon which they have been founded.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all lands acquired under the provisions of this act shall in no event become liable to the satisfaction of any debt or debts contracted prior to the issuing of the patent therefor.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That if, at any time after the filing of the affidavit, as required in the second section of this act, and before the expiration of the five years aforesaid, it shall be proven, after due notice to the settler, to the satisfaction of the register of the land office, that the person having filed such affidavit shall have actually changed his or her residence, or abandoned the said entry for more than six months at any time, then, and in that event, the land so entered shall revert to the government.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That no individual shall be permitted to make more than one entry under the provisions of this act; and that the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby required to prepare and issue such rules and regulations, consistent with this act, as shall be necessary and proper to carry its provisions into effect; and that the registers and receivers of the several land offices shall be entitled to receive the same compensation for any lands entered under the provisions of this act that they are now entitled to receive when the same quantity of land is entered with money, one-half to be paid by the person making the application at the time of so doing, and the other half on the issue of the certificate, by the person to whom it may be issued: Provided, That nothing contained in this act shall be so construed as to impair or interfere in any manner whatever with existing preemption rights: And provided, further, That all persons who may have filed their applications for a preemption right prior to the passage of this act shall be entitled to all the privileges of this act.

Subsequently, a motion was made by Mr. Lovejoy, to reconsider the vote by which the bill had been referred to the Committee of the Whole. On Monday, March 12, Mr. Lovejoy called up this motion, and under the operation of the previous question, it was agreed to, 106 to 67, as follows:

So the motion was reconsidered, and the bill was before the House. Mr. Lovejoy moved that the bill be engrossed and read a third time. Mr. Branch (N. C.) moved to lay the bill on the table. Lost, 62 to 112, the yeas being all from the South, except Mr. Montgomery, Democrat, of Pennsylvania, and the nays all from the North, except Mr. James Craig, Democrat, of Missouri.

So the House refused to lay the bill on the table; and it was read a third time, and passed.

NAYS.—Messrs. Bayard, Bigler, Bragg, Bright, Brown, Chesnut, Clay, Clingman, Davis, Fitch, Fitzpatrick, Green, Gwin, Hammond, Hemphill, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson of Arkansas, Johnson of Tennessee, Lane, Latham, Mason, Nicholson, Polk, Powell, Pugh, Saulsbury, Sebastian, Slidell, Wigfall, and Yulee—31.

Yeas, all Republicans except three Douglas, Rice, and Toombs. Nays, all Democrats.

The Senate, finally, on the 10th May, passed Mr. Johnson's bill, 44 to 8, the Nays being Messrs. Bragg, Clingman, Hamlin, Hunter, Mason, Pearce, Powell, and Toombs. The House refused to concur; the Senate refused to recede, and the result was a protracted conference on the part of Committees of the two Houses, which committees finally came to an agreement, on the 19th June, by the House accepting the Senate bill with slight amendments. On that day, Mr. Schuyler Colfax reported to the House as follows:

Mr. Colfax.—I rise to a question of privilege. I am instructed by the Committee of Conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the Homestead bill, to report that, after twelve meetings of the three different Conferences that have been appointed, they this morning finally agreed. I hold in my hand the report of the Committee, which can be read if any gentleman desires it. But perhaps it would render the report clearer and more intelligible if I should briefly state its leading features. The Senate bill all the members of the House are familiar with. The Conferees upon the part of the House finding, after the most earnest efforts, that it would be utterly impossible for them to induce the Senate to agree to the House bill, have been discussing what changes could be made in the Senate bill, so as to render it acceptable enough for the House to accept, rather than the whole should fail. They have finally agreed upon a report, as follows: In the first place, I will say that the bill, as it passed the Senate, provided that the preemptors now upon the public lands might remain there two years before they should be required to purchase their lands, but should then pay for them at the rate of $1 25 per acre, thus removing them entirely from within the purview of the benefits which would apply to the settlers hereafter upon the public lands. This point the House Conferees refused to accede to, and if persisted in, we should have again reported a disagreement. Finally, however, a compromise was arranged on this point, and to protect the preemptors now on the Government land, which was to be advertised this fall for sale, we changed the Senate bill so as to protect them for at least two years from land sales, and to allow them then to secure their homes at one-half the Government price, namely, sixty-two and a-half cents per acre. I need scarcely add, that, if the Senate could have been induced to give them the benefit of their twenty-five-cent-per-acre provision, we should have insisted on it inflexibly; but what I have stated is the very lowest point that could be obtained. The second change we have made in the Senate bill is in relation to the scope of land coming under the operations of the law. The House bill embraced all the Government land, offered or unoffered, except such as was specially reserved. The Senate bill confined its provisions to land subject to private entry, exclusively. As I have explained on a former occasion, the expression "subject to private entry" means such as are left after the lands have been once regularly brought into market, exposed to public sale, and the speculators have taken such as they see fit to purchase. The difference between these two bills seemed so radical as to be incapable of adjustment; and the scope of farming land covered by the Senate bill was so limited, there being but little, if any, in Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, California, Oregon, and Washington, that the House conferees declined to accept it. But on this, too, we finally effected a compromise. By our report, all the land subject to private entry is included, and, in addition, all the odd-numbered sections of the surveyed public lands, which have not been opened to public sale—a most material and beneficent enlargement of the Senate bill. We were offered, after this agreement, whichever half of the unoffered lands we chose, and we took the odd-numbered sections. The reason for this was, that the 16th section of a township, being reserved for school purposes by our laws, the four adjoining sections to it, on the north, west, east, and south, are sections 9, 15, 17, and 21, all odd-numbered sections, which are thus saved for homestead settlers, who have reserved for them 18 out of the 35 disposable sections in each township of six miles square.

On all these lands, actual settlers, who are heads of families, are allowed, after having occupied the land for five years, to purchase at 25 cents per acre, which is about the average cost price of the public lands to the Government. We struggled, of course, to include all young men over 21 who are not heads of families, and to adopt the Free Homestead principle of the House bill; but on these points the Senate was inflexible, and we took what we did because it was the very best we could get. The Senate bill originally provided that the Homestead settler might acquire title to his land at any time by paying full Government prices; but desiring to promote actual settlement, we now provide that he cannot do this till after he has been on the land six months. When he stays, or his family if he deceases, the full five years, he obtains it at 25 cents per acre. The Senate have also agreed to strike out the eighth section of their bill, which made it imperative upon the President to expose all public lands to sale within two years after they shall have been surveyed, which we held would be peculiarly oppressive upon the pioneers who had gone to the frontier to settle upon the public lands, and to which we could never have consented. Now, Mr. Speaker, I desire to state, in conclusion, that the compromise we have made upon the subject is not in accordance with what I should desire to have passed, if I had the power to frame the bill myself; but it is the very utmost we could obtain from the Senate, as now constituted. The senators who served with us on the Conference have been notified by me, and also by my colleague (Mr. Windom, of Minnesota), that we regard this as but a single step in advance toward a law which we shall demand from the American Congress, enacting a comprehensive and liberal Homestead policy. This we have agreed to as merely an avant courrier. We shall demand it at the next session of Congress, and until it is granted; until all the public lands shall be opened to all the people of the United States; and I state this publicly, that no one shall regard us as estopped hereafter, because we accepted this half-way measure rather than to allow the whole to fail. I should have added that all persons, whether citizens or those who have only declared their intentions, are allowed to go on the lands under this bill; but are required to perfect their naturalization before the five years expire, and the patent issues. I now demand the previous question on concurring on the report of the Committee, and passing the bill as thus amended.

Mr. Farnsworth.—I desire to ask the gentleman from Indiana whether this bill confines its benefits to those who are heads of families?

Mr. Colfax.—It does, because we failed, despite our utmost efforts, in procuring its extension to all; but we shall appeal to the young men to demand of those who make and who execute the laws, that the system inaugurated by this bill, shall be widened so as to admit them to its benefits, and I will join them in this demand.

Mr. Grow.—I just desire to say that we have taken this bill, not because it is what we want, but on the principle that "half a loaf is better than no bread."

The House agreed to the Report of the Committee, 116 to 51, as follows:

The Senate agreed to the report of the Conference Committee, 36 to 2—Messrs. Bragg (N. C.), and Pearce (Md.).

The following is the bill as it was finally reported by the Conference Committee and passed both Houses:

AN ACT to secure Homesteads to actual settlers on the Public Domain, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person who is the head of a family, and a citizen of the United States, shall, from and after the passage of this act, be entitled to enter one quarter-section of vacant and unappropriated public lands, or any less quantity, to be located in a body, in conformity with the legal sub-divisions of the public lands, after the same shall have been surveyed, upon the following conditions: that the person applying for the benefit of this act shall, upon application to the register of the land office in which he or she is about to make such entry, make affidavit before the said register or receiver of said land office that he or she is the head of a family, and is actually settled on the quarter-section, or other subdivision not exceeding a quarter-section, proposed to be entered, and that such application is made for his or her use and benefit, or for the use and benefit of those specially mentioned in this section, and not either directly or indirectly for the use or benefit of any other person or persons whomsoever, and that he or she has never, at any previous time, had the benefit of this act; and upon making the affidavit as above required, and filing the same with the register, he or she shall thereupon be permitted to enter the quantity of land already specified: Provided, however, That no final certificate shall be given, or patent issued therefor, until the expiration of five years from the date of such entry; and if, at the expiration of such time, the person making such entry, or, if he be dead, his widow, or, in case of her death, his child or children, or in case of a widow making such entry, her child or children, in case of her death, shall prove by two credible witnesses, that he, she, or they—that is to say, some member or members of the same family—has or have erected a dwelling-house upon said land, and continued to reside upon and cultivate the same for the term of five years, and still reside upon the same (and that neither the said land or any part thereof has been alienated); then, in such case, he, she, or they, upon the payment of 25 cents per acre for the quantity entered, shall be entitled to a patent, as in other cases provided by law: And provided further, In case of the death of both father and mother, leaving a minor child or children, the right and the fee shall inure to the benefit of said minor child or children, and the guardian shall be authorized to perfect the entry for the beneficiaries, as if there had been a continued residence of the settler for five years. Provided that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to embrace or in any way include any quarter-section or fractional quarter-section of land upon which any pre-emption right has been acquired prior to the passage of this act. And provided further, That all entries made under the provisions of this section, upon lands which have not been offered for public sale, shall be confined to and upon sections designated by odd numbers.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the register of the Land Office shall note all such applications on the tract books and plats of his office, and keep a register of all such entries, and make return thereof to the General Land Office, together with the proof upon which they have been founded.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That no land acquired under the provisions of this act shall, in any event, become liable to the satisfaction of any debt or debts until after the issuing of the patent therefor.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That if, at any time after filing the affidavit, as required in the first section of this act, and before the expiration of the five years aforesaid, it shall be proved, after due notice to the settler, to the satisfaction of the register of the Land Office, that the person having filed such affidavit shall have sworn falsely in any particular, or shall have voluntarily abandoned the possession and cultivation of the said land for more than six months at any time, or sold his right under the entry, then, and in either of those events, the register shall cancel the entry, and the land so entered shall revert to the Government, and be disposed of as other public lands are now by law, subject to an appeal to the Secretary of the Interior. And in no case shall any land, the entry whereof shall have been cancelled, again be subject to occupation, or entry, or purchase, until the same shall have been reported to the General Land Office, and, by the direction of the President of the United States, again advertised and offered at public sale.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That if any person, now or hereafter a resident of any one of the States or Territories, and not a citizen of the United States, but who at the time of making such application for the benefit of this act, shall have filed a declaration of intention, as required by the naturalization laws of the United States, and shall have become a citizen of the same before the issuing of the patent as provided for in this act, such person shall be entitled to all the rights conferred by this act.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That no individual shall be permitted to enter more than one quarter-section or fractional quarter-section, and that in a compact body; but entries may be made at different times, under the provisions of this act; and that the Secretary of the Interior is hereby required to prepare and issue, from time to time, such rules and regulations, consistent with this act, as shall be necessary and proper to carry its provisions into effect; and that the registers and receivers of the several land offices shall be entitled to receive, upon the filing of the first affidavit, the sum of fifty cents each, and a like sum upon the issuing of the final certificate. But this shall not be construed to enlarge the maximum of compensation now prescribed by law for any register or receiver: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to impair the existing preëmption, donation, or graduation laws, or to embrace lands which have been reserved to be sold or entered at the price of $2 50 per acre; but no entry under said graduation act, shall be allowed until after proof of actual settlement and cultivation or occupancy for at least three months, as provided for in Sec. 3 of the said act.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That each actual settler upon lands of the United States, which have not been offered at public sale, upon filing his declaration or claim, as now required by law, shall be entitled to two years from the commencement of his occupation or settlement; or, if the lands have not been surveyed, two years from the receipt of the approved plat of such lands at the District Land Office, within which to complete the proofs of his said claim, and to enter and pay for the land so claimed, at minimum price of such lands; and where such settlements have already been made in good faith, the claimant shall be entitled to the said period of two years from and after the date of this act; Provided, That no claim of preëmption shall be allowed for more than 160 acres, or one quarter-section of land, nor shall any such claim be admitted under the provisions of this act, unless there shall have been at least three months of actual and continuous residence upon and cultivation of the land so claimed from the date of settlement, no proof thereof made according to law; Provided further, That any claimant under the preëmption laws may take less than 160 acres by legal subdivisions; Provided further, that all persons who are preëmptors, on the date of this act, shall, upon the payment to the proper authority of 62½ cents per acre, if paid within two years from the passage of this act, be entitled to a patent from the Government, as now provided by the existing preëmption laws.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That the 5th section of the act entitled "An act in addition to an act more effectually to provide for the punishment of certain crimes against the United States, and for other purposes," approved the 3d of March, in the year 1857, shall extend to all oaths, affirmations, and affidavits required or authorized by this act.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent any person who has availed him or herself of the benefit of the first section of this act from paying the minimum price, or the price to which the same may have graduated, for the quantity of land so entered at any time after an actual settlement of six months, and before the expiration of the five years, and obtaining a patent therefor from the Government, as in other cases provided by law.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That all lands lying within the limits of a State which have been subject to sale at private entry, and which remain unsold after the lapse of thirty years, shall be, and the same are hereby, ceded to the State in which the same may be situated: Provided, That cessions shall in no way invalidate any inceptive preëmption right or location, or any entry under this act, nor any sale or sales which may be made by the United States before the lands hereby ceded shall be certified to the State, as they are hereby required to be, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior. And provided further, That no cessions shall take effect until after the States, by legislative act, shall have assented to the same.

On the 23d, the President returned the bill to the Senate with his veto, as follows:

THE HOMESTEAD BILL.

VETO MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT.

To the Senate of the United States.

I return, with my objections, to the Senate, in which it originated, the bill entitled "An act to secure Homesteads to actual settlers on the public domain, and for other purposes," presented to me on the 20th instant.

This bill gives to every citizen of the United States, "who is the head of a family," and to every person of foreign birth residing in the country, who has declared his intention to become a citizen, though he may not be the head of a family, the privilege of appropriating to himself one hundred and sixty acres of Government land, of settling and residing upon it for five years; and should his residence continue until the end of this period, he shall then receive a patent on the payment of twenty-five cents per acre, or one-fifth of the present Government price. During this period, the land is protected from all debts of the settler.

This bill also contains a cession to the States of all the public lands within their respective limits "which have been subject to sale at private entry, and which remain unsold after the lapse of thirty years." This provision embraces a present donation to the States of twelve millions two hundred and twenty-nine thousand seven hundred and thirty-one acres, and will, from time to time, transfer to them large bodies of such lands which, from peculiar circumstances, may not be absorbed by private purchase and settlement.

To the actual settler, this bill does not make an absolute donation; but the price is so small that it can scarcely be called a sale. It is nominally twenty-five cents per acre; but considering this is not to be paid until the end of five years, it is, in fact, reduced to about eighteen cents per acre, or one-seventh of the present minimum price of the public lands. In regard to the States, it is an absolute and unqualified gift.

I. This state of the facts raises the question whether Congress, under the Constitution, has the power to give away the public lands, either to States or individuals. On this question I expressed a decided opinion in my message to the House of Representatives, of the 24th February, 1859, returning the agricultural college bill. This opinion remains unchanged. The argument then used applies, as a constitutional objection, with the greater force to the present bill. There it had the plea of consideration, growing out of a specific beneficial purpose; here, it is an absolute gratuity to the State without the pretext of consideration. I am compelled, for want of time, in these last hours of the session, to quote largely from this message.

I presume the general proposition will be admitted that Congress does not possess the power to make donations of money, already in the Treasury, raised by taxes on the people, either to States or individuals.

But it is contended that the public lands are placed upon a different footing from money raised by taxation, and that the proceeds arising from their sale are not subject to the limitations of the Constitution, but may be appropriated or given away by Congress, at its own discretion, to States, corporations, or individuals, for any purpose they may deem expedient.

The advocates of this bill attempt to sustain their position upon the language of the second clause of the third section of the fourth article of the Constitution, which declares that "the Congress shall have power to dispose of, and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory and other property belonging to the United States." They contend that, by a fair interpretation of the words "dispose of" in this clause, Congress possesses the power to make this gift of public lands to the States for purposes of education.

It would require clear and strong evidence to induce the belief that the framers of the Constitution, after having limited the powers of Congress to certain precise and specific objects, intended, by employing the words "dispose of," to give that body unlimited power over the vast public domain. It would be a strange anomaly, indeed, to have created two funds, the one by taxation, confined to the execution of the enumerated powers delegated to Congress, and the other from the public lands, applicable to all subjects, foreign and domestic, which Congress might designate. That this fund should be "disposed of," not to pay the debts of the United States, nor "to raise and support armies," nor "to provide and maintain a navy," nor to accomplish any one of the other great objects enumerated in the Constitution, but be diverted from them to pay the debts of the States, to educate their people, and to carry into effect any other measure of their domestic policy—this would be to confer upon Congress a vast and irresponsible authority, utterly at war with the well-known jealousy of the Federal power which prevailed at the formation of the Constitution. The natural intendment would be that, as the Constitution confined Congress to well-defined specific powers, the funds placed at their command, whether in land or money, should be appropriated to the performance of the duties corresponding with these powers. If not, a Government has been created, with all its other powers carefully limited, but without any limitation in respect to the public lands.

But I cannot so read the words "disposed of" as to make them embrace the idea of "giving away." The true meaning of words is always to be ascertained by the subject to which they are applied, and the known general intent of the lawgiver. Congress is trustee under the Constitution for the people of the United States to "dispose of" their public lands, and I think I may venture to assert with confidence that no case can be found in which a trustee in the position of Congress has been authorized to "dispose of" property by its owner, where it has ever been held that these words authorized such trustee to give away the fund intrusted to his care. No trustee, when called upon to account for the disposition of the property placed under his management before any judicial tribunal, would venture to present such a plea in his defense. The true meaning of these words is clearly stated by Chief Justice Taney in delivering the opinion of the Court (19 Howard, p. 436). He says, in reference to this clause of the Constitution, "It begins its enumeration of powers by that of disposing; in other words, making sale of the lands, or raising money from them, which, as we have already said, was the main object of the cession (from the States), and which is the first thing provided for in the article." It is unnecessary to refer to the history of the times to establish the known fact that this statement of the Chief Justice is perfectly well founded. That it never was intended by the framers of the Constitution that these lands should be given away by Congress is manifest from the concluding portion of the same clause. By it, Congress has power not only "to dispose of" the territory, but of the "other property of the United States." In the language of the Chief Justice (p. 437), "And the same power of making needful rules respecting the territory is in precisely the same language applied to the other property of the United States, associating the power over the territory, in this respect, with the power over movable or personal property—that is, the ships, arms, or munitions of war, which then belonged in common to the State sovereignties."

The question is still clearer in regard to the public lands in the States and Territories within the Louisiana and Florida purchases. These lands were paid for out of the public Treasury from money raised by taxation. Now, if Congress had no power to appropriate the money with which these lands were purchased, is it not clear that the power over the lands is equally limited? The mere conversion of this money into land could not confer upon Congress new power over the disposition of land which they had not possessed over money. If it could, then a trustee, by changing the character of the fund intrusted to his care for special objects from money into land, might give the land away, or devote it to any purpose he thought proper, however foreign from the trust. The inference is irresistible that this land partakes of the very same character with the money paid for it, and can be devoted to no objects different from those to which the money could have been devoted. If this were not the case, then, by the purchase of a new Territory from a foreign government out of the public Treasury, Congress could enlarge their own powers, and appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the land thus purchased, at their own discretion, to other and far different objects from what they could have applied the purchase money which had been raised by taxation.

II. It will prove unequal and unjust in its operation among the actual settlers themselves.

The first settlers of a new country are a most meritorious class. They brave the dangers of savage warfare, suffer the privations of a frontier life, and, with the hand of toil, bring the wilderness into cultivation. The "old settlers," as they are everywhere called, are public benefactors. This class have all paid for their lands the government price, or $1 25 per acre. They have constructed roads, established schools, and laid the foundation of prosperous Commonwealths. Is it just, is it equal, that after they have accomplished all this by their labor, new settlers should come in among them and receive their farms at the price of twenty-five or eighteen cents per acre? Surely the old settlers, as a class, are entitled to at least equal benefits with the new. If you give the new settlers their lands for a comparatively nominal price, upon every principle of equality and justice, you will be obliged to refund out of the common Treasury the difference which the old have paid above the new settlers for their land.

III. This bill will do great injustice to the old soldiers who have received land warrants for their services in fighting the battles of their country. It will greatly reduce the market value of these warrants. Already their value has sunk, for one hundred and sixty acre warrants, to sixty-seven cents per acre, under an apprehension that such a measure as this might become a law. What price would they command when any head of a family may take possession of a quarter-section of land, and not pay for it until the end of five years, and then at the rate of only twenty-five cents per acre? The magnitude of the interest to be affected will appear in the fact that there are outstanding unsatisfied land-warrants reaching back to the last war with Great Britain, and even Revolutionary times, amounting in round numbers, to seven and a half millions of acres.

IV. This bill will prove unequal and unjust in its operations, because, from its nature, it is confined to one class of our people. It is a boon expressly conferred upon the cultivators of the soil. While it is cheerfully admitted that these are the most numerous and useful class of our fellow-citizens, and eminently deserve all the advantages which our laws have already extended to them, yet there should be no new legislation which would operate to the injury or embarrassment of the large body of respectable artisans and laborers. The mechanic who emigrates to the West, and pursues his calling, must labor long before he can purchase a quarter-section of land; while the tiller of the soil, who accompanies him, obtains a farm at once by the bounty of the Government. The numerous body of mechanics in our large cities cannot, even by emigrating to the West, take advantage of the provisions of this bill without entering upon a new occupation, for which their habits of life have rendered them unfit.

V. This bill is unjust to the old States of the Union in many respects; and among these States, so far as the public lands are concerned, we may enumerate every State east of the Mississippi, with the exception of Wisconsin and a portion of Minnesota.

It is a common belief, within their limits, that the older States of the Confederacy do not derive their proportionate benefit from the public lands. This is not a just opinion. It is doubtful whether they could be rendered more beneficial to these States under any other system than that which at present exists. Their proceeds go into the common Treasury to accomplish the objects of the Government, and in this manner all the States are benefited in just proportion. But to give this common inheritance away would deprive the old States of their just proportion of this revenue, without holding out any, the least, corresponding advantage. While it is our common glory that the new States have become so prosperous and populous, there is no good reason why the old States should offer premiums to their own citizens, to emigrate from them to the West. That land of promise presents in itself sufficient allurements to our young and enterprising citizens, without any adventitious aid. The offer of free farms would probably have a powerful effect in encouraging emigration, especially from States like Illinois, Tennessee, and Kentucky, to the west of the Mississippi, and could not fail to reduce the price of property within their limits. An individual in States thus situated would not pay its fair value for land when, by crossing the Mississippi, he could go upon the public lands, and obtain a farm almost without money and without price.

VI. This bill will open one vast field for speculation. Men will not pay $1 25 for lands, when they can purchase them for one-fifth of that price. Large numbers of actual settlers will be carried out by capitalists upon agreements to give them half of the land for the improvement of the other half. This cannot be avoided. Secret agreements of this kind will be numerous. In the entry of graduated lands, the experience of the Land Office justifies this objection.

VII. We ought ever to maintain the most perfect equality between native and naturalized citizens. They are equal, and ought always to remain equal, before the laws. Our laws welcome foreigners to our shores, and their rights will ever be respected. While these are the sentiments on which I have acted through life, it is not, in my opinion, expedient to proclaim to all the nations of the earth that whoever shall arrive in this country from a foreign shore, and declare his intention to become a citizen, shall receive a farm of 160 acres, at a cost of 25 or 20 cents per acre, if he will only reside on it and cultivate it. The invitation extends to all; and if this bill becomes a law, we may have numerous actual settlers from China, and other eastern nations, enjoying its benefits on the great Pacific slope. The bill makes a distinction in favor of such persons over native and naturalized citizens. When applied to such citizens, it is confined to such as are the heads of families; but when applicable to persons of foreign birth recently arrived on our shores, there is no such restriction. Such persons need not be the heads of families, provided they have filed a declaration of intention to become citizens. Perhaps this distinction was an inadvertence; but it is, nevertheless, a part of the bill.

VIII. The bill creates an unjust distinction between persons claiming the benefit of the preëmption laws. While it reduces the price of the land to existing preëmptors to 62½ cents per acre, and gives them a credit on this sum for two years from the present date, no matter how long they may have hitherto enjoyed the land, future preëmptors will be compelled to pay double this price per acre. There is no reason or justice in this discrimination.

IX. The effect of this bill on the public revenue must be apparent to all. Should it become a law, the reduction of the price of land to actual settlers to 25 cents per acre with a credit of five years, and the reduction of its price to existing preëmptors to 62½ cents per acre, with a credit of two years, will so diminish the sale of other public lands as to render the expectation of future revenue from that source, beyond the expenses of survey and management, illusory. The Secretary of the Interior estimated the revenue from the public lands for the next fiscal year at $4,000,000, on the presumption that the present land system would remain unchanged. Should this bill become a law, he does not believe that $1,000,000 will be derived from this source.

This bill lays the ax at the root of our present admirable land system. The public land is an inheritance of vast value to us and to our descendants. It is a resource to which we can resort in the hour of difficulty and danger. It has been managed heretofore with the greatest wisdom, under existing laws. In this management, the rights of actual settlers have been conciliated with the interests of the Government. The price to all has been reduced from $2 per acre to $1 25 for fresh lands, and the claims of actual settlers have been secured by our preëmption laws. Any man can now acquire a title in fee-simple to a homestead of 80 acres, at the minimum price of $1 25 per acre, for $100. Should the present system remain, we shall derive a revenue from the public lands of $10,000,000 per annum, when the bounty land warrants are satisfied, without oppression to any human being. In the time of war, when all other sources of revenue are seriously impaired, this will remain intact. It may become the best security for public loans hereafter, in times of difficulty and danger, as it has been heretofore. Why should we impair or destroy this system at the present moment? What necessity exists for it?

The people of the United States have advanced with steady but rapid strides to their present condition of power and prosperity. They have been guided in their progress by the fixed principle of protecting the equal rights of all, whether they be rich or poor. No agrarian sentiment has ever prevailed among them. The honest poor man, by frugality and industry can, in any part of our country, acquire a competence for himself and his family, and in doing this he feels that he eats the bread of independence. He desires no charity, either from the government or from his neighbors. This bill, which proposes to give him land at an almost nominal price, out of the property of the government, will go far to demoralize the people, and repress this noble spirit of independence. It may introduce among us those pernicious social theories which have proved so disastrous in other countries.

JAMES BUCHANAN.

WASHINGTON, June 22, 1860.

In the Senate, the question, Shall this bill pass notwithstanding the objections of the President? was put and lost, as follows:

YEAS.—Messrs. Anthony, Brown, Chandler, Clark, Doolittle, Durkee, Fessenden, Fitch, Foot, Foster, Gwin, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, King, Lane, Latham, Nicholson, Polk, Pugh, Rice, Simmons, Sumner, Ten Eyck, Trumbull, Wade, Wilkinson, and Wilson.

Republicans in Roman, 19; Democrats in Italics, 9. Total, 28.

NAYS.—Messrs. Bragg, Chesnut, CRITTENDEN, Davis, Fitzpatrick, Green, Hemphill, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson (Tenn.), Johnson (Ark.), Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Powell, Sebastian, Wigfall, Yulee—18.

All from the South, and all Democrats, except Mr. Crittenden (Am.), of Kentucky. Several senators were paired, which accounts for the light vote. So the bill failed, not having received the requisite two-thirds vote necessary to pass it over the Executive Veto.

A CELEBRATED geologist, Member of the Academy of Sciences, was lately travelling in the south of France. On his return from a long pedestrian excursion, he could get nothing in the miserable inn where he lodged (it was the St. Charles of the village) but a meagre omelet, and over-dosed with garlic, at that.

"Great heavens, madam!" said he to the hostess, "why did you put so much garlic in this omelet?" "Good me, sir, the eggs were so bad!"

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL PLATFORM

ADOPTED AT CHICAGO, 1860.

Resolved, That we, the delegated representatives of the Republican electors of the United States, in Convention assembled, in discharge of the duty we owe to our constituents and our country, unite in the following declarations:

1. That the history of the nation, during the last four years, has fully established the propriety and necessity of the organization and perpetuation of the Republican party, and that the causes which called it into existence are permanent in their nature, and now, more than ever before, demand its peaceful and constitutional triumph.

2. That the maintenance of the principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and embodied in the Federal Constitution, "That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed," is essential to the preservation of our Republican institutions; and that the Federal Constitution, the Rights of the States, and the Union of the States, must and shall be preserved.

8. That to the Union of the States this nation owes its unprecedented increase in population, its surprising development of material resources, its rapid augmentation of wealth, its happiness at home and its honor abroad; and we hold in abhorrence all schemes for Disunion, come from whatever source they may: And we congratulate the country that no Republican member of Congress has uttered or countenanced the threats of Disunion so often made by Democratic members, without rebuke and with applause from their political associates; and we denounce those threats of Disunion, in case of a popular overthrow of their ascendency, as denying the vital principles of a free government, and as an avowal of contemplated treason, which it is the imperative duty of an indignant People sternly to rebuke and forever silence.

4. That the maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially the right of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of powers on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends; and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any State or Territory, no matter under what pretext, as among the gravest of crimes.

5. That the present Democratic Administration has far exceeded our worst apprehensions, in its measureless subserviency to the exactions of a sectional interest, as especially evinced in its desperate exertions to force the infamous Lecompton Constitution upon the protesting people of Kansas; in construing the personal relation between master and servant to involve an unqualified property in persons; in its attempted enforcement, everywhere, on land and sea, through the intervention of Congress and of the Federal Courts of the extreme pretensions of a purely local interest; and in its general and unvarying abuse of the power intrusted to it by a confiding people.

6. That the people justly view with alarm the reckless extravagance which pervades every department of the Federal Government; that a return to rigid economy and accountability is indispensable to arrest the systematic plunder of the public treasury by favored partisans, while the recent startling developments of frauds and corruptions at the Federal metropolis, show that an entire change of administration is imperatively demanded.

7. That the new dogma, that the Constitution, of its own force, carries Slavery into any or all of the Territories of the United States, is a dangerous political heresy, at variance with the explicit provisions of that instrument itself, with contemporaneous exposition, and with legislative and judicial precedent; is revolutionary in its tendency, and subversive of the peace and harmony of the country.

8. That the normal condition of all the territory of the United States is that of freedom; That as our Republican fathers, when they had abolished Slavery in all our national territory, ordained that "no person should be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law," it becomes our duty, by legislation, whenever such legislation is necessary, to maintain this provision of the Constitution against all attempts to violate it; and we deny the authority of Congress, of a territorial legislature, or of any individuals, to give legal existence to Slavery in any Territory of the United States.

9. That we brand the recent re-opening of the African slave-trade, under the cover of our national flag, aided by perversions of judicial power, as a crime against humanity and a burning shame to our country and age; and we call upon Congress to take prompt and efficient measures for the total and final suppression of that execrable traffic.

10. That in the recent vetoes, by their Federal Governors, of the acts of the Legislatures of Kansas and Nebraska, prohibiting Slavery in those Territories, we find a practical illustration of the boasted Democratic principle of Non-Intervention and Popular Sovereignty, embodied in the Kansas-Nebraska bill, and a demonstration of the deception and fraud involved therein.

11. That Kansas should, of right, be immediately admitted as a State under the Constitution recently formed and adopted by her people, and accepted by the House of Representatives.

12. That, while providing revenue for the support of the General Government by duties upon imports, sound policy requires such an adjustment of these imposts as to encourage the development of the industrial interest of the whole country; and we commend that policy of national exchanges which secures to the working men liberal wages, to agriculture remunerative prices, to mechanics and manufactures an adequate reward for their skill, labor, and enterprise, and to the nation commercial prosperity and independence.

13. That we protest against any sale or alienation to others of the Public Lands held by actual settlers, and against any view of the Homestead policy which regards the settlers as paupers or suppliants for public bounty; and we demand the passage by Congress of the complete and satisfactory Homestead measure which has already passed the House.

14. That the Republican Party is opposed to any change in our Naturalization Laws or any State legislation by which the rights of citizenship hitherto accorded to immigrants from foreign lands shall be abridged or impaired; and in favor of giving a full and efficient protection to the rights of all classes of citizens, whether native or naturalized, both at home and abroad.

15. That appropriations by Congress for River and Harbor improvements of a National character, required for the accommodation and security of an existing commerce, are authorized by the Constitution, and justified by the obligations of Government to protect the lives and property of its citizens.

16. That a Railroad to the Pacific Ocean is imperatively demanded by the interest of the whole country; that the Federal Government ought to render immediate and efficient aid in its construction; and that, as preliminary thereto, a daily Overland Mail should be promptly established.

17. Finally, having thus set forth our distinctive principles and views, we invite the coöperation of all citizens, however differing on other questions, who substantially agree with us in their affirmance and support.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC (DOUGLAS) PLATFORM,

ADOPTED AT CHARLESTON AND BALTIMORE, 1860.

1. Resolved, That we, the Democracy of the Union, in Convention assembled, hereby declare our affirmance of the resolutions unanimously adopted and declared as a platform of principles by the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati, in the year 1856, believing that Democratic principles are unchangeable in their nature, when applied to the same subject matters; and we recommend, as the only further resolutions, the following:

Inasmuch as differences of opinion exist in the Democratic party as to the nature and extent of the Powers of a Territorial Legislature, and as to the powers and duties of Congress, under the Constitution of the United States, over the institution of Slavery within the Territories:

2. Resolved, That the Democratic party will abide by the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States on the questions of Constitutional law.

3. Resolved, That it is the duty of the United States to afford ample and complete protection to all its citizens, whether at home or abroad, and whether native or foreign.

4. Resolved, That one of the necessities of the age, in a military, commercial, and postal point of view, is speedy communication between the Atlantic and Pacific States; and the Democratic party pledge such Constitutional Government aid as will insure the construction of a Railroad to the Pacific coast, at the earliest practicable period.

5. Resolved, That the Democratic party are in favor of the acquisition of the island of Cuba, on such terms as shall be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain.

6. Resolved, That the enactments of State Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave Law, are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution, and revolutionary in their effect.

7. Resolved, That it is in accordance with the true interpretation of the Cincinnati Platform, that, during the existence of the Territorial Governments, the measure of restriction, whatever it may be, imposed by the Federal Constitution on the power of the Territorial Legislature over the subject of the domestic relations, as the same has been, or shall hereafter be, finally determined by the Supreme Court of the United States, shall be respected by all good citizens, and enforced with promptness and fidelity by every branch of the General Government.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC (BRECKINRIDGE) PLATFORM,

ADOPTED AT CHARLESTON AND BALTIMORE, 1860.

Resolved, That the Platform adopted by the Democratic party at Cincinnati be affirmed, with the following explanatory Resolutions:

1. That the Government of a Territory organized by an act of Congress, is provisional and temporary; and during its existence, all citizens of the United States have an equal right to settle with their property in the Territory, without their rights, either of person or property, being destroyed or impaired by Congressional or Territorial legislation.

2. That it is the duty of the Federal Government, in all its departments, to protect, when necessary, the rights of persons and property in the Territories, and wherever else its Constitutional authority extends.

3. That when the settlers in a Territory having an adequate population, form a State Constitution, in pursuance of law, the right of sovereignty commences, and, being consummated by admission into the Union, they stand on an equal footing with the people of other States; and the State thus organized ought to be admitted into the Federal Union, whether its Constitution prohibits or recognizes the institution of Slavery.

4. That the Democratic party are in favor of the acquisition of the island of Cuba, on such terms as shall be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain, at the earliest practicable moment.

5. That the enactments of State Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave Law are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution, and revolutionary in their effect.

6. That the democracy of the United States recognize it as the imperative duty of this Government to protect the naturalized citizen in all his rights, whether at home or in foreign lands, to the same exent as its native-born citizens.

Whereas, one of the greatest necessities of the age in a Political, Commercial, Postal, and Military point of view, is a speedy communication between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Democratic party do hereby pledge themselves to use every means in their power to secure the passage of some bill to the extent of the Constitutional authority of Congress for the Construction of a Pacific Railroad from the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean, at the earliest practicable moment.

As both the Douglas and Breckinridge Conventions readopted the Democratic Platform of 1856, the republication of that Document seems necessary to an understanding of the present position of the "National Democracy."

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM,

ADOPTED AT CINCINNATI, JUNE 6, 1856.

Resolved, That the American Democracy place their trust in the intelligence, the patriotism, and the discriminating justice of the American people.

Resolved, That we regard this as a distinctive feature of our political creed, which we are proud to maintain before the world as a great moral element in a form of government springing from and upheld by the popular will; and we contrast it with the creed and practice of Federalism, under whatever name or form, which seeks to palsy the will of the constituent, and which conceives no imposture too monstrous for the popular credulity.

Resolved, therefore, That, entertaining these views, the Democratic party of this Union, through their delegates, assembled in general convention, coming together in a spirit of concord, of devotion to the doctrines and faith of a free representative government, and appealing to their fellow-citizens for the rectitude of their intentions, renew and reassert before the American people, the declarations of principles avowed by them, when, on former occasions, in general convention, they have presented their candidates for the popular suffrage.

1. That the Federal Government is one of limited power, derived solely from the Constitution, and the grants of power made therein ought to be strictly construed by all the departments and agents of the Govcrnment, and that it is inexpedient and dangerous to exercise doubtful constitutional powers.

2. That the Constitution does not confer upon the General Government the power to commence and carry on a general system of internal improvements.

3. That the Constitution does not confer authority upon the Federal Government, directly or indirectly, to assume the debts of the several States, contracted for local and internal improvements, or other State purposes, nor would such assumption be just or expedient.

4. That justice and sound policy forbid the Federal Government to foster one branch of industry to the detriment of another, or to cherish the interests of one portion of our common country to the detriment of another; that every citizen and every section of the country has a right to demand and insist upon an equality of rights and privileges, and a complete and ample protection of persons and property from domestic violence and foreign aggression.

5. That it is the duty of every branch of the Government to enforce and practice the most rigid economy in conducting our public affairs, and that no more revenue ought to be raised than is required to defray the necessary expenses of the Government, and provide for the gradual but certain extinction of the public debt.

6. That the proceeds of the public lands ought to be sacredly applied to the national objects specified in the Constitution, and that we are opposed to any law for the distribution of such proceeds among the States, as alike inexpedient in policy, and repugnant to the Constitution.

7. That Congress has no power to charter a National Bank; that we believe such an institution one of deadly hostility to the best interests of this country, dangerous to our republican institutions and the liberties of the people, and calculated to place the business of the country within the control of a concentrated money power, and above the laws and will of the people; and the results of the Democratic legislation in this and all other financial measures upon which issues have been made between the two political parties of the country, have demonstrated to candid and practical men of all parties their soundness, safety and utility in all business pursuits.

8. That the separation of the moneys of the Government from banking institutions is indispensable to the safety of the funds of the Government and the rights of the people.

9. That we are decidedly opposed to taking from the President the qualified veto power, by which he is enabled, under restrictions and responsibilities amply sufficient to guard the public interest, to suspend the passage of a bill whose merits cannot secure the approval of two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, until the judgment of the people can be obtained thereon, and which has saved the American people from the corrupt and tyrannical dominion of the Bank of the United States, and from a corrupting system of general internal improvements.

10. That the liberal principles embodied by Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence, and sanctioned in the Constitution, which makes ours the land of liberty and the asylum of the oppressed of every nation, have ever been cardinal principles in the Democratic faith; and every attempt to abridge the privilege of becoming citizens and the owners of soil among us ought to be resisted with the same spirit which swept the alien and sedition laws from our statute books.

And whereas, Since the foregoing declaration was uniformly adopted by our predecessors in national conventions, an adverse political and religious test has been secretly organized by a party claiming to be exclusively Americans, and it is proper that the American Democracy should clearly define its relations thereto; and declare its determined opposition to all secret political societies, by whatever name they may be called.

Resolved, That the foundation of this Union of States having been laid in, and its prosperity, expansion and preëminent example in free government, built upon entire freedom in matters of religious concernment, and no respect of persons in regard to rank, or place of birth, no party can justly be deemed national, constitutional, or in accordance with American principles, which bases its exclusive organization upon religious opinions and accidental birthplace. And hence a political crusade in the nineteenth century, and in the United States of America, against Catholics and foreign-born, is neither justified by the past history or future prospects of the country, nor in unison with the spirit of toleration and enlightened freedom, which peculiarly distinguishes the American system of popular government.

Resolved, That we reiterate with renewed energy of purpose the well considered declarations of former conventions upon the sectional issue of domestic slavery, and concerning the reserved rights of the States—

1. That Congress has no power under the Constitution to interfere with or control the domestic institutions of the several States, and that all such States are the sole and proper judges of everything appertaining to their own affairs not prohibited by the Constitution; that all efforts of the abolitionists or others made to induce Congress to interfere with questions of Slavery, or to take incipient steps in relation thereto, are calculated to lead to the most alarming and dangerous consequences, and that all such efforts have an inevitable tendency to diminish the happiness of the people, and endanger the stability and permanency of the Union, and ought not to be countenanced by any friend of our political institutions.

2. That the foregoing proposition covers and was intended to embrace the whole subject of Slavery agitation in Congress, and therefore the Democratic party of the Union, standing on this national platform, will abide by and adhere to a faithful execution of the acts known as the Compromise measures, settled by the Congress of 1850, "the act for reclaiming fugitives from service or labor" included, which act being designed to carry out an express provision of the Constitution, cannot, with fidelity thereto, be repealed, or so changed as to destroy or impair its efficiency.

3. That the Democratic party will resist all attempts at renewing in Congress, or out of it, the agitation of the Slavery question, under whatever shape or color the attempt may be made.

4. That the Democratic party will faithfully abide by and uphold the principles laid down in the Kentucky and Virginia resolutions of 1798 and 1799, and in the report of Mr. Madison to the Virginia Legislature in 1799—that it adopts these principles as constituting one of the main foundations of its political creed, and is resolved to carry them out in their obvious meaning and import.

And that we may the more distinctly meet the issue on which a sectional party, subsisting exclusively on Slavery agitation, now relies to test the fidelity of the people, North and South, to the Constitution and the Union—

1. Resolved, That claiming fellowship with and desiring the coöperation of all who regard the preservation of the Union under the Constitution as the paramount issue, and repudiating all sectional parties and platforms concerning domestic Slavery; which seek to embroil the States and incite to treason and armed resistance to law in the Territories, and whose avowed purpose, if consummated, must end in civil war and disunion, the American Democracy recognize and adopt the principles contained in the organic laws establishing the Territories of Nebraska and Kansas, as embodying the only sound and safe solution of the Slavery question, upon which the great national idea of the people of this whole country can repose in its determined conservation of the Union, and non-interference of Congress with Slavery in the Territories or in the District of Columbia.

2. That this was the basis of the compromises of 1850, confirmed by both the Democratic and Whig parties in national conventions, ratified by the people in the elections of 1852, and rightly applied to the organization of the Territories in 1854.

3. That by the uniform application of the Democratic principle to the organization of Territories, and the admission of new States, with or without domestic Slavery, as they may elect, the equal rights of all the States will be preserved intact, the original compacts of the Constitution maintained inviolate, and the perpetuity and expansion of the Union insured to its utmost capacity of embracing, in peace and harmony, every future American State that may be constituted or annexed with a Republican form of government.

Resolved, That we recognize the right of the people of all the Territories, including Kansas and Nebraska, acting through the legally and fairly expressed will of the majority of the actual residents, and whenever the number of their inhabitants justifies it, to form a constitution, with or without domestic Slavery, and be admitted into the Union upon terms of perfect equality with the other States.

Resolved, finally, That in view of the condition of the popular institutions in the Old World (and the dangerous tendencies of sectional agitation, combined with the attempts to enforce civil and religious disabilities against the rights of acquiring and enjoying citizenship in our own land), a high and sacred duty is involved with increased responsibility upon the Democratic party of this country, as the party of the Union, to uphold and maintain the rights of every State, and thereby the Union of the States—and to sustain and advance among us constitutional liberty, by continuing to resist all monopolies and exclusive legislation for the benefit of the few at the expense of the many, and by a vigilant and constant adherence to those principles and compromises of the Constitution—which are broad enough and strong enough to embrace and uphold the Union as it was, the Union as it is, and the Union as it shall be—in the full expression of the energies and capacity of this great and progressive people.

1. Resolved, That there are questions connected with the foreign policy of this country, which are inferior to no domestic question whatever. The time has come for the people of the United States to declare themselves in favor of free seas, and progressive free trade throughout the world, and, by solemn manifestations to place their moral influence at the side of their successful example.

2. Resolved, That our geographical and political position with reference to the other States of this continent, no less than the interest of our commerce and the development of our growing power, requires that we should hold sacred the principles involved in the Monroe doctrine. Their bearing and import admit of no misconstruction, and should be applied with unbending rigidity.

3. Resolved, That the great highway, which nature as well as the assent of States most immediately interested in its maintenance has marked out for free communication between the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans, constitutes one of the most important achievements realized by the spirit of modern times, in the unconquerable energy of our people; and that result would be secured by a timely and efficient exertion of the control which we have the right to claim over it, and no power on earth should be suffered to impede or clog its progress by any interference with relations that it may suit our policy to establish between our Government and the government of the States within whose dominions it lies; we can under no circumstances surrender our preponderance in the adjustment of all questions arising out of it.

4. Resolved, That in view of so commanding an interest, the people of the United States cannot but sympathize with the efforts which are being made by the people of Central America to regenerate that portion of the continent which covers the passage across the interoceanic Isthmus.

5. Resolved, That the Democratic party will expect of the next Administration that every proper effort be made to insure our ascendency in the Gulf of Mexico, and to maintain permanent protection to the great outlets through which are emptied into its waters the products raised out of the soil and the commodities created by the industry of the people of our Western valleys and of the Union at large.

Resolved, That the Administration of Franklin Pierce has been true to Democratic principles, and therefore true to the great interests of the country; in the face of violent opposition, he has maintained the laws at home, and vindicated the rights of American citizens abroad; and therefore we proclaim our unqualified admiration of his measures and policy.

CONSTITUTIONAL UNION (BELL–EVERETT) PLATFORM,

ADOPTED AT BALTIMORE, 1860.

Whereas, Experience has demonstrated that Platforms adopted by the partisan conventions of the country have had the effect to mislead and deceive the people, and at the same time to widen the political divisions of the country, by the creation and encouragement of geographical and sectional parties; therefore,

Resolved, That it is both the part of patriotism and of duty to recognise no political principle other than THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COUNTRY, THE UNION OF THE STATES, AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS, and that as representatives of the Constitutional Union men of the country in National Convention assembled, we hereby pledge ourselves to maintain, protect, and defend, separately and unitedly, these great principles of public liberty and national safety, against all enemies at home and abroad, believing that thereby peace may once more be restored to the country, the rights of the People and of the States reëstablished, and the Government again placed in that condition, of justice, fraternity and equality, which under the example and Constitution of our fathers, has solemnly bound every citizen of the United States to maintain a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity.

SOUTH CAROLINA SECEDES FROM THE UNION.

When enough returns from the election had been received to render it certain that Abraham Lincoln would be the next President, public meetings were held in the city of Charleston, and in other places in the State of South Carolina, at which resolutions were adopted in favor of the Secession of the State from the Union. A. G. Magrath, district judge of the United States Court, resigned his office, as did the United States Marshal, and the other judicial officers by federal appointment. Messrs. Hammond and Chesnut resigned their seats in the United States Senate, and M. L. Bonham his seat in the House. The Collector of Customs and Postmaster at Charleston signified their intention to resign, but continued to discharge the duties of their respective offices. The Legislature, which met on the 27th day of November, immediately provided for a State Convention, to meet on the 17th of December. The election of delegates took place on the 11th. Meanwhile much interest arose in regard to the forts in Charleston harbor, only one of which—Fort Moultrie—was garrisoned, she having between sixty and seventy men; Brevet Major Rob't Anderson was the officer in command. Threats to seize them were freely made by the secessionists, who took steps to arm nearly the entire population of Charleston capable of bearing arms. At the same time, the work of strengthening Fort Moultrie, and, to some extent, Forts Sumter and Castle Pinckney, was vigorously prosecuted. The Convention met at Columbia on the day appointed. General D. F. Jamison was chosen president. In consequence of the prevalence of the small pox at Columbia, the Convention adjourned to meet in Charleston the next day. On the 20th, the following ordinance passed the Convention unanimously:

AN ORDINANCE

To dissolve the Union between the State of South Carolina and other States united with her under the compact entitled "The Constitution of the United States of America."

We, the People of the State of South Carolina, in Convention assembled, do declare and ordain, and it is hereby declared and ordained,

That the Ordinance adopted by us in Convention, on the twenty-third day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-eight, whereby the Constitution of the United States of America was ratified, and also, all Acts and parts of Acts of the General Assembly of this State, ratifying amendments of the said Constitution, are hereby repealed; and that the union now subsisting between South Carolina and other States, under the name of "The United States of America," is hereby dissolved.

The next day, Messrs. R. W. Barnwell, J. H. Adams, and James L. Orr, were elected by the Convention Commissioners to be accredited to Washington, charged with the duty of negotiating for a division of the public property and the surrender of the forts of Charleston. On the 24th of December, the Convention adopted the following declaration of causes which induced and justified the secession of South Carolina from the Union:

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE OF SOUTH CAROLINA,

Done in Convention, December 24, 1860.

The State of South Carolina, having determined to resume her separate and equal place among nations, deems it due to herself, to the remaining United States of America, and to the nations of the world, that she should declare the causes which have led to this act.

In the year 1765, that portion of the British Empire embracing Great Britain, undertook to make laws for the government of that portion composed of the thirteen American Colonies. A struggle for the right of self-government ensued, which resulted on the 4th of July, 1776, in a Declaration by the Colonies, "that they are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States, and that, as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, to conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do."

They further solemnly declared, that whenever any "form of government becomes destructive of the ends for which it was established, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government." Deeming the government of Great Britain to have become destructive of these ends, they declared that the Colonies "are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the States of Great Britain is, and ought to be totally dissolved."

In pursuance of this Declaration of Independence, each of the thirteen States proceeded to exercise its separate sovereignty; adopted for itself a constitution, and appointed officers for the administration of government in all its departments—legislative, executive, and judicial. For purposes of defence, they united their arms and their counsels; and, in 1778, they entered into a league, known as the articles of confederation, whereby they agreed to intrust the administration of their external relations to a common agent, known as the Congress of the United States, expressly declaring, in the first article, "that each State retains its sovereignty, freedom, and independence, and every power, jurisdiction, and right which is not, by this confederation, expressly delegated to the United States in Congress assembled."

Under this confederation the war of the Revolution was carried on, and on the 3d of September, 1783, the contest ended, and a definitive treaty was signed by Great Britain, in which she acknowledged the independence of the Colonies in the following terms:

Article I.—His Britannic Majesty acknowledges the said United States, viz.: New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia, to be free, sovereign, and independent States; that he treats with them as such; and for himself, his heirs and successors, relinquishes all claims to the government, proprietary and territorial rights of the same and every part thereof.

Thus was established the two great principles asserted by the Colonies, namely the right of a State to govern itself, and the right of a people to abolish a government when it becomes destructive of the ends for which it was instituted. And concurrent with the establishment of these principles was the fact, that each colony became and was recognized by the mother country as a free, sovereign and independent State.

In 1787, Deputies were appointed by the States to revise the Articles of confederation, and on 17th September, 1787, these Deputies recommended for the adpotion of the States the articles of union known as the Constitution of the United States.

The parts of which this Constitution was submitted, were the several sovereign States; they were to agree or disagree, and when nine of them agreed, the compact was to take effect among those concurring; and the general government, as the connecting agent, was then to be invested with their authority.

If only nine of the thirteen States had concurred, the other four would have remained as they then were—separate, sovereign States, independent of any of the provisions of the Constitution. In fact, two of the States did not accede to the Constitution until long after it had gone into operation among the other nine; and during that interval, they exercised the functions of an independent nation.

By this Constitution, certain duties were charged on the several States, and the exercise of certain of their powers restrained, which necessarily implied their continued existence as sovereign States. But, to remove all doubt, an amendment was added, which declared that the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people. On 23d May, 1788, South Carolina, by a convention of her people, passed an ordinance assenting to this Constitution, and forwarded a copy of her own constitution, to conform herself to the obligations she had undertaken.

Thus was established, by compact between the States, a government, with defined objects and powers, limited to the express words of the grant, and to so much more only as was necessary to execute the power granted. This limitation left the whole remaining mass of power subject to the clause reserving it to the States or to the people, and rendered unnecessary any specification of reserved rights.

We hold that the government thus established is subject to the two great principles asserted in the Declaration of Independence, and we hold further that the mode of its formation subjects it to a third fundamental principle, namely—the law of compact. We maintain that in every compact between two or more parties, the obligation is mutual—that the failure of one of the contracting parties to perform a material part of the agreement entirely releases the obligation of the other, and that, where no arbiter is provided, each party is remitted to his own judgment to determine the fact of failure with all its consequences.

In the present case that fact is established with certainty. We assert that fifteen of the States have deliberately refused for years past to fulfill their constitutional obligations, and we refer to their own statutes for the proof.

The Constitution of the United States, in its 4th article, provides as follows:

"No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up, on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due."

This stipulation was so material to the compact, that without it that compact would not have been made. The greater number of the contracting parties held slaves, and the State of Virginia had previously declared her estimate of its value by making it the condition of her cession of the territory which now compose the States north of the Ohio River.

The same article of the Constitution stipulates also for the rendition by the several States of fugitives from justice from the other States.

The general government, as the common agent, passed laws to carry into effect these stipulations of the States. For many years these laws were executed. But an increasing hostility on the part of the Northern States to the institution of slavery has led to a disregard of their obligations, and the laws of the general government have ceased to effect the objects of the Constitution. The States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Iowa, have enacted laws which either nullify the acts of Congress, or render them inoperative to execute them. In many of these States the fugitive is discharged from the service or labor claimed, and in none of them has the State government complied with the stipulation made in the Constitution. The State of New York has, in early day, passed a law for the rendition of fugitive slaves in conformity with her constitutional undertaking; but the current of anti-slavery feeling has led her more recently to enact laws to render inoperative the remedies provided by her own law and by the laws of Congress. In the State of New York even the right of transit for a slave has been denied by her tribunals, and the State of Iowa and Illinois have refused to surrender to justice fugitives charged with murder and with inciting servile insurrection in the State of Virginia. Thus the constitutional compact has been deliberately broken and disregarded by the non-slaveholding States, and the consequence follows that South Carolina is released from its obligations.

The ends for which this Constitution was framed are declared by itself to be "to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defence, protect the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

These ends it endeavored to accomplish by a federal government, in which each State was recognized as an equal, and had separate control over its own institutions. The right of property in slaves was recognized by giving to free persons distinct political rights; by giving them the right to represent, and burdening them with direct taxes for three-fifths of their slaves; by authorizing the importation of slaves for twenty years, and by stipulating for the rendition of fugitives from labor.

We affirm that these ends for which this government was instituted have been defeated, and the government itself has been made destructive of them by the action of the non-slaveholding States. These States have assumed the right of deciding upon the propriety of our domestic institutions, and have denied the rights of property established in fifteen of the States and recognized by the Constitution; they have denounced as sinful the institution of slavery; they have permitted the open establishment among them of societies whose avowed object is to disturb the peace and to elOin the property of the citizens of other States. They have encouraged and assisted thousands of our slaves to leave their homes, and those who remain have been incited by emissaries, books and pictures to servile insurrection.

For twenty-five years, this agitation has been steadily increasing, until it has now secured to its aid the power of the common government. Observing the forms of the Constitution, a sectional party has found within that article establishing the executive department the means of permanently half Constitution itself. A geographical line has been drawn across the Union, and all the States north of that line have united in the election of a man to the high office of President of the United States, whose opinions and purposes are hostile to slavery. He is to be intrusted with the administration of the common government, because he has declared that that "government cannot endure permanently half slave, half free," and that the public mind must rest in the belief that slavery is in the course of ultimate extinction.

This sectional combination for the subversion of the Constitution has been aided in some of the States by elevating to citizenship persons, who, by the supreme law of the land, are incapable of becoming citizens, and their votes have been used to inaugurate a new policy hostile to the South, and destructive of its peace and safety.

On the 4th March next, this party will take possession of the government. It has announced that the South shall be excluded from the common territory; that the judicial tribunals shall be made sectional, and that a war must be waged against slavery until it shall cease throughout the United States.

The guaranties of the Constitution will then no longer exist; the equal rights of the States will be lost. The slaveholding States will no longer have the power of self-government or self-protection, and the federal government will have become their enemies.

Sectional interest and animosity will deepen the irritation, and all hope of remedy is rendered vain by the fact that public opinion at the North has invested a great political error with the sanctions of a more erroneous religious belief.

We, therefore, the people of South Carolina, by our delegates in convention assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, have solemnly declared that the union heretofore existing between this State and the other States of North America is dissolved, and that the State of South Carolina has resumed her position among the nations of the world as a free, sovereign and independent State, with full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do.

And, for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

On the same day, the remaining representatives in Congress from South Carolina vacated their seats and returned home.

Lincoln over Douglas, 26418; Fremont over Buchanan, 7720.

[This table exhibits the votes of the first named elector on the Lincoln, Douglas, Breckinridge, and Bell tickets; but in a number of towns a fusion ticket, made up of two names from each of the anti-Lincoln tickets, was voted, and as these votes were counted for the first elector on each of the three tickets, the above table does not exhibit the true strength of the parties. With the proper deductions, the opposition to Mr. Lincoln will foot as follows: Douglas, 15,522; Breckinridge, 14,641; Bell, 1,485; Fusion, 1,852. Total, 33,500, Lincoln over all, 10,292.]

THE GREAT FAMILY PAPER.

THE LEDGER FOR 1861.

We intend to make the NEW YORK LEDGER for 1861 superior to that of 1860, or any other year in the past. Among our contributors will be

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| EDWARD EVERETT, | EMERSON BENNETT, | MRS. SOUTHWORTH, |
| GEORGE BANCROFT, | WILLIAM ROSS WALLACE, | FANNY FERN, |
| WM. CULLEN BRYANT, | T. S. ARTHUR, | ANNA CORA RITCHIE, |

| THOMAS DUNN ENGLISH, | MRS. SIGOURNEY, | MARY STANLEY GIBSON, |
| SYLVANUS COBB, JR., | HENRY WARD BEECHER, | PHŒBE CARY, |

and many clergymen, Professors in Colleges, Statesmen, and other eminent writers residing in different parts of the Union.

Our corps of contributors for the coming year will be so large, and will embrace such a variety of eminent talent, that every department of literature will receive the particular attention of some one competent to do it ample and special justice. Whether it be popular romance, scientific essay, historical sketch, scholastic disquisition, spicy paragraph, pathetic ballad, humorous poem, old-fashioned love story, timely editorial, or any other ingredient of popular and elevated journalism, that is to be furnished, the LEDGER corps will be sufficient for the task. In fact, our contributors will send us from week to week much more matter than we can possibly use, so that we shall always have a fresh and superabundant supply, from which to select the VERY BEST. These facts, taken in connection with our largely increased means, facilities, and experience, warrant us, we think, in promising our readers a family paper for the year 1861 which will be more interesting and instructive, and in every respect more valuable, even than the LEDGER has been in the past.

As an indication of the popularity of the LEDGER, we need only state the simple fact that its circulation is larger than that of any other TEN literary papers in the country. Its great success is owing to the fact that we secure the best writers in the country, and spare no expense in getting up the BEST FAMILY PAPER—a paper of high moral tone. The exalted reputation of its contributors, the practical and invariably pure and healthy character of all its articles, the care which is taken that not even one offensive word shall appear in its columns, and the superiority of its Tales and Sketches, have gained for the NEW YORK LEDGER a position that no literary paper has ever before reached.

— ANNA CORA RITCHIE, of Richmond, Va., and Col. WALTER B. DUNLAP, the author of the popular "Forest Sketches," which were published in our columns some time since, will each begin a story in the LEDGER early in the new year. Mrs. SOUTHWORTH is also engaged upon a new tale.

— It is with much satisfaction that we announce that Mr. EVERETT will continue his elegant and interesting contributions to the LEDGER during the next year.

As this is the season of the year when Postmasters and others are in the habit of forming clubs, we direct their particular attention to

OUR TERMS:

The party who sends us $12 for a club of eight copies (all sent at one time) will be entitled to a copy free for his trouble. Terms invariably in advance. No subscriptions taken for a less period than one year. Canada subscribers must send twenty-six cents in addition to the subscription, to pay the American postage, which is half a cent a copy on every paper. ## OAK ORCHARD ACID SPRINGS.

These Springs are situated in the valley of the Oak Orchard Creek, in the town of Alabama, Genesee Co., N. Y., 3 miles south of the village of Medina, on the Erie Canal, and 14 miles from Batavia.

☞ The medicinal qualities of the waters are fully shown in the subjoined testimonials. They contain a very large amount of Sulphur, Sulphuric Acid, Sulphate of Lime, and Proto-sulphate of Iron.

Hundreds of cases of disease, especially those resulting from the scrofulous diathesis, have been cured by their use.

☞ In skin diseases—even in confirmed leprosy—the waters have been signally successful.

Opinions of medical and scientific gentlemen are given in the circulars. The following eminent gentlemen speak in strong terms of the medicinal value of these waters:—Prof. EMMONS, T. ROMEYN BECK, M.D., of Albany; JAS. MCNAUGHTON, M.D., of Albany; EDWARD SPRING, M.D., of New York; Dr. R. CAMPBELL, of Pittsfield, Mass.; Dr. J. S. SHULER, of Lockport, N. Y. They recommend the waters confidently. Dr. Spring refers to a case of chronic diarrhœa of several years' standing, which was cured by the use of the water. Dr. Beck says: "I am satisfied that these waters are highly valuable as medicinal agents." Dr. Campbell says: "They must be highly beneficial for all chronic diseases of the stomach and bowels."

Dr. S. P. WHITE read a paper on the subject of these Waters, before the Academy of Physicians, in the city of New York, in which he states that the waters possess decidedly tonic, refrigerant, and astringent properties; and that the class of diseases to which they are more particularly adapted, are chronic affections of the digestive and urinary organs, and some of the cutaneous diseases, chronic dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa, chronic dysentery, chronic diuresis, chronic cystitis, diabetes, cases of passive hemorrhage, such as Purpura hemorrhagica, and the colliquative sweats of Hectic Fever. In diarrhœas, particularly such as are dependent on a relaxed or ulcerated state of the mucous membrane of the intestines. In skin diseases—in those forms of dyspepsia connected with an alkaline condition of the stomach, as in Pyrosis, or water-brash, it will prove better than hydrochloric acid. In chronic pharyngitis, laryngitis, chronic mucous catarrh, and humid asthma, chronic ophthalmia (externally), as a gargle in ulcerated sore throats, in cases of salivation, in leucorrhea and gleet, also in piles.

Other testimonials from physicians, and other respectable individuals, may be seen on application to the Agent. Dealers supplied on liberal terms. No Water genuine unless procured from

It not only cures Scrofula, and all diseases arising from a vitiated and inflamed condition of the blood, but if timely used will carry off in a perfectly natural manner all unhealthy secretions, and prevent the breaking out of those unsightly blotches, sores, and pimples, to which persons of scrofulous tendency are all more or less subject.

ROMAN EYE BALSAM,

The delicate structure of the eyelid renders it peculiarly sensitive and liable to disease. When, from any cause, it becomes affected, the inner membrane rapidly inflames, and the eyelid evinces the strongest predisposition to attract to itself humors from all parts of the body. Hundreds of persons of scrofulous habit are disfigured by rawness or redness of the eyelids, commonly called sore eyes, and tortured with apprehensions of impaired vision, who, by using this Balsam, may obtain almost immediate relief. In all cases, the earlier this remedy is applied the better.

In cases where the Eyelids are Inflamed, or the ball of the eye thickly covered with blood, it acts almost like magic, and removes all appearances of inflammation after two or three applications. There is a numerous class of persons that are peculiarly exposed to accidents or diseases that weaken and inflame the Eyes, and perhaps destroy the sight, such as Miners, Mechanics, and other operatives in metals, who, from the nature of their employments, are compelled to work in a cloud of dust and grit. Such should never be without this Balsam. For Sale, No. 100 Fulton St., N. Y.

HATS, CAPS, AND FURS.

"As Winter is coming on, everybody is beginning to wrap up in thick coats and overcoats, and to put on warm caps and gloves. ## Mr. J. W. KELLOGG, 381 Canal St., New York, which we have found by long experience to be one of the very best in the city. The articles are uniformly of good material, and made up in good taste. The assortment of children's furs is very large and complete; the gentlemen's hats are made firm and durable, yet light and soft to the head. It is a pleasure to go to a house where one is always sure to be treated with the utmost courtesy, and where he may rely with entire confidence on whatever is sold as being exactly what it is represented. We call attention to this establishment, not at the request of the proprietor, nor even by his knowledge, for he will be as much surprised as anybody can be, at seeing this notice, but simply to express the pleasure we have always found in dealing with a kind, courteous, honest, and Christian man."

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

AND

BLOOD RENOVATOR

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL & BLOOD RENOVATOR.

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, invigorating and strengthening to the vital powers, and at the same time revivifies, reinstates, and renews the Blood in all its original purity, and thus at once restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world, so chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and at the same time so perfectly adapted to, as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence will soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and thus allay all nervous and other irritation. It is perfectly exhilarating and at the same time it is composed entirely of vegetables, yet so combined as to produce the most thorough tonic effect, without producing any injurious consequences. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, for it needs no medical skill to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and precedes, and indeed lays the system open to, the insidious attacks of many of the most fatal, such, for example as the following: Consumption, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, Retention of, as well as Painful, obstructed, too profuse, or too scant Menstruation, and Falling of the Womb. These all depend upon general debility. This pure, healthy, tonic Cordial and Blood Renovator is as sure to cure as the sun to rise and set. There is no mistake about it. But this is not all. If the system is weakened we are open to bilious attacks, the liver becomes torpid, or worse diseased, the kidneys refuse to perform their usual functions, and we are troubled with scalding or incontinence of urine, or involuntary discharge of the same, pain in the back, side, and between the shoulders, exceedingly liable to slight colds, coughs, and if unchecked soon emaciation follows, and the patient goes down to a premature grave. But space will not allow us to enumerate the many ills to which we are liable in a weakened condition of the system. But we will say in this Cordial and Blood Renovator you have a perfect, safe, pleasant, and effectual remedy for Loss of Appetite, Biliousness, Flatulence, weak and sick Stomach, Languor, Liver Complaint, Chills and Fever, or any Bilious attack, Costiveness, Acidity of the Stomach, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Depression of Spirits, Sores, Pimples on the Face, or any disease arising from impure blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Bronchitis, Cough, difficulty of Breathing, and all that class of diseases called female weakness, and enumerated above. We will also say the traveller exposed to epidemics, change of climate and water, will find it a pleasant, safe, and sure remedy, and one none should ever travel without. Reader, try it, for we assure you you will find it a friend indeed, as well as a friend in need. All persons of sedentary habits will find it a perfect preventive of, as well as cure for those ailments to which they are particularly exposed. Hence ministers, students, attorneys, literary gentlemen, and ladies, who are not accustomed to much out-door exercise, will find it to their advantage to keep a bottle constantly on hand; and above all, mothers, or those becoming such, will go through that most dangerous period not only with all their accustomed strength, but safe and free from the thousand ailments so prevalent among the female portion of the world. In short, it is indeed a mother's cordial. Try it, old and young; no longer run the risk of delay; it will relieve and prove itself emphatically a Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator.

THE WORLD'S VERDICT.
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.

Have been firmly established upward of 50 years throughout the world. The annual extension of their sales is the strongest proof of their universal fame and increasing popularity. They are used by all classes of society, rich and poor, educated and illiterate. Their action is based on the principle that the stomach and blood are the source of disease. The Pills act on the stomach and through it on the blood. They are an infallible remedy for Indigestion, and consequently for Headache, Biliousness, Nervousness, which are merely its offshoots. They purify the blood—eradicating Scrofula and Consumption. They stand unrivalled in scrofulous disorders. The Ointment facilitates and expedites the cure of Eruptions, Erysipelas, Old Ulcers, Sore Legs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Affections of the Chest, and Rheumatism. These Medicines have never failed in any case where they have been timely used and the instructions accompanying them faithfully observed.

Sold by all Druggists at 25c., 62c., and $1 per box or pot.

FORTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

After a personal experience of (40) forty years, the same settled conviction remains, that if the BLOOD IS PURE THE HEALTH WILL BE GOOD. Pure gold cannot make base currency. Neither can pure blood make bad bone, bad heart, bad liver, bad lungs, bad teeth, bad flesh, or bad skin; all is beautiful, because perfected by healthy blood.

The point then is, how shall we keep our blood pure? and, if unsound, how restore it to purity, soundness, and health?

Answer:—BRANDRETH'S PILLS SECURE PURE BLOOD.

One hundred and ten years' use thereof by the public have proven this beyond dispute. In sudden attacks of sickness their value is beyond estimate. A few pills, promptly swallowed, saves months of sickness, often life. But if you use BRANDRETH'S PILLS, YOU MUST DISCARD BLOODLETTING, for the "LIFE of the flesh is in the BLOOD." Purging with BRANDRETH'S PILLS takes out of the body the "death principle:" bleeding takes out the "life principle." Therefore, when sick or in pain, TAKE BRANDRETH'S PILLS, and abjure bleeding.

HAMMONTON, N. J., May 7, 1860.

DR. BRANDRETH:

Dear Sir: I have long wanted to write to you and express my gratitude for the beneficial effects that have been experienced in my own family, and in hundreds, aye, thousands of others, by the use of Brandreth's Pills. The first year my friend Brockway sold your Pills in Boston, 1848, I was then in a declining state of health, and my friends, as well as myself, supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. Mr. Brockway urged me to take Brandreth's Pills, but having used so much medicine with no good effect, I was more inclined to let nature take its course, and calmly submit to my fate. Mr. B. offered to give me one dozen boxes, if I would take them as prescribed. By this I saw he had great faith in them, and I finally consented to take them, but not as a gift. I went home, and went at it almost hopelessly. After taking one box I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up my twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight had increased from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present, I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable Pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly,

C. J. FAY, P.M.

FEVER AND AGUE.

It is vomiting and purging which should be depended upon to break the fever. Brandreth's Pills and boneset tea, freely administered, will do this in a few days. Brandreth's Pills alone have cured thousands. Boneset tea, hot, the patient being in bed, assists the cure,—should be taken, a teacupful at a time, to the extent of a gallon or more. Give, also, 4, 6, 8, or 10 pills, as the case may seem to require. Do this, and the chills and fever will be of short continuance. The same method should be followed in all cases where there is severe pain, such as Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains in the Head, Chest, etc.

Fever and Ague Cured.—Mr. John Y. Haight, Supervisor of New Castle, Westchester County, New York, desires the attention of those interested. He says, November 1858: "I was, about two years ago, attacked with fever and ague, which, notwithstanding the best medical advice, continued to sorely afflict me for six tedious months; I became yellow as saffron, and reduced to skin and bone. Medicine and physicians were abandoned in despair. As an experiment, I concluded to try a single dose of six of Brandreth's Universal Vegetable Pills, on an empty stomach, early in the morning. The first dose seemed to arouse all the latent energies of my exhausted frame. Their purgative effect was different from anything I had ever used or heard of. At length this effect ceased, and I seemed lighter and breathed freer. That evening I was indeed sensibly better, and slept soundly all night. The next day I followed the same course, and took the same number of pills. I continued to take the pills in this way about three weeks, when I found myself entirely cured. It was two years ago, and I have had no return. My health has been surprisingly good, and I have used no medicine since. I have made this statement in accordance with what I conceive to be my duty."

Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills which cure or greatly alleviate every disease to which the body is subject, and which have been used by over of the human family are sold by respectable dealers in medicine everywhere. By sending one dollar to DR. B. BRANDRETH, Brandreth House, New York, a box containing 120 pills will be forwarded, without further charge, to any part of the United States, or the world, where a post office or express agency exists.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS resolve and assuage pain by calling forth the acrid humors from parts internal to the skin and general circulation. Thus in many cases positively evaporating the disease.

JAMES LULL, M. D.

There is nothing equal in the way of a Plaster, to the Porous Plasters of MR. ALLCOCK. Every thing is pleasant about them. They are the Plasters of the day, and a fit type of our present advancement in science and art. In Asthma, Cough, Kidney Affections, and local, deep-seated pains, they afford permanent relief.

J. F. JOHNSON, M. D., on "Topical Remedies."

From a personal knowledge of these Plasters, we can state that they are decidedly preferable to any other In use. Wherever relief is to be obtained by the use of a plaster, we should recommend them.

A. INGRAHAM, M. D., Editor "New York Mentor."

These celebrated strengthening plasters have the compactness of kid leather, with the flexibility of a silk glove. They have restored lame limbs to perfect health when all other applications had failed; removed the unsightly bump by their action upon the secretive vessels; cured varicosity of veins and aneurism of arteries; strengthened the wry neck; cured stitches and all pains of the side and breast; cured pains and weakness of the back; in fact, ALLCOCK'S Porous Plaster only needs a trial to secure an enthusiastic recommender.

PAIN IN THE CHEST AND ACUTE INDIGESTION CURED.

Letter from the Hon. CARL SCHURZ, Chicago, Sept. 26, 1859.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE "NEW YORK CRIMINAL ZEITUNG."—Gentlemen: I shall feel obliged if you will inform your friend, Mr. Deichman, that I have quite recovered from the severe pains in my chest, from which I have so long suffered. Allcock's Porous Plaster cured me, of which he spoke so highly. I had tried almost everything to relieve the pain, without any benefit, before I used the plaster, which, strange to say, in a few days after putting it on, perfectly relieved me. I have worn the plasters for the last nine months, changing once in a week or two, without any return of the pain in my chest, or the least difficulty in taking any kind of food. This can be attested by all my friends and my family. Show Deichman this letter, and please to publish it in your paper. Most respectfully,

CARL SCHURZ.

NOTE BY EDITORS OF "CRIMINAL ZEITUNG"—We insert this letter with pleasure, as it affords us an opportunity for saying that any one afflicted with pains in the chest, accompanied with indigestion, can, by applying at this office, receive ample testimony from one who has been restored to health by those very Plasters of Allcock, which he used for six months for a similar affection.

LAME BACK.

BRIGGS, Proprietor of the Brandreth House.

EDITORS' PREFACE.

The single end of this book is the presentation, in a compact and convenient form, of the more important facts, votes, resolves, letters, speeches, reports, and other documents, which elucidate the political contest now agitating this country. It has been our aim to let every candidate and other important personage speak for himself, make his own platform, and vindicate (if he may) his own consistency and the soundness of his views on the great questions which underlie our current politics.

Of course, such a work can have but a comparative merit. Make it ever so large, and still many things must be omitted that the compiler would wish to insert; and every critic will plausibly ask, "Why insert this and omit that? Why give so much of A. and so little of B?" Besides, it is not always possible to remember, or, if remembered, to find all that would be valued in a work like this. We can only say that we have done our best: let him do better who can.

Inaccuracy of citation is one of the chief vices of our political discussions. You can hardly listen to a set speech, even from a well-informed and truthful canvasser, which is not marred by some misapprehension or unconscious misstatement of the position and views of this or that prominent statesman. Documents, heedlessly read and long since lost or mislaid, are quoted from with fluency and confidence, as though with indubitable accuracy, when the citations so made do gross injustice to their author, and tend to mislead the hearer. We believe the documents collected in this work are so printed that their general accuracy may be safely relied on.

By politicians of all parties, we trust our Text-Book will be found convenient, not to say indispensable. But those who only listen, read and reflect, will also find it a manifest help to a clear understanding of the issues and contentions of the day. They will be interested in comparing the actual positions taken by Mr. Lincoln, or Mr. Douglas, or Gen. Cass, or Mr. Everett, as faithfully set forth in this work, with those confidently attributed to that statesman in the fluent harangue of some political opponent, who is intent on blazoning his inconsistency or proving his insincerity. To verify and correct the citations of a frothy declaimer is sometimes the easiest and most convincing refutation of his speech.

If a trace of partisan bias is betrayed in the thread of narrative which partially unites the successive reports, bills, votes, etc., presented in this work, the error is unintentional and regretted. Our purpose was to compile a record acceptable and convenient to men of all parties, and which might be consulted and trusted by all. Whatever is original herein is regarded as of no use or merit, save as a necessary elucidation of the residue. Without apology, therfore, or further explanation, the Text-Book is commended to the favor of the American public.

WHEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES

WITH IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS,

AT

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Office 505 Broadway, New York.

The "LOCK-STITCH" made by this machine is the only Sewing Machine Stitch that cannot be ravelled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam.

Of the 46,243 machines returned to Mr. Howe as sold in 1859, nearly 40,000 make the LOCK-STITCH, showing the verdict of the public in this matter.

The Committee of the American Institute, New York, appointed to examine sewing machines, made a long, elaborate, and able report, of much interest to the public. Committees heretofore have not discriminated and classified sufficiently. This report is free from these faults. The machines are arranged according to the stitch made, and the purpose to which the machine is to be applied, in four classes, 1st, 2d, 3d, and 4th—a classification indicating the general order of merit and importance.

CLASS 1st includes the Shuttle or Lock-Stitch Machines for family use, and for manufacturers in the same range of purpose and material. The Committee has assigned this class the highest rank, on account of the "elasticity, permanence, beauty, and general desirableness of the stitching when done," and the wide range of its application. At the head of this class they place the WHEELER & WILSON Machine, and award it the highest premium. This has been the uniform award for this machine throughout the country for several years, and we think no disinterested person will dispute its justice and propriety.

CLASS 2d includes the Shuttle or Lock-Stitch Machines for heavy manufacturing purposes. At the head of this class the Committee places FIRST & FROST'S Machines.

CLASS 3d includes the Double Chain-Stitch Machines. The GROVER & BAKER Machine is placed at the head of this class. The Committee objects to the stitch made by this machine, inasmuch as it consumes more thread than any other Stitch, and leaves a ridge projecting from one side of the seam. This, in the Committee's opinion, must usually impair the durability of the seam, and often the beauty of the garments, or other articles so stitched, though some of the machines making this stitch can be used very successfully for embroidery purposes.

CLASS 4th includes the Single Thread Tambour or Chain-Stitch Machines. The tendency of this stitch to ravel, the Committee considers an objection so serious that they refuse to recommend the machines making it for any premium. This Report was in accordance with the awards at

True Time.

Two kinds of time are used in Almanacs; clock or mean-time in some, and apparent or sun-time in others. Clock-time is always right, while Sun-time varies every day. People generally suppose it is twelve o'clock when the sun is due south, or at a properly made noon-mark. But this is a mistake. The sun is seldom on the meridian at twelve o'clock; indeed this is the case only on four days of the year: namely, April 15, June 15, Sept. 1, and Dec. 24. In this Almanac, as in most other Almanacs, the time used is clock-time. The time when the sun is on the meridian or at the noon-mark, is also given for the 1st, 9th, 17th, and 25th days of each month, at the right hand of the top of each ℰalendar page. This affords a ready means of obtaining correct time and for setting a clock by using a noon-mark, adding or subtracting as the sun is slow or fast.

Old-fashioned Almanacs, which use apparent time, give the rising and setting of the sun's centre and make no allowance for the effect of refraction of the sun's rays by the atmosphere. The more modern and improved Almanacs, which use clock-time, give the rising and setting of the sun's upper limb, and duly allow for refraction. The practice of setting time-pieces by the rising or setting of the sun or moon is not strictly correct, as the unevenness of the earth's surface and intervening objects, such as hills and forests, near the points of rising and setting, occasion a deviation in every place, from the time expressed in the Almanac, which time is adapted to a smooth, level horizon. The only means of keeping correct time is by the use of a noon-mark, or a meridian line.

The Solar System.

The Sun is the source of light and heat to our system. Its true diameter is upwards of 887,000 miles; its bulk is 1,384,000 times greater than Earth, and 700 times greater than that of all the planets and satellites together. It revolves on its axis in about 25 days 7 hours and 48 minutes.

Mercury is the nearest planet to the Sun, being about 36,890,000 miles from it. It performs its revolution round the Sun in 87 days 23 hours, which is the length of its year. The diameter of Mercury is about 2,950 miles; its bulk 1-16th of the Earth.

Venus.—Distance from the Sun 68,000,000 miles; the length of its year is 224 days 16 hours; the rotation on its axis is 23 hours 21 minutes. Its diameter is about 7,800 miles; its bulk is about 9-10ths that of the Earth.

The Earth is also one of the planets that revolve about the Sun. Its mean distance is about 95,000,000 miles, and its diameter about 7,912 miles.

Mars.—Distance from the Sun 145,205,000 miles; the length of its year is 686 days 23½ hours; its true diameter is about 4,500 miles, which is rather more than half the diameter of the Earth.

The Asteroids.—Very small planets between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter. Five new Asteroids were discovered in 1860, making the whole number now known sixty-two, of which Vesta, Juno, Ceres, and Pallas are the largest; but all are invisible to the naked eye. They revolve at the distance of two or three hundred millions of miles from the Sun, and in periods of from three to five years.

Jupiter.—Mean distance from the Sun 495,917,000 miles; performs its revolution in 4,384 15 hours; its true diameter is 88,000 miles, and its bulk is 1,281 times that of the Earth. Length of its day, 9 hours and 55 minutes. Jupiter has four satellites or moons.

Saturn.—Distance from the Sun above 909,000,000 miles; the length of its year is 10,755 days; its true diameter is 73,000 miles; its bulk is 995 times that of the Earth. Saturn has eight satellites, and is also surrounded with a double ring.

Uranus.—Mean distance from the Sun about 1,829,000,000 miles; it performs its revolution in about 84 years. This planet has six satellites.

Neptune, the most remote and latest discovered planet, is 2,864,000,000 of miles from the Sun. It is 35,000 in diameter; revolves around the Sun in 164 years; and has at least one satellite.

Post-office Department.

The gross revenue for the year ending June 30, 1860, was $3,518,067. The payments for the year were $14,874,773. Excess of payments over revenue, $6,356,706. Number of Post-offices, 28,498.

The Public debt of the United States, Jan. 1, 1861, was 63,709,322; of which $11,900,462 were treasury-notes.

Public Lands.

During the five quarters ending Sept. 30, 1860, 16,385,361 acres of the public lands were disposed of; 3,977,620 acres were sold for cash, yielding $2,021,426; 3,379,040 acres were located with bounty land-warrants; 2,037,771 acres were approved to the several states entitled to them, under the swamp grants of March 2, 1849, and Sept. 28, 1850; and 2,665,625 acres certified to states, as falling to them under the grants for railroad purposes; 12,060,054 acres were surveyed and prepared for market, and 16,385,361 acres proclaimed and offered at public sale.

Patent Office.

The income of this office for the three quarters ending Sept. 30, 1860, was $197,648; and its expenditure, $189,672. Applications for patents, 5,638; caveats filed, 841; applications rejected, 3,612; applications of all sorts accepted, 3,896. Also 49 applications for extensions, and 28 patents extended from the close of their first term.

The whole number of Pensioners of all classes now on the rolls is 11,284, and the amount required for their payment was $1,103,562.

Lightning

Invariably follows the best continuous conductor; but no conductor is good, unless it is continuous. Our thunder-storms usually come from the northwest, preceded by an electric atmosphere, and lightning-rods should be erected so as to protect those parts of buildings most exposed. A wire one-fourth of an inch thick is sufficient, provided there be a stiff metallic point on every prominent part of the building, with as many outlets in the ground as there are points in the air, and all the points connected with the main wire by cross wires. Galvanized wire is preferable, as it does not rust.

The Atmospheric Telegraph

Is an American device for transmitting small packages to a considerable distance through air-tight tubes, by atmospheric pressure. The system is in successful operation at the International Telegraph Company in London, their office being connected by tubes with the Stock Exchange, and with all the chief stations in the suburbs. The tubes are of metal, and there is an air-pump at each end. A whistle gives notice that a message is deposited a mile off: you close the mouth of the tube, turn a cock, and the steam air-pump begins to exhaust the air from your end of the tube, while it is open at the other; in a few seconds you hear a soft thud at the end of the tube, and opening it find your message in a little gutta percha cylinder four inches long, inclosed in flannel, and fitting the tube somewhat loosely. The Pneumatic Company are preparing larger apparatus, for conveying books and large parcels at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

A SELL.—A victim writes to give warning against transmitting money in reply to the following advertisement:

"A Great Bargain—To all who may inclose one dollar, I will send by mail, post paid, a finely cut engraved portrait of GEORGE WASHINGTON, the Father of his Country, together with an elegant portrait of BENJ. FRANKLIN. Either separately at four shillings. Address H. C. C., —— street, New York."

Victim says the impudent scamp actually sent back for his dollar a three cent and one cent postage stamp, ornamented with the "finely cut engraved" heads which he had promised.

A PARTY of belated gentlemen, about a certain hour, began to think of home and their wives' displeasure, and urged a departure. "Never mind," said one of the guests, "fifteen minutes will make no difference; my wife is as mad now as she can be."

IRON exists in the blood and preserves it; gold, or the love of it, exists in the heart and corrupts it.

BITE OF A RATTLESNAKE CURED IN TWO HOURS.—The Petersburg Express publishes the following from a reliable correspondent:

A carpenter, while engaged a few days ago in pulling down an old house, and removing some of the rotten timber near the ground, was bitten by a rattlesnake. In a few moments his finger was swollen to four times its natural size, and a red streak commenced running up his hand and wrist. A deadly languor came upon him, and his vision grew dim, clearly indicating that the subtle poison that was coursing through his veins was rapidly approaching the citadel of life. But a remedy was tried, merely by way of experiment, which, to the surprise of all present, acted like a charm, the component parts of which were onion, tobacco, and salt, of equal parts, made into a poultice; and at the same time a cord was bound tightly about the wrist. In two hours afterward he had so far recovered as to be able to resume his work. I knew an old negro who cured a boy that had been bitten by a mad dog, by the same application.

IF you discharge a jest at a friend or a gun at a woodcock, be sure that it isn't out of season.

NO MAN ADMITTED UNDER SIXTY.—A company of old men is talked of among the venerables of the city, to guard the city, the sweethearts, and the wives of the young men who will leave home. The ranks of the venerables, we are told, are filling up rapidly.—Madison (Ind.) Courier.

HIGH COMPLIMENT TO A STUMP SPEAKER.—A Southern stumper, while making a speech recently, paused in the midst of it, and exclaimed suddenly, "Now, gentlemen, what do you think?" Instantly a man rose in the assembly, and with one eye partially closed, modestly, with the Scotch brogue, replied: "I think, sir, I do indeed, sir—I think if you and I were to stump the country together, we would tell more lies than any other two men in the country, sir; and I'd not say a word myself during the whole time, sir!"

AN old Jew who sold exclusively for cash, said that he did it for the benefit of his neighbors. He did not wish to see them "deep in debts mit him, ven dey ish got no monish to pay mit."

tired of the reptile, and as nobody wanted such a dangerous companion, the question arose, 'What shall we do with him?' This question was propounded several times, without an answer, when a half drunken soldier, who was lying near on his back, rolled upon his side, and relieved his companions by quietly remarking: 'D—n it, swear him and let him go.'"

A PAINFUL SITUATION.—In Portland, a horse put his foot through a lady's hoop skirt, and to extricate it three men were required to hold the horse and two to hold the lady.

THEY have a story in Chicago about a drunken captain who met a private of his company in the same condition. The captain ordered him to "halt," and endeavoring in vain to assume a firm position on his feet, and to talk with dignified severity, exclaimed: "Private Smith, I'll give you t'll (hic) four o'clock to gissober in." "Cap'n," replied the soldier, "as you'r (hic) —— sight drunkerniam I'll give you t'l five o'clock to gissober in."

REMEDY FOR HARD TIMES.—A doctor has got a remedy for hard times. It consists of ten hours' labor, well worked in.

SENSATION AFTER AMPUTATION.—A German of the 2d Michigan Regiment, in the hospital at Washington, had his arm amputated. His description of the sensation he felt from his fingers, which lately belonged to his left arm, caused frequent bursts of merriment from the other patients in the ward. He said: "I veels der tings mit mine vingers ven I knows I's got no vingers dare, un it makes me mat ven I veels der tings all der time mit mine vingers ven mine vingers ain't dare any more shtill." People may smile at the mystified German, but he undoubtedly stated the truth.

"You have only yourself to please," said a married friend to an old bachelor. "True," replied he, "but you cannot tell what a difficult task I find it."

A Mississippi Judge.—During the summer of 1838, a landlord was brought before Judge Hawkins (who sat on a decayed stump in front of the Hotel), on a charge of selling liquor in quantities less than a gallon, being contrary to the law of the state (Mississippi). The process was commenced:

"Prisoner, are you guilty, or not guilty?"

"Not guilty," the landlord replied.

"Prisoner," exclaimed the judge, "you know that's a lie! I have drank in your house more than twenty times a day myself."

A friend of ours says that he has been without money so long, that his head aches "ready to split" when he tries to recollect how a gold dollar looks. He says the notion that "we live in a world of change," is a great fallacy.

An Epitaph.—The following epitaph may be found upon a tombstone down East:

Beneath this stone, a lump of clay,
Lies Mary 'Liza Young;
Who, on the 14th day of May,
Began to hold her tongue.

CONSULTING A LAWYER.—An honest fellow down in Maine dying intestate, left two infants to the care of his brother, with a wish for him to act as his executor. The latter applied to a man of moderate abilities for advice, who advised him to consult a lawyer.

He did so, and the following conversation took place:

"Pray, sir, are you a civil villain?"

"Do you intend to insult me, sir?"

"It is for that purpose I came here. My brother died distested, leaving two infidel children, and I wish to know if I can be their executioner."

GENEROUS BOY.—A little boy had a colt and a dog, and his generosity was often tried by visitors asking him ("Jest to see what he would say,") to give them one or both of his pets. One day, he told a gentlemen present that he might have his colt, reserving the dog, much to the surprise of his mother, who asked:

"Why, Jackey, why didn't you give him the dog?"

"Say nothing, mother, when he goes to get the colt, I'll set the dog on him."

A SCHOOLMASTER, who was charged with using the birch rather too freely, declared that it was the only way to make boys smart!

SCENE IN A SCHOOL-ROOM.—"First class in philosophy, come up. Ichabod, what are the properties of heat?"

"The properties of heat is to bake bread, bile water, cook eggs, and"——

"Stop—next, what are the properties of heat?"

"The properties of heat is to warm your toes when they get cold, by holding them to the fire and so forth."

"Next. You, Solon."

"The chief properties of heat is that it expands bodies, while cold contracts them."

"Very good, Solon. Can you give me an example?"

"Yes, sir; in summer when it's hot, the days are long, and in winter, when it is cold, the days gets to be very short."

"Go to the head, Solon; boys, take your seats;" and the learned pedagogue was lost in wonder that so familiar an illustration had escaped his philosophical mind.

IN reference to ladies' dresses, it is no longer customary to say "the height," but "the breadth of fashion."

LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.... Union..13; Secession..8.
HOUSE..... Union..68; Secession..6.

NORTH CAROLINA.

An election was held in this State on the question as to whether there should be a Convention called to take the State out of the Union, which resulted—For Convention, 46672; against Convention, 47323. Majority against Secession, 651. At the same time delegates were chosen to the Convention, a majority of whom were for the Union—but a majority of the people having voted against a Convention, the body never convened. The Secessionists having control of the Executive and Legislative departments, placed the State in a treasonable attitude to the General Government, in direct defiance of the expressed will of the people.

MISSISSIPPI.

The gubernatorial contest in this State resulted in the reelection of John J. Pettus, after a very sharp contest with Mr. Jacob Thompson, a gentleman who, as a member of Mr. Buchanan's cabinet, played the parts of Secretary of the Interior, spy, and conspirator at the same time.

GEORGIA.

The gubernatorial election of this State resulted as follows:

Joseph E. Brown .. 49104 | E. A. Nisbet .... 32459

Majority for Brown, 16945.

Governor Brown having shown a little restiveness under the despotism of the Rebel National Government, the leaders of the conspiracy held a convention and nominated Nisbet, but Brown took the field as a stump candidate, and was triumphantly elected.

Andrew over Davis, 33995 ; Lincoln over Douglas, 72161.

THE Republican candidates for Lieut.-Governor and State officers were chosen by majorities ranging from 35000 to 36000.

THE COUNCIL are all Republicans.

THE LEGISLATURE is largely Republican in both branches.

KANSAS.

An election was held in this State for Governor and other State officers, which resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen without opposition. The vote, of course, was very light.

|---|---|
| Governor..... | George A. Crawford.....5429 |
| Lieut.-Governor . | Joseph L. Speer.....5385 |
| Sec. State..... | J. W. Robinson.....5305 |
| Treasurer..... | H. R. Dalton.....5702 |
| Auditor ..... | J. W. McClure.....5091 |
| Att'y General ... | A. Stinson.....5683 |

Many electors refrained from voting, under the impression that the election was illegal, a question which will most likely be decided by the courts, as Governor Robinson and others who are superseded by this election, claim to hold their places another year because by reason of nearly a year's delay in the admission of Kansas into the Union, they have not yet served their term of two years, though they were elected two years ago.

THE CAPITAL, by vote of the people at this election, was fixed at Topeka, that town receiving 7996 votes, Lawrence, 5291, and all other places, 1184. Topeka over all, 1521.

THE LEGISLATURE is decidedly Republican in both branches.

ACCUMULATED CAPITAL..... $2,043,000 !
SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES (ABOUT)..... 1,00 ,000 !

Last dividend paid in cash to all the policy holders, about 29 per cent., amounting to over $400,000, and making nearly $1,000,000 thus paid since the Company began business. The past year, 1861, notwithstanding the adversities of the times, was one of marked prosperity.

WILLARD PHILLIPS, Pres. B. F. STEVENS, Sec.

Economy, care in its risks, and prudent investments, characterize this Company. The last report of the Insurance Commissioners, comparing this Company with all the principal companies of the country places it

FIRST in standing, FIRST in economy!

This Company being purely mutual, insures at the lowest possible rates; and, if the premiums paid exceed the actual cost, the surplus is returned to the parties insuring.

Every five years, at the time of declaring the dividends, the business is, as it were, closed, so that its actual position and solvency are made manifest at that time; and the surplus funds are divided pro rata, among all the insured. This guards the assured against any possible loss from inefficiency on the part of the Company, and is a sure guaranty as regards the future.

The terms of payment are peculiarly advantageous to the insured. Premiums can be paid annually, semi-annually, or quarterly, or one-half of the first five annual premiums on life policies loaned to the insured, if desired.

Insurance may be effected for the benefit of married women, beyond the reach of their husband's creditors. Creditors may insure the lives of debtors.

Documents of an interesting character, showing the benefits of the mutual plan, explaining the different forms of policies, and the manner of making payments, forwarded gratis, upon application to

MUSICAL BOXES

FROM THE

BEST MAKERS

IN

SWITZERLAND.

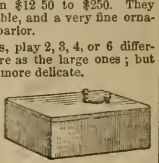
This cut represents one of the LARGE SIZE MUSICAL BOXES. They play 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, 16 and 24 different tunes each, and cost from $12 50 to $250. They are very durable, and a very fine ornament for the parlor.

THE SMALL SIZE, or POCKET MUSICAL BOXES, play 2, 3, 4, or 6 different tunes. They are made with the same care as the large ones; but being very much smaller, they are of course more delicate.

THE TOY MUSICAL BOX, as shown by this cut, is played by a handle or crank. It is certainly the most durable article made for YOUNG FOLKS. The whole of the works are brass and steel; the case alone is wood. They play 1, 2, 3, or 4 tunes.



To all of the above I have

FIRST-CLASS GOLD MEDAL FOR THE

WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINE.

Similar awards have been made in England.

One feature in the use of the WHEELER & WILSON Sewing Machine, resulting from the wide range of its application, is the varying branches of business to which it is applied as fashion changes. Thus, a house or a person furnished with these machines may, at different seasons, employ them in making ARMY CLOTHING, Skirts, or Mantillas, or Diamond Ruffling, or Skirts, or stitching Hats and Caps, etc. It is not as if they were limited to one branch of manufacture, and must remain unused unless that particular article were in demand. So long as sewing is to be done, these machines are sure of something to do. Hence the WHEELER & WILSON Sewing Machine, is the machine for all kinds of FAMILY SEWING, and for the use of Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, Silk Goods, etc.

The LOCK-STITCH made by this machine cannot be raveled, and presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam, a single line of thread extending from stitch to stitch. It is formed with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it. In beauty and regularity, and in the firmness of the seam formed, it excels hand sewing.

The qualities which recommend the Wheeler & Wilson machine are:

1. Beauty and excellence of stitch alike upon both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness, and durability of seam, that will not rip nor ravel, and made with
3. Economy of thread.
4. Its attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Compactness and elegance of model and finish.
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

DIFFERENCE OF TIME.—When it is 12 o'clock at noon at New York city, it is forenoon at all places west of New York, and afternoon with all places east; as in this table:

TRUE TIME.—Two kinds of time are used in Almanacs; clock or mean-time in some, and apparent or sun-time in others. Clock-time is always right, while Sun-time varies every day. People generally suppose it is twelve o'clock when the sun is due south, or at a properly made noon-mark. But this is a mistake. The sun is seldom on the meridian at twelve o'clock; indeed this is the case only on four days of the year: namely, April 15, June 15, Sept. 1, and Dec. 24. In this Almanac, as in most other Almanacs, the time used is clock-time. The time when the sun is on the meridian or at the noon-mark, is also given for the 1st, 9th, 17th, and 25th days of each month, at the right hand of the top of each calendar page. This affords a ready means of obtaining correct time and for setting a clock by using a noon-mark, adding or subtracting as the sun is slow or fast.

Old-fashioned Almanacs, which use apparent time, give the rising and setting of the sun's centre and make no allowance for the effect of the refraction of the sun's rays by the atmosphere. The more modern and improved Almanacs, which use clock-time, give the rising and setting of the sun's upper limb, and duly allow for refraction.

ASTEROIDS.—Ten additional asteroids were discovered in 1861, making the whole number at the close of the year seventy-two. Leverrier, the French astronomer, from studying the irregularities of Mercury and Mars, with other data, concludes that there is a belt of minute asteroids revolving within the orbit of Mercury, whose mass is comparable to that of Mercury; also a belt of asteroids at the distance of the Earth from the Sun, whose mass is not greater than a tenth part of the Earth's; and that the total mass of asteroids between Mars and Jupiter is not greater than the third part of the mass of the Earth. The second of these belts, moving in a different plane from the Earth, and intersecting it at most only twice a year, may give us some clue to the origin of the aerolites. These falling masses are now generally believed to be of the nature of planetary bodies, and may be presumed to be stragglers from such an elliptical belt of stones revolving around the Sun, and coming within the Earth's reach.

HIGH-WATER.—To find the time of high-water at any of the following places, add to or subtract from the time of high-water at New York in the calendar pages, the time affixed in this table.

How to Distinguish the Rank of Officers.—By observing the shoulder-straps worn by officers of the army, their rank can be readily ascertained. A major-general is distinguished by two silver stars on his shoulder-straps; a brigadier-general has but one star; a colonel has a silver embroidered spread eagle; a lieutenant-colonel has a silver embroidered leaf; a captain is known by two gold enbroidered bars; a first lieutenant has but one gold bar on the strap; a second lieutenant none at all. The cloth of the strap is as follows: Staff officers, dark blue; artillery, scarlet; infantry, light (or sky) blue; riflemen, medium (or emerald) green; cavalry, orange color.

The following "Owed to Lake Ontary" is worth preserving:

"Green ar' thy waters, green as bottle-glass—
Behold 'em strecht thar!
Fine muskalonges and Oswego bass
Is oft'n katched thar.
Thar the red Injin once took his delights,
Fisht, fit and bled;
Now most of the inhabitants is whites,
And nary red!"

DEAD TO THE LAW.—Some years ago a man without a family or relatives, lived in a county of Arkansas, and was possessed of an estate worth $5,000 He went to New Orleans and was absent four years without being heard from. The Probate Judge granted administration on his estate, wound it up and discharged the administrator. The man returned—had been to Mexico—when in court the following dialogue took place:

Dead Man.—If your honor please, I want my effects returned to me, as you see I am not dead.

Court.—I know—that is, as a man—that you are alive and in court, but as a court, I know you are dead, for the records of the court say so, and against their verity there can be no averment—so says Lord Coke, and a good many other books I never read.

Dead Man.—But I want my property, and it's no matter to me whether your records lie or not. I am alive, and have not transferred my property, and to deprive me of it without my consent is against the law.

Court.—If you intimate that the records of this court lie, this court will send you to jail.

Dead Man.—Send a dead man to jail?

BONE ORNAMENTS.

Silent the lady sat alone;
In her ears were rings of dead men's bone;
The brooch on her breast shone white and fine,
'Twas the polished joint of a Yankee's spine;
And the well carved handle of her fan
Was the finger-bone of a Lincoln man.
She turned aside a flower to cull
From a vase which was made of a human skull;
For to make her forget the loss of her slaves
Her lovers had rifled dead men's graves.

Do you think I'm describing a witch or ghoul?
There are no such things—and I'm not a fool;
Nor did she reside in Ashantee;
No—the lady fair was an F. F. V.

A WOMAN is either worth a great deal or she is worth nothing. If good for nothing, she is not worth getting jealous for; if she is a true woman, she will give no cause for jealousy. A man is a brute to be jealous of a good woman—a fool to be jealous of a worthless one; but he is a greater fool to cut his throat for either of them.

In Camp Curtin, at Harrisburg, a captain who is also a Methodist preacher, arose and began to exhort the men, stating that this war was one of right, and if God was not in it, he, for one, would have nothing to do with it. Then, exclaiming with great vehemence, "If God is with us, who can be against us?" "Jeff. Davis and the devil!" cried a "wild cat boy." The service closed hastily.

Safe, but not Comfortable.—In the battle at Bull Run, a soldier around whom the cannon shot were flying particularly thick, on seeing one strike and bury itself in a bank near him, sprang to the hole it had scooped out, remarking, "Shoot away! you can't hit twice in the same place." At the instant another shot struck at a few feet distance, almost covering the fellow with sand and gravel. Emerging from what had so nearly become his grave, he continued the unfinished sentence, "But you can come so pesky near it that the first hole is uncomfortable."

When Col. Davies, of the 16th New York Regiment, was marching through Baltimore, without drums, some of the lookers-on sneeringly asked, "Where's your music?" "In our cartridge boxes," said the grim colonel.

NOT MUCH DIFFERENCE.—A certain Judge was once obliged to sleep with an Irishman in a crowded hotel, when the following conversation ensued: "Pat, you would have remained a long time in the old country before you could have slept with a Judge, would you not?" "Yes, yer honor," said Pat; "and I think your honor would have been a long time in the ould counthry before ye'd been a Judge too."

ANECDOTE OF PHILLIPPA.—Among the troops in Western Virginia, stories about the Phillippa affair still form a staple of conversation. Here is one of the best:—A certain Indiana company, almost worn out with march, was straggling along with very little regard to order. Hurrying up to his men, the captain shouted, "Close up, boys! d—n you, close up! If the enemy were to fire on you when you're straggling along that way, they couldn't hit a d—n one of you! Close up!" And the boys closed up immediately.

VISCOUNT S—— once met M. de V——, and said to him, "Is it true, sir, that in a house where I'm thought to be witty, you said I had no wit at all?" M. de V—— answered, "My lord, there is not a word of truth in all the matter. I never was in a house where you were thought to be witty, and I never had occasion to tell anybody you had no wit at all."

"Do let me have your photograph," said a dashing belle to a gentleman who had been annoying her with his attentions.

The gentleman was delighted, and in a short time the lady received the picture. She gave it to the servant, with the question,

"Would you know the original if he should call?"

The servant replied in the affirmative.

"Well, whenever he comes, tell him I am engaged."

SHORT BUT EXPRESSIVE DIALOGUE—"John, where is your master to-day?"

"Oh, he's off, sir, recruiting."

"Recruiting, is he, that's good! where's he recruiting?"

"Up in the White Mountain, sir, recruiting his health."

"Ah! he's sick, is he? what's the matter?"

"He took cold on account of the draft."

SIGNS OF FOUL WEATHER.

BY DR. ERASMUS DARWIN.

The hollow winds begin to blow;
The clouds look black, the glass is low;
The soot falls down, the spaniels sleep;
And spiders from their cobwebs peep.
Last night the sun went pale to bed;
The moon in halos hid her head.
The boding shepherd heaves a sigh,
For, see, a rainbow spans the sky.
The walls are damp, the ditches smell,
Clos'd is the pink-ey'd pimpernel.

Hark! how the chairs and tables crack.
Old Betty's joints are on the rack:
Her corns with shooting pains torment her,
And to her bed untimely sent her.
Loud quack the ducks, the sea fowl cry,
The distant hills are looking nigh.
How restless are the snorting swine!
The busy flies disturb the kine.
Low o'er the grass the swallow wings,
The cricket, too, how sharp he sings!
Puss on the hearth, with velvet paws,
Sits wiping o'er her whisker'd jaws.

The smoke from chimneys right ascends,
Then spreading, back to earth it bends.
The wind unsteady veers around,
Or settling in the South is found,
Through the clear stream the fishes rise,
And nimbly catch the incautious flies.
The glow worms num'rous, clear and bright,
Illum'd the dewy hill last night.
At dusk the squalid toad was seen,
Like quadruped, stalk o'er the green.
The whirling wind the dust obeys,
And in the rapid eddy plays.
The frog has chang'd his yellow vest,
And in a russet coat is drest.

The sky is green, the air is still,
The mellow blackbird's voice is shrill.
The dog, so alter'd in his taste,
Quits mutton-bones, on grass to feast.
Behold the rooks, how odd their flight.
They imitate the gliding kite,
And seem precipitate to fall,
As if they felt the piercing ball.
The tender colts on back do lie,
Nor heed the traveller passing by.
In fiery red the sun doth rise,
Then wades through clouds to mount the skies.
'Twill surely rain, we see't with sorrow,
No working in the fields to morrow.

COAL OIL is said to be a sure destroyer of bedbugs. Apply plentifully with a small brush or feather to the place where they most do congregate. The cure is effectual and permanent. Gilt frames, chandeliers, etc., rubbed slightly over with coal oil, will not be disturbed by flies.

CALIFORNIA SENATOR—Rev. Thos. Starr King has been named as a candidate for U. S. senator from California to succeed Mr. Latham. In such an event the case of Mr. King will be somewhat analogous to that of Mr. John A. Gurly, of Cincinnati, who is a Universalist clergyman. He is said to be an active polemist; and when nominated for Congress, an old Methodist remonstrated with a brother for supporting for office a man that did not believe in hell. "I do not mind that at all," was the reply; "Mr. Gurly will not be in Congress long before he will find out that there is a hell!"

PRETTY WARM.—As illustrative of the intense summer heat of the Colorado country, military men at Fort Yuma used to have a tale that a soldier died there and was buried, and went to the hot place; but that one night he reappeared among his comrades, and said that it was so much colder down below than he had been accustomed to that he could not stand it, and had to come back after his blankets.

ABOUT MULES.—In one of our western exchanges, we find an army correspondent's description of a mule that wouldn't go ashore: "Curse you, you brute," roared a soldier, whose philosophy had been sorely tried by an ill-conditioned, mangy little mule that first pitched off the plank into the river, and then when dragged to the brink obstinately refused to lift a foot to try to get out, and absolutely lay there, limp as a rag, without even holding up its head, till it was dragged out, into the mud, neck and heels, with a rope, manned by a file of soldiers—"curse the brute, what were you born a mule for, anyway? Your father wasn't a mule, and neither was your mother; what business had you to be a mule anyway, you brute, you?" And a sounding cuff, toward the butt of the long ear, emphasized the startling inquiry.

"As to being inflicted with gout," says Mrs. Partington very wisely as she stirred her tea, "high living doesn't always bring it on, depend upon it, though it generally does sometimes. It is incoherent in some families, and is handed down from father to son. Mr. Hammer, poor soul, who has been so long ill with it, inherits it from his wife's grandfather."

A MAN OF NERVE.—A venerable American judge relates the following anecdote: The morning following the battle of Yorktown I had the curiosity to attend the wounded. Among others whose limbs were so much injured as to require amputation, was a musician, who had received a musket ball in his knee. As usual in such a case, preparations were made to prevent the possibility of his moving. Says the sufferer, "Now, doctor, what would you be at?" "My lad, I'm going to take off your leg, and it is necessary that you should be lashed down." "I'll consent to no such thing. You may pluck my heart from my bosom, but you'll not confine me. Is there a violin in the camp? If so, bring it to me." A violin was furnished, and tuning it, he said, "Now doctor, begin." And he continued to play until the operation, which lasted about forty minutes, was completed, without missing a note or moving a muscle.

WAGGERY.—Some time ago, on the Sabbath day, we wended our way to one of our churches, and instead of a sermon, heard an address upon some missionary or other benevolent subject. After the address was concluded, two brethren were sent around with the baskets for contributions—Parson L——, who was one of the basket-bearers, taking the side upon which we sat. Immediately in our front, and upon the next seat, negligently reclined our friend Bill H——, a gentleman of infinite humor, and full of dry jokes. Parson L—— extended the basket, and Bill slowly shook his head.

"Come, William, give us something," said the parson.

"Can't do it," replied Bill.

"Why not? Is not the cause a good one?"

"Yes; but I am not able to give anything."

"Poh! poh! I know better; you must give a better reason than that."

"Well, I owe too much. I must be just before I am generous, you know."

"But, William, you owe God a larger debt than you owe any one else."

"That's true, parson, but then he ain't a pushing me like the balance of my creditors."

The parson's face got into rather a curious condition as he passed on.

Is not this an exquisite picture of the West?

"See, with her swelling bosom bare,
Yon wild-eyed Sister in the West,
The ring of empire round her hair—
The Indian's Wampum on her breast."

IMMIGRATION.—From Sept. 30, 1819, to Dec. 31, 1860, there arrived in this country 5,062,414 passengers of foreign birth, of whom 2,977,603 were males, 2,035,536 females, 49,275 sex not recorded. Of these more than 30 per cent. were between 20 and 35 years of age, and 50 per cent. between 15 and 30. The leading countries of supply were: Great Britain, 2,750,874 (of these about 2,000,000 from Ireland); Germany, 1,486,044; France, 208,063; British America, 147,162; Prussia, 103,452; China, 41,443 (these nearly all in California); Norway, Sweden and Denmark, 41,669; West Indies, 40,487; Switzerland, 37,733; Holland, 21,579; Mexico, 17,766; Spain, 16,248; Italy, 11,202; Iceland, 10. Of occupations of immigrants, there were 872,317 laborers, 764,879 farmers, 407,676 mechanics, 253,852 merchants, 49,494 servants, 39,967 miners, 29,484 sailors, etc., and 2,978,599 whose occupations were not stated.

FUGITIVE SLAVES.—The oft-asserted insecurity of slave property is shown to be untrue by these returns. In 1850, before the Fugitive Slave Law was in operation, there were 1,011 fugitives, or 1 in 3,165 slaves; in 1860, only 803, or 1 in 4,919. In the border states in 1850, there escaped nearly 600 out of 910,000; in the same states in 1860, less than 500 out of 1,000,000.

SEXES.—The following figures show the excess by per centage of males and females in the free white population of the States and Territories. Among slaves, the sexes are very nearly equal:

Males in Excess—Free States.—Excess per cent. of Free White Males over Females: California, 144.38; Illinois, 11.62; Indiana, 7.12; Iowa, 10.63; Kansas, 25.58; Maine, 1.96; Michigan, 11.40; Minnesota, 17.98; Ohio, 3.50; Oregon, 51.87; Pennsylvania, 0.46; Vermont, 1.56; Wisconsin, 10.69. Territories.—Colorado, 1971.27; Dakota, 60.77; Nebraska, 38.99; Nevada, 759.43; New Mexico, 11.29; Utah, 1.15; Washington, 148.05. Slave States.—Arkansas, 12.32; Delaware, 2.89; Florida, 11.70; Georgia, 3.64; Kentucky, 6.51; Louisiana, 13.00; Mississippi, 11.12; Missouri, 12.54; South Carolina, 0.70; Tennessee, 4.66; Texas, 18.85; Virginia, 2.

Females in Excess—Free States.—Connecticut, 3.06; Massachusetts, 6.24; New Hampshire, 4.04; New Jersey, 0.38; New York, 0.57; Rhode Island 7.36; District of Columbia, 5.39. Slave States.—Maryland, 0.85; North Carolina, 0.82.

For the whole country, the excess of free white males over free white females is 5.59 per cent. Of the free colored population of the whole country, there is a female excess of 8.54 per cent; of the entire slave population, the male excess is only 59 hundredths of one per cent. Of Indians, the male excess is 12.71 per cent.

DEAF AND DUMB.—There are 15,077 deaf and dumb; of whom 14,269 are free and 808 slaves. In 1850, there were 24 schools for instructing these unfortunates, with an attendance of 2,000.

BLIND.—Whole No. in 1860, 12,635—11,125 free, 1,510 slave; one blind person to 2,470 of population. They had 23 schools, with 1,126 pupils.

INSANE.—In 1860, 23,593 free and 406 slaves—total, 23,999. From 1851 to 1860, there were 18 new institutions for the insane put in operation.

IDIOTIC.—Whole No. 17,286 free, 1,579 slave—total, 18,865; one idiotic in 1,666 population.

MANUMISSION.—In 1860, there were 3,018 slaves manumitted, more than twice as many as in 1850. Maryland set free 1,017; Louisiana, 517; Virginia, 277; North Carolina, 258; Mississippi, 182; Kentucky, 176; Tennessee, 174; Georgia, 100; Alabama, 101; South Carolina, 12, etc.

COST OF TAKING THE CENSUS OF 1860.—There were 64 marshalls and 4,417 assistants, to whom $1,045,206.75 was paid. About 200 clerks were engaged in the census bureau.

SYNOPSIS OF THE PRINCIPAL ACTS OF THE XXXVIITH CONGRESS.

SECOND SESSION.

CHAP. CXCV.—The Punishment of Treason, Confiscation, and Amnesty Act.—Every person committing treason shall suffer death, and his slaves be made free; or, at discretion of the court, imprisoned not less than five years, and fined not less than $10,000, and his slaves be made free; the fine to be collected out of any property except slaves. For inciting or aiding rebellion, or giving aid to the existing rebellion, not more thau ten years imprisonment, or not more than $10,000 fine, and the liberation of slaves—or by both of these punishments. All persons guilty under this act are disqualified from holding office. The act does not affect persons guilty of treason before its passage, but they may be convicted under it. The President is directed to seize the property of all the rebel civil and military officers, of their congressmen, official representatives, governors, legislators, of any who have held office under the United States and who hereafter hold office in the so-called Confederate States, and of any person hereafter holding any office or agency under the government of the so-called Confederate States of America, or under any of the several States of the said confederacy, or the laws thereof, whether such office or agency be national, State, or municipal in its name or character. The President is also to seize the property of any person who, owning property in any loyal State or Territory of the United States, or in the District of Columbia, shall hereafter assist and give aid and comfort to such rebellion; and all sales, transfers, or conveyances of any such property shall be null and void. Section sixth provides for the sixty days' notice given by the President's proclamation of the 25th of July, 1862. At the end of that time, the property of all rebels who had not returned to allegiance was liable to seizure and confiscation, and all sales and transfers after that date (September 24th) are void. Property seized under this act is to be proceeded against in the United States courts in the districts where the property is or where it may be brought. Section ninth enacts that all slaves of persons who shall hereafter be engaged in rebellion, or who shall in any way give aid or comfort thereto, escaping from such persons and taking refuge within the lines of the army; and all slaves captured from such persons or deserted by them and coming under the control of the Government of the United States; and all slaves of such persons found or being within any place occupied by rebel forces and afterward occupied by the forces of the United States, shall be deemed captures of war, and shall be forever free of their servitude, and not again held as slaves. No slave escaping into any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, from any other State, shall be delivered up, or in any way impeded or hindered of his liberty, except for crime, or some offence against the laws, unless the person claiming said fugitive shall first make oath that the person to whom the labor or service of such fugitive is alleged to be due is his lawful owner, and has not borne arms against the United States in the present rebellion, nor in any way given aid and comfort thereto. The President is also authorized to employ as many persons of African descent as he may deem necessary and proper for the suppression of this rebellion, and for this purpose he may organize and use them in such manner as he may judge best for the public welfare. The President is authorized to make provision for the settlement, in some tropical country beyond the limits of the United States, of such persons of the African race, made free by this act, as may be willing to emigrate. The President is authorized, at any time, by proclamation, to extend to persons who may have participated in the existing rebellion in any State or part thereof, pardon and amnesty, with such exceptions and at such time and on such conditions as he may deem expedient for the public welfare.

THE SIXTY DAYS' NOTICE.

In pursuance of the sixth section of the act of Congress entitled "An act to suppress insurrection and to punish treason and rebellion, to seize and confiscate the property of rebels, and for other purposes," approved July 17, 1862, and which act, and the joint resolution explanatory thereof, are herewith published; I, ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim to and warn all persons within the contemplation of said sixth section to cease participating in, aiding, countenancing, or abetting the existing rebellion, or any rebellion, against the Government of the United States, and to return to their proper allegiance to the United States, on pain of the forfeitures and seizures as within and by said sixth section provided.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this twenty-fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-seventh.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

THE PROCLAMATION.

I, ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President of the United States of America, and Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy thereof, do hereby PROCLAIM and DECLARE that hereafter, as heretofore, the war will be prosecuted for the object of practically restoring the constitutional relation between the United States and the people thereof, in which States that relation is, or may be, suspended or disturbed; that it is my purpose upon the next meeting of Congress, to again recommend the adoption of a practical measure tendering pecuniary aid to the free acceptance or rejection of all the Slave States so called, the people whereof may not then be in rebellion against the United States, and which States may then have voluntarily adopted or thereafter may voluntarily adopt the immediate or gradual abolishment of slavery within their respective limits; and that the effort to colonize persons of African descent with their consent upon this continent or elsewhere with the previously obtained consent of the Governments existing there, will be continued; that on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, all persons held as slaves within any State, or any designated part of a State, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be thenceforward and forever free, and the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to repress such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom; that the Executive will, on the first day of January aforesaid, by proclamation, designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof respectively shall then be in rebellion against the United States, and the fact that any State, or the people thereof, shall on that day be in good faith represented in the Congress of the United States by members chosen thereto at elections wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such State shall have participated, shall, in the absence of strong countervailing testimony, be deemed conclusive evidence that such State and the people thereof are not then in rebellion against the United States.

That attention is hereby called to an act of Congress, entitled "An act to make an additional article of war," approved March 13, 1862, and which act is in the words and figures following:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled: That hereafter the following shall be promulgated as an additional article of war, for the government of the army of the United States, and shall be observed and observed as such:

Article. All officers or persons in the military or naval service of the United States are prohibited from employing any of the forces under their respective commands for the purpose of returning fugitives from service or labor, who may have escaped from any persons to whom such labor is claimed to be due, and any officer who shall be found guilty by a court-martial of violating this article, shall be dismissed from the service.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Also, to the ninth and tenth sections of an act entitled "An act to suppress insurrection, to punish treason and rebellion, to seize and confiscate the property of rebels, and for other purposes," approved July 17, 1862, and which sections are in the words and figures following:

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That all slaves of persons who shall hereafter be engaged in rebellion against the Government of the United States, or who shall in any way give aid or comfort thereto, escaping from such persons and taking refuge within the lines of the army; and all slaves captured from such persons or deserted by them and coming under the control of the Government of the United States; and all slaves of such persons found on (or being within) any place occupied by rebel forces and afterward occupied by the forces of the United States, shall be deemed captures of war, and shall be forever free of their servitude, and not again held as slaves.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That no slave escaping into any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, from any of the States shall be delivered up, or in any way impeded or hindered of his liberty, except for crime, or some offense against the laws, unless the person claiming said fugitive shall first make oath that the person to whom the labor or service of such fugitive is alleged to be due, is his lawful owner, and has not been in arms against the United States in the present rebellion, nor in any way given aid and comfort thereto; and no person engaged in the military or naval service of the United States shall, under any pretense whatever, assume to decide on the validity of the claim of any person to the service or labor of any other person, or surrender up any such person to the claimant, on pain of being dismissed from the service.

And I do hereby enjoin upon and order all persons engaged in the military and naval service of the United States to observe, obey, and enforce, within their respective spheres of service, the act and sections above recited.

And the Executive will in due time recommend that all citizens of the United States who shall have remained loyal thereto throughout the rebellion, shall (upon the restoration of the constitutional relation between the United States, and their respective States and people, if the relation shall have been suspended or disturbed) be compensated for all losses by acts of the United States, including the loss of slaves.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this twenty-second day of September, in the year of our [L. S.] Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-seventh.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

CHAP. LIV.—Abolishing Slavery in the District of Columbia.—"All persons held to service or labor within the District of Columbia by reason of African descent, are hereby discharged and freed of and from all claim to such service or labor; and from and after the passage of this act, [April 16, 1862], neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except for crime, whereof the party shall be duly convicted, shall exist in said District." The other sections provide a Commission to hear the facts, in order to remunerate loyal owners for slaves thus liberated. The entire sum to be apportioned must not exceed $300 per slave. $1,000,000 was appropriated. No allowance made for slaves brought into the District after the passage of the act. The Commissioners were to report in full in nine months. Witnesses are not to be excluded on account of color. Provision was made against the kidnapping or secret removal of slaves from the District; all who were freed, had free papers from the Government. To encourage the freed men to emigrate, $100,000 was appropriated, to enable the President to send them to Hayti, Liberia, or other countries beyond the United States. (A supplemental act provided that slaves from any State, hired out or employed in the District after April 16, 1862, should be free.)

CHAP. CXI.—An Act to secure Freedom to all Persons within the Territories of the United States.—Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,—That from and after the passage of this act there shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in any of the Territories of the United States now existing, or which may at any time hereafter be formed or acquired by the United States, otherwise than in punishment of crimes whereof the party shall have been duly convicted.

CHAP. XL.—Prohibits the Army from Catching Slaves.—Enacting a new Article of War, declaring that "all officers or persons in the military or naval service of the United States are prohibited from employing any of the forces under their respective commands for the purpose of returning fugitives from service or labor, who may have escaped from any persons to whom such service or labor is claimed to be due, and any officer who shall be found guilty by a court-martial of violating this article, shall be dismissed from the service."

CHAP. XCVI.—Representatives to Hayti and Liberia.—The President is authorized to appoint diplomatic representatives to the Republics of Hayti and Liberia, each of whom shall be accredited as Commissioner and Consul-General, and have the salary provided for such officers elsewhere.

CHAP. CXCVII.—Disposal of Africans taken from Slave Ships.—The President is authorized to contract with some government in the West Indies or other tropical country, to receive for not more than five years at one time, all negroes, mulattoes, or persons of color, delivered from on board vessels seized in the prosecution of the slave trade by commanders of United States armed vessels, and to provide them with suitable instruction, and with comfortable clothing and shelter, and to employ them, at wages, under such regulations as shall be agreed upon.

CHAP. CXX.—The Pacific Railroad and Telegraph Act.—Nearly 200 eminent capitalists and five special commissioners are incorporated as the Union Pacific Railroad Company, to "locate, construct, furnish, maintain, and enjoy a continuous railroad and telegraph, with the appurtenances, from a point on the one hundredth meridian of longitude west from Greenwich, between the south margin of the valley of the Republican River and the north margin of the valley of the Platte River, in the Territory of Nebraska, to the western boundary of Nevada Territory." The capital stock is 100,000 shares of $1,000 each, not more than 200 shares to be held by one person. The corporators named constitute a Board of Commissioners, and 25 are a quorum for business, on organizing by electing President, Secretary and Treasurer and opening books of subscription; when 2,000 shares are subscribed for, and $10 per share paid, a time shall be named for the first meeting of subscribers, and advertised for 80 days; at that meeting, 18 directors are to be elected by the stockholders (who can vote in person or by proxy), and when so elected, the directors assume all authority, the powers of the first Commissioners ceasing. The President of the United States appoints two additional directors on the part of the Government, these two not to be stockholders; every elected director must own five shares or more—all to hold office for three years. The directors shall elect President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary. The stockholders are to make by-laws and rules; the directors appoint engineers, agents and subordinates; a majority of the directors make a quorum; annual meetings of stockholders are to be held.—2. Right of way over public lands and power to take materials for 200 feet on each side of the road is granted, with right of land for depots, switches, etc.; Indian titles to be extinguished as soon as may be.—3. There is granted to the company every alternate section of public land, designated by odd numbers, to the amount of five alternate sections per mile on each side of said railroad, on the line thereof, and within the limits of ten miles on each side, not sold, reserved, or otherwise disposed of by the United States, and to which a preemption or homestead claim may not have attached, at the time the line of said road is definitely fixed: Provided, That all mineral lands shall be excepted from the operation of this act; but where the same shall contain timber, the timber thereon is granted to said company. And all such lands, so granted by this section, which shall not be sold or disposed of by said company within three years after the entire road shall have been completed, shall be subject to settlement and preemption, like other lands, at a price not exceeding one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, to be paid to said company.—4. When 40 miles of road and telegraph shall have been completed, patents shall issue conveying the right and title to said lands to said company, on each side of the road as far as the same is completed, to the amount aforesaid; and patents shall in like manner issue as each forty miles of said railroad and telegraph line are completed.—5. When 40 miles are finished, the Secretary of the Treasury shall issue to said company bonds of the United States of $1,000 each, payable in thirty years, bearing six per cent. interest (payable semi-annually), which interest may be paid in United States treasury notes or any other money or currency which the United States have or shall declare lawful money and a legal tender, to the amount of sixteen bonds per mile for each section of forty miles; and to secure the repayment to the United States, all such bonds constitute a first mortgage in favor of the United States.—6. These bonds are granted on condition that the company pay their bonds at maturity, keep the road and telegraph in repair, transport mails, troops, war material and public stores when required, at fair compensation, which shall be no more than paid by private parties—

Government to have preference of accommodation.—7. The company shall file their assent to the act within one year, and complete the road before July 1st, 1874; the general route shall be fixed within two years, and then all lands within fifteen miles of the route shall be withdrawn from preemption, private entry and sale.—8, 9. The Leavenworth and Western Railroad Company of Kansas are authorized to construct a railroad and telegraph line from the Missouri River, at the mouth of the Kansas, to connect with the Pacific Railroad of Missouri, to one hundredth meridian of longitude, upon the same terms and conditions as provided for the construction of the Pacific Railroad, and to meet and connect with the same at the meridian aforesaid; and said railroad through Kansas shall be so located, that the several roads from Missouri and Iowa, authorized to connect with the same, can make connection within the limits prescribed in this act, provided the same can be done without deviating from the general direction of the whole line to the Pacific coast. The Central Pacific Railroad Company of California are authorized to construct a railroad and telegraph line from the Pacific coast, at or near San Francisco, or the navigable waters of the Sacramento River, to the eastern boundary of California, upon the same terms and conditions, to meet and connect with the main railroad and telegraph line on the eastern boundary of California.—10. The Kansas Company shall complete 100 miles of road in two years, and 100 miles a year thereafter; the California Company fifty miles in two years, and fifty miles a year thereafter; and after either or both companies have finished their own roads, they may unite on equal terms in the construction of the main line. The same is permitted to the Hannibal and St. Joseph, and the Pacific Railroad Company of Missouri, so far as to assist the Kansas Company to construct the Leavenworth branch. If the main company complete their road to the California line, the California part is done, they may keep on in that State till they meet the other road; and in like manner the Californians may continue to build eastward in Nevada if they first reach the line.—11. For 150 miles in the Rocky Mountains and 150 miles in the Sierra Nevada, the Government aid (bonds) shall be treble the amount for other sections, and may issue on the completion of each twenty miles; between the two points, that is through Utah and Nevada, the aid shall be double, issuing upon each twenty miles.—12. The track is to be of uniform width or guage, to be determined by the President of the United States; grades and curves not to exceed the maximum on the Baltimore and Ohio road; the main road and all branches to be operated as one continuous line.—13. The Hannibal and St Joseph Company may extend their road via Atchison, to unite with the road through Kansas; and the Leavenworth, Pawnee, and Western Railroad Company may construct their road from Leavenworth to unite with the road through Kansas.—14 The Union Company is required to construct a single line of railroad and telegraph from a point on the western boundary of the State of Iowa, to be fixed by the President of the United States, upon the most direct and practicable route, so as to form a connection with the lines of said company at some point on the one hundredth meridian of longitude aforesaid, upon the same terms and conditions as for the construction of the railroad and telegraph first mentioned; and they shall complete one hundred miles in two years after filing their assent, and at the rate of one hundred miles per year thereafter. And whenever there shall be a line of railroad completed through Minnesota or Iowa to Sioux City, then the Pacific Railroad Company is required to construct a railroad and telegraph from Sioux City upon the most direct and practicable route to connect with the branch railroad herein mentioned, or with the Pacific Railroad, said point to be fixed by the President of the United States, on the same terms and conditions at the rate of one hundred miles per year.—15. Any other railroad company shall have the right to connect their road with the road and branches provided for by this act, at such places and upon such just and equitable terms as the President of the United States may prescribe.—16. All the companies named in this act, or any two or more of them, may consolidate into one.—17. If they fail to comply with agreements, Congress may do the work and apply the revenues of the roads to the repayment of the expense. If there is not a continuous railroad ready for use from the Missouri to the Sacramento by July 1, 1876, everything is forfeited to the United States. Of the bonds to be issued for the main line, 15 per cent. shall be reserved until all is finished; for the branches, 25 per cent. is so reserved.—18. When net earnings shall exceed 10 per cent. upon the cost of the railroad and telegraph, Congress may reduce the rates of fare, if they are unreasonable.—Sec. 19 provides for agreement with the Pacific and Overland Telegraph Companies to extend their wires along the road.—Sec. 20, and last, prescribes the form of annual report to be made to the Secretary of the Treasury.

CHAP. LXXV.—An Act to secure Homesteads to actual Settlers on the Public Domain.—Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person who is the head of a family, or who has arrived at the age of twenty-one years, and is a citizen of the United States, or who shall have filed his declaration of intention to become such, as required by the naturalization laws of the United States, and who has never borne arms against the United States Government or given aid and comfort to its enemies, shall, from and after the first of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, be entitled to enter one quarter section or a less quantity unappropriated public lands, upon which said person may have filed a preemption claim, or which may, at the time the application is made, be subject to preemption at one dollar and twenty-five cents, or less, per acre; or eighty acres or less of such unappropriated lands, at two dollars and fifty cents per acre, to be located in a body, in conformity to the legal subdivisions of the public lands, and after the same shall have been surveyed:

Provided, That any person owning and residing on land may, under the provisions of this act, enter other land lying contiguous to his or her said land, which shall not, with the land so already owned and occupied, exceed in the aggregate one hundred and sixty acres.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the person applying for the benefit of this act shall, upon application to the register of the land office in which he or she is about to make such entry, make affidavit before the said register or receiver that he or she is the head of a family, or is twenty-one years or more of age, or shall have performed service in the army or navy of the United States, and that he has never borne arms against the Government of the United States or given aid and comfort to its enemies, and that such application is made for his or her exclusive use and benefit, and that said entry is made for the purpose of actual settlement and cultivation, and not either directly or indirectly for the use or benefit of any other person or persons whomsoever; and upon filing the said affidavit with the register or receiver, and on payment of ten dollars, he or she shall thereupon be permitted to enter the quantity of land specified: Provided, however, That no certificate shall be given or patent issued therefor until the expiration of five years from the date of such entry; and if, at the expiration of such time, or at any time within two years thereafter, the person making such entry; or, if he be dead, his widow; or in case of her death, his heirs or devisee; or in case of a widow making such entry, her heirs or devisee, in case of her death; shall prove by two credible witnesses that he, she, or they have resided upon or cultivated the same for the term of five years immediately succeeding the time of filing the affidavit aforesaid, and shall make affidavit that no part of said land has been alienated, and that he has borne true allegiance to the Government of the United States; then, in such case, he, she, or they, if at that time a citizen of the United States, shall be entitled to a patent, as in other cases provided for by law: And provided, further, That in case of the death of both father and mother, leaving an infant child, or children, under twenty-one years of age, the right and fee shall enure to the benefit of said infant child or children; and the executor, administrator, or guardian may, at any time within two years after the death of the surviving parent, and in accordance with the laws of the State in which such children for the time being have their domicile, sell said land for the benefit of said infants, but for no other purpose; and the purchaser shall acquire the absolute title by the purchase, and be entitled to a patent from the United States, on payment of the office fees and sum of money herein specified.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the register of the land office shall note all such applications on the tract books and plats of his office, and keep a register of all such entries, and make return thereof to the General Land Office, together with the proof upon which they have been founded.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That no lands acquired under the provisions of this act shall in any event become liable to the satisfaction of any debt or debts contracted prior to the issuing of the patent therefor.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That if, at any time after the filing of the affidavit, as required in the second section of this act, and before the expiration of the five years aforesaid, it shall be proven, after due notice to the settler, to the satisfaction of the register of the land office, that the person having filed such affidavit shall have actually changed his or her residence, or abandoned the said land for more than six months at any time, then and in that event the land so entered shall revert to the Government.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That no individual shall be permitted to acquire title to more than one quarter section under the provisions of this act; and that the Commissioner of the General Land Office is hereby required to prepare and issue such rules and regulations, consistent with this act, as shall be necessary and proper to carry its provisions into effect; and that the registers and receivers of the several land offices shall be entitled to receive the same compensation for any lands entered under the provisions of this act that they are now entitled to receive when the same quantity of land is entered with money, one half to be paid by the person making the application at the time of so doing, and the other half on the issue of the certificate by the person to whom it may be issued; but this shall not be construed to enlarge the maximum of compensation now prescribed by law for any register or receiver: Provided, That nothing contained in this act shall be so construed as to impair or interfere in any manner whatever with existing preemption rights: And provided further, That all persons who may have filed their applications for a preemption right prior to the passage of this act, shall be entitled to all the privileges of this act: Provided, further, That no person who has served, or may hereafter serve, for a period of not less than fourteen days in the army or navy of the United States, either regular or volunteer, under the laws thereof, during the existence of actual war, domestic or foreign, shall be deprived of the benefits of this act on account of not having attained the age of twenty-one years.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That the fifth section of the act entitled "An act in addition to an act more effectually to provide for the punishment of certain crimes against the United States, or for other purposes," approved the third of March, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, shall extend to all oaths, affirmations, and affidavits, required or authorized by this act.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent any person who has availed him or herself of the benefits of the first section of this act, from paying the minimum price, or the price to which the same may have graduated, for the quantity of land so entered at any time before the expiration of the five years, and obtaining a patent therefor from the Government, as in other cases provided by law, on making proof of settlement and cultivation as provided by existing laws granting preemption rights.

CHAP. CXXX.—Lands for Colleges.—Public lands (not mineral), not exceeding 30,000 for each senator and representative in Congress, are apportioned to the several States; the proceeds of the sale of such lands shall be invested in stocks of the United States, or of the States, or some other safe stocks, yielding not less than five per cent.; and the moneys so invested shall constitute a perpetual fund, the capital of which shall remain forever undiminished, and the interest of which shall be inviolably appropriated, by each State which may take and claim the benefit of this act, to the endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such manner as the legislatures of the States may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions in life. The conditions annexed are: 1. If the fund invested becomes diminished, the State shall make up the deficiency, the interest going to the support of colleges, save only ten per cent., which may go to purchase experimental farms. 2. No portion of the fund to go for buildings. 3. A State claiming the benefit of this act shall establish a college within five years; if not, the grant ceases, and the State refunds sale money and title. 4. Annual reports of progress to be made. 5, 6. No State in rebellion can enjoy this act. 7. No State shall enjoy the act unless it accept by vote of its legislature within two years.

CHAP. CLXX.—Single Congressional Districts.—Provides that members of Congress shall be elected in single districts of contiguous territory. A special provision excepted California for one election, and allowed Illinois to choose one member at large. Another act (March 4, 1862) increased the whole number of members of the House of Representatives to 241, assigning one each to Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Vermont, and Rhode Island.

CHAP. CLXXX.—Anti-Bribery Law.—Any member of Congress or officer of government who shall directly or indirectly receive or agree to receive any consideration for giving, procuring or aiding to procure any contract, office or place, are indictable for misdemeanor, and may be fined $10,000 and imprisoned two years. Contracts, etc., so tainted are void at the option of the President; the offending congressman or officer is disqualified from holding office afterward. Persons giving or offering bribes are subject to the same punishment, but are not politically disqualified. [Action suspended by a subsequent act until 1st Monday in January, 1868.]

CHAP CLXXXIV.—Hours and Wages in Navy Yards.—The hours of labor and the rate of wages of the employés in the navy yards shall conform, as nearly as is consistent with the public interest, with those of private establishments in the immediate vicinity of the respective yards, to be determined by the commandants of the navy yards, subject to the approval and revision of the Secretary of the Navy.

CHAP. LXXII.—Department of Agriculture.—Establishes at the seat of government a Department of Agriculture, the general designs and duties of which shall be to acquire and to diffuse among the people of the United States useful information on subjects connected with agriculture in the most general and comprehensive sense of that word, and to procure, propagate, and distribute among the people new and valuable seeds and plants. The chief officer is a Commissioner of Agriculture, whose duty is to acquire and preserve in his department all information concerning agriculture which he can obtain by means of books and correspondence, and by practical and scientific experiments (accurate records of which experiments shall be kept in his office), by the collection of statistics, and by any other appropriate means; to collect new and valuable seeds and plants; to test, by cultivation, the value of such of them as may require such tests; to propagate such as may be worthy of propagation, and to distribute them among agriculturists. He shall annually make a general report in writing. He shall also make special reports on particular subjects whenever required to do so by the President or either House of Congress, or when he shall think the subject in his charge requires it. And said Commissioner may send and receive through the mails, free of charge, all communications and other matter pertaining to the business of his Department, not exceeding in weight thirty-two ounces.

CHAP. LXXXVI.—Reducing Expense of Survey and Sale of Public Lands.—The commissioner of the Land Office is to fix the price of surveying per mile, and patents are not to issue until the cost of survey and platting is paid to the United States. Utah and Colorado were made one district, and Nevada was put with California; the President was authorized to discontinue land offices; salaries of registers and receivers were fixed at $500 per year, with present fees and commissions paid by claimants, and an additional fee of $5 to $15 for donation lands. The right of preemption was extended to California.

CHAP. XCIII.—To prevent and punish Frauds by Officers making Contracts for the Government.—The Secretaries of War, Navy, and the Interior, shall cause every contract made by them on behalf of the Government, or by officers under them, to be reduced to writing, and signed by the contracting parties, a copy of which shall be filed by the officer making and signing the said contract in the "Returns Office" of the Department of the Interior, within thirty days, together with all bids, offers, and proposals to him made by persons to obtain the same, as also a copy of any advertisement he may have published inviting bids, offers, or proposals. The officer shall also swear as follows: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the copy of contract hereto an-nexed is an exact copy of a contract made by me personally with ——; that I made the same fairly without any benefit or advantage to myself, or allowing any such benefit or advantage corruptly to the said ——, or any other person; and that the papers accompanying include all those relating to the said contract, as required by the statute in such case made and provided." False swearing to be punished as perjury.

CHAP. CXXVI.—To punish Polygamy.— Every person having a husband or wife living, who shall marry any other person, whether married or single, in a Territory of the United States, or other place over which the United States have exclusive jurisdiction, shall be adjudged guilty of bigamy, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, and by imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years. This section shall not extend to any person by reason of any former marriage whose husband or wife by such marriage shall have been absent for five successive years without being known to such person within that time to be living; nor to any person by reason of any former marriage which shall have been dissolved by the decree of a competent court; nor to any person by reason of any former marriage which shall have been annulled or pronounced void by the sentence or decree of a competent court on the ground of the nullity of the marriage contract. The second section annuls and disapproves such laws of Utah as support and countenance bigamy.

CHAP. CXXVIII.—Oath of Office.—Every person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the Government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval departments of the public service, excepting the President of the United States, shall, before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emoluments thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the United States since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel, or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have neither sought nor accepted nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority or pretended authority in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto. And I do further swear (or affirm) that, to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States, against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter, so help me God." False swearing is punishable as perjury.

CHAP. LIX.—Mint in Colorado.—Establishes a branch of the United States Mint at Denver, Colorado Territory, for coining gold only, and to be a depositary for public money, to be under the direction of the Director to the Mint at Philadelphia.

CHAP. III.—Courts-martial.—In time of war, the commander of a division or separate brigade may appoint general courts-martial, and confirm, execute, pardon, and mitigate their sentences, as allowed and restrained in the 65th and 89th articles of war; but sentences of such courts extending to loss of life or dismission of a commissioned officer, shall require the confirmation of the general commanding the army in the field to which the division or brigade belongs.

CHAP. IV.—Allotment Certificates.—Authorizes the President to appoint commissioners from each State to procure certified allotments of volunteers from such State, those allotments being payable in drafts at New York to the order of whomsoever they are made.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE OR TAX BILL.

"An Act to provide Internal Revenue to support the Government and to pay interest on the Public Debt," creates the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue with a salary of $4,000 per annum, who is charged, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, with preparing all the instructions, regulations, directions, forms, blanks, etc., pertaining to the assessment and collection of the duties provided for by this act. The President is directed to divide the States and Territories into convenient collection districts, not exceeding in number, in any State, the number of Representatives to which such State is entitled in Congress. Each district is to have one Collector and one Assessor, to be appointed by the President and Senate. Each Assessor to divide his district into a convenient number of assessment districts and appoint an Assistant Assessor for each subdivision. The Assessor receives $3 per day for certain services and $5 for certain other services, and $1 per hundred names of parties assessed. The Assistant Assessors receive $3 per day and $1 per hundred names of parties assessed. The Collector receives 4 per cent. on the first $100,000 collected, and 2 per cent. on the excess of $100,000 dollars; but his gross commissions shall not exceed $10,000, out of which he must pay such Deputies as he may require for his assistance and all other expenses except stationery and advertising. The processes for assessing and collecting the taxes are summary, but too extensive and minute for insertion in this work. The design of the act is evidently to tax, in one way or another, all kinds of trades, business, and occupations. In the first place, the act provides as follows for

The first income tax is to be assessed in May, 1863, being the income for the year commencing January 1, 1862, and ending January 1, 1863.

Collection of Taxes in Insurrectionary Districts.

Chap. XCVIII. enacts that in States and Territories where taxes cannot be peaceably collected, the said taxes shall be levied according to the assessed valuation next previous to January 1861, and a penalty equal to 50 per cent. of the tax shall be added. The President to designate by July 1, 1862, what sections were in rebellion. [His proclamation declares such to be the fact in South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, North Carolina, and the State of Virginia, except thirty-nine West Virginia counties.] By this proclamation the taxes and penalty became a lien upon the lands assessed. Owners may pay within 60 days after Commissioners have fixed the amount, and by such payment discharge the lien. When taxes are not so paid, title reverts at once to the United States without reclamation. President and Senate appoint three Tax Commissioners for each State—salary $3,000 a year—give $50,000 bond for security—receive no pay until actually discharging duty. These Commissioners are to advertise for sell land for non-payment of tax—advertisement to be for four weeks, local notices to be posted; lands not sold for full tax, penalty, costs, etc., to be bid in for the United States; buyers to pay in gold and silver or legal paper of the Government; certificate of purchase will be evidence of title. Loyal owners, however, may redeem on taking oath of allegiance and paying tax, penalty, costs, and 10 per cent. interest from July 1, 1862. In case of absence, infancy, or mental disability, guardians may redeem property. Special provision is made for those who prove loyalty under the 2d section of this act, and that they were unable to pay the tax; such persons have a year of time. Appeals may be made to United States District Courts. Commissioners may lease to loyal men lands accruing to the Government, and regulate the manner of occupation, so as to insure employment and support for residents on the land. Or, instead of leasing, they may divide and sell such lands; and if a soldier or sailor of the Union has, he may pay one quarter only, and have three years to pay the rest. Such lands may also be preempted by heads of families not owning other lands. The proceeds of sales go to the United States treasury; one-fourth then to go to the Governor of such State, after the insurrection is put down and a loyal State government is established, to reimburse loyal citizens, or for such purpose as the State may direct; another fourth shall be paid to such State to aid in colonizing free negroes. The remainder of the act specifies particularly the form of books, returns, etc.

☞ As our chronicle closes, about Christmas, events of great importance are soon expected. A vast army, in three or four divisions, is moving down through Tennessee and Mississippi; a powerful gunboat fleet is cooperating in the river; Gen. Banks's famous expedition is probably about landing at New Orleans or in that neighborhood; Gen. Burnside's army is almost ready for another movement; Gen. Foster's operations in North Carolina have created a diversion of the rebel forces; away in the extreme West, Gen. Herron's victory at Prairie Grove has broken the rebel power in Arkansas; the troubles in the Cabinet have been arranged, and the Secretaries hold their places; and, finally, it is understood that President LINCOLN will stand firmly by his PROCLAMATION OF FREEDOM TO THE SLAVES OF REBELS on and after the 1st day of January, 1863, the only point of doubt being as to what States or parts of States he will screen from the operation of the law.

NEW CONSTITUTION.—A new Constitution was voted down in June, 1862. The vote was divided upon four propositions, viz.: The Congressional Apportionment, Banks, Negro Suffrage, and Negro Residence. The apportionment was voted down by 7,500 maj.; the clause permitting banking institutions in the State was voted down by 4,500; allowing suffrage to colored men, by a majority equal to nine-tenths of the entire vote; and the section excluding negroes from the State, was carried by about two to one. The aggregate majority against the constitution was about 20,000. The section excluding negroes from the State being adopted, it became part of the present constitution.

LEGISLATURE, 1863.

There is a large Emancipationist majority in the lower House, probably about 70 of that party to about 40 of all other kinds. There is also probably an Emancipation majority in the Senate.

WISCONSIN.

Election for Members of Congress—1862.

The soldiers' vote not being fully received, we are unable to get the official canvass of this State in season for the Almanac. The footings o the Home Vote, including Racine, Iowa and Pepin Counties, rejected for informality, are as follows:

| Dist. | Rep. | Dem. | Maj. |
|---|---|---|---|
| I. Potter | 10749 | Brown | 13562—2813 |
| II. Sloan | 11886 | Guppy | 10438—1448 |
| III. Cobb | 9662 | Simpson | 8950—712 |
| IV. Bragg | 8882 | Eldridge | 15484—6602 |
| V. Browne | 9378 | Wheeler | 10839—1461 |
| VI. Hanchett | 8484 | Stoddard | 6354—2130 |

Mr. Hanchett has since died, and a special election is to be held in the district. The soldiers' vote may elect one or two more Republicans to Congress, but it is doubtful.

The Legislature is pretty evenly divided.

TENNESSEE.

Proclamation has been issued by Gen. Grant, subject to the approval of Gov. Andrew Johnson, for an election for members of Congress in two or three districts in this State.

VIRGINIA.

Proclamation has been issued for election of Congressmen in the two eastern districts of Virginia.

PORTABLE PRINTING OFFICES,

FOR THE USE OF THE ARMY AND NAVY,

Merchants, Druggists, and all Business Men,

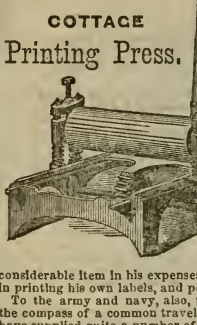
WITH WHICH THEY CAN PRINT THEIR OWN

HANDBILLS, CIRCULARS, BILLHEADS, LABELS, CARDS, ETC.



From its simplicity, cheapness, and durability, this press is particularly adapted to the wants of those who, having no previous knowledge of the art, wish to do their own printing.

In connection with the press, we furnish the type, ink, and other printing materials necessary to enable the purchaser to strike off his handbills, circulars, billheads, cards, etc., together with complete printed instructions for managing the press, setting type, etc. No fears need be entertained as to any difficulty in working these printing offices satisfactorily, on the ground of not having previous knowledge of the art. It is easily acquired by any person of common intelligence.

To druggists one of these printing offices is indispensable. Having occasion to use a great many different kinds of labels, and generally but few of a kind, his bill for printing forms a considerable item in his expenses. He can now employ the spare time of himself or his clerks in printing his own labels, and perhaps do something for his neighbors.

To the army and navy, also, they will be found very useful. They can be packed within the compass of a common travelling trunk, and transported any distance without injury. We have supplied quite a number of regiments with portable printing offices, and they have given universal satisfaction. Rear-Admirals FARRAGUT, GOLDSBOROUGH and BAILEY have each one of our printing offices in their respective fleets.

Every description of printing material, of the best quality, will always be kept on hand, and sold at manufacturer's prices. To meet the wants of a large class of our customers, we have made arrangements so that they can obtain a single line, or word even, of any description of wood or metal type, and at moderate prices. We supply printing paper, cards, and cardboard to order.

The weight of these printing offices, boxed, ready for shipment, is nearly as follows: No 1, 100 pounds; No. 2, 125 pounds; No. 3, 175 pounds; No. 4, 250 pounds; No. 5, 400 pounds. Specimen sheets of Type, Cuts, etc., sent on receipt of two three-cent stamps.

Peaches, Pears, Tomatoes, and every variety of fruit and vegetables is grown in great abundance, from which Chicago and other Northern markets are furnished from four to six weeks earlier than their immediate vicinity.

THE ORDINARY YIELD.

of Corn is from 50 to 80 bushels per acre. Cattle, Horses, Mules, Sheep and Hogs are raised here at a small cost, and yield large profits. It is believed that no section of country presents greater inducements for Dairy Farming than the Prairies of Illinois, a branch of farming to which but little attention has been paid, and which must yield sure profitable results.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS.

The Agricultural products of Illinois are greater than those of any other State. The Wheat crop of 1861 was estimated at 35,000,000 bushels, while the Corn crop yields not less than 160,000,000 bushels besides the crop of Oats, Barley, Rye, Buckwheat, Potatoes, Sweet Potatoes, Pumpkins, Squashes Flax, Hemp, Peas, Clover, Cabbage, Beets, Tobacco, Sorghum, Grapes, Peaches, Apples, &c., which go to swell the vast aggregate of production in this fertile region. Over Four Million tons of produce were sent out the State of Illinois during the past year.

CULTIVATION OF COTTON.

The experiments in Cotton culture are of very great promise. Commencing in latitude 39 deg. 30 min. (see Mattoon on the Branch, and Assumption on the Main Line), the Company own thousands of acres well adapted to the perfection of this fibre. A settler having a family of young children, can turn their youthful labor to a most profitable account in the growth and perfection of this plant.

THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD.

Traverses the whole length of the State, from the banks of the Mississippi and Lake Michigan to the Ohio. As its name imports, the Railroad runs through the centre of the State, and on either side of the road along its whole length lie the lands offered for sale.

CITIES, TOWNS, MARKETS, DEPOTS.

There are ninety-eight Depots on the Company's Railway, giving about one every seven miles. Cities, Towns, and Villages are situated at convenient distances throughout the whole route, where every desirable commodity may be found as readily as in the oldest cities of the Union, and where buyers are to be met for all kinds of farm produce.

EDUCATION.

Mechanics and working-men will find the free school system encouraged by the State, and endowed with a large revenue for the support of the schools. Children can live in sight of the school, the college, the church, and grow up with the prosperity of the leading State in the Great Western Empire.

DR. RADWAY'S

NEWLY DISCOVERED

Principles in Purgation.

DR. RADWAY'S PILLS ARE the best Purgative Pills in the World, and the only Vegetable Substitute for Calomel or Mercury ever discovered. Composed of VEGETABLE EXTRACTS OF GUMS, PLANTS, HERBS, ROOTS AND FLOWERS. They Purge, Cleanse, Purify, Heal Soothe, Calm Strengthen, Invigorate, and Regulate the System. IN SUDDEN ATTACKS OF INFLAMMATION OF THE BOWELS, BILIOUS COLIC, BILIOUS FEVER, ERYSIPELAS, CONGESTIVE FEVER, SMALL POX, MEASLES, SCARLET FEVER, SIX TO EIGHT PILLS will purge the disease from the system in SIX HOURS.

DR. RADWAY'S Pills are an improvement on all other Pills or Purgatives in use; they will cleanse the alimentary canal as the coughly as lobelia will the stomach, without prostrating or weakening the patient. They are the most active and thorough purgative, taken in maximum doses of say six to eight, known to the world; and in doses of one to four, are mild laxatives. As Alteratives, they are safer and more positive than calomel or mercury; as Tonics, they impart richness to the blood, tone and strength to the system.

They are the only purgatives that can be administered with safety in cases of SMALL POX SCARLET FEVER, TYPHOID FEVER, ERYSIPELAS, &c. If these Pills are administered in these diseases, the patient will recover; for while they purge, they soothe and heal, and will not deplete the system; this principle alone places DR. RADWAY'S PILLS above all other Pills in use.

DYSPEPSIA.—One or two of DR. RADWAY'S PILLS per day will afford immediate relief to the sufferer from Dyspepsia. Their continued use will cure the most desperate cases within six weeks. HABITUAL COSTIVENESS, CONSTIPATION OF THE BOWELS, HEADACHES, DROPSY, FITS, SCURVY, OBSTRUCTIONS, &c, DR. RADWAY'S PILLS will quickly cure. Price of these Pills are 25 cents per box; each box contains 80 Pills. These Pills are elegantly coated with balsamic gum.

R. R. R.

PAIN CURED.—RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is the most important medicinal curative—for the immediate relief of the sufferer— of all varieties of PAINS, ACHES and INFIRMITIES, and the prompt cure of the sick where PAIN, either internal or external, is a concomitant of the disease, that has ever been discovered. IN A FEW MINUTES after the application of the READY RELIEF externally, or its administration internally, the patient—seized with the most excruciating PAINS, ACHES, CRAMPS, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, GOUT, LUMBAGO, FEVER AND AGUE, SPASMS SORE THROAT, INFLUENZA, DIPTHERIA, CONGESTION or INFLAMMATION, will enjoy ease and comfort.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS AND OTHERS residing in sparsely settled districts where it is difficult to secure the services of a physician RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is invaluable. It can be used with positive assurance of doing good in all cases where pain or discomfort is experienced, or if seized with INFLUENZA, DIPTHERIA, SORE THROAT, BAD COUGHS, HOARSENESS, BILIOUS COLIC, INFLAMMATION OF THE BOWELS, STOMACH, LUNGS, LIVER, KIDNEYS, or with CROUP, QUINSY FEVER AND AGUE, or with NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, TIC DOLOUREUX, TOOTHACHE, EARACHE, or with LUMBAGO, PAIN IN THE BACK, or RHEUMATISM, or with DIARRHŒA, CHOLERA MORBUS or DYSENTERY, or with BURNS, SCALDS or BRUISES, or with STRAINS, CRAMPS or SPASMS. The application of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will cure you of the worst of these complaints in a few hours.

RHEUMATISM.—This painful disease has baffled the most skillful physicians and popular remedies. It is the most difficult of diseases to treat—yet RADWAY'S READY RELIEF has never failed in afford ing immediate relief to the sufferer; and in all cases of Acute, Inflammatory or Nervous Rheumatism to effect a permanent cure. (In Chronic Rheumatism and Gout RADWAY'S CLEANSING SYRUP, called Renovating Resolvent, should be taken as an adjunct with the READY RELIEF.)

A PULMONIC DISCOVERY FOR CONSUMPTION
AND INFLAMMATION OF THE THROAT, LUNGS AND BRONCHIAL PASSAGES.

A leguminous preparation discovered by Doctor Mattuecci, Professor of Medicine in the University of Pisa, who gave it the name of or Climate Assistant, and it fully deserves the appellation, as it fills up the space in the treatment of Diseases of the Lungs that the influences of the climate do not reach.

It is remarkable what effects have been produced by the medicine in the cure of pulmonary diseases, more especially and diseases of the Bronchial Passages and the Vocal Cords, as it exerts a specific influence upon the voice, particularly in those who have lost it wholly or partially.

In Bronchitis, both acute and chronic, attended with a dry, hacking cough and tickling of the throat, it is an instant relief; stimulating the bronchial membrane to secretion of mucus, thereby moistening the passages and protecting them from the irritating influences of the air, giving the inflamed membrane time to recover its healthy tone and vigor.

In Whooping Cough, Asthma, Catarrh, Sore Throat, Diptheria and Croup, it possesses the same peculiar power in preventing and curing, and is adapted to all classes, conditions and ages.

A MOTHER'S REMEDY.

MRS. HASTINGS' NURSING CORDIAL,

FOR CHILDREN DURING TEETHING,

A period in childhood almost always accompanied by DIARRHŒA and DYSENTERY diseases, when attended with FRETFULNESS and WANT OF SLEEP, are so exhausting to infants that thousands die every year from these causes alone; and NURSING CORDIAL, given at the onset and occasionally during the early month of Teething, will completely secure your child from attacks of Convulsions, Spasms and all other troubles incident to early childhood.

GRIPING of the BOWELS, WIND COLIC, and all SUMMER COMPLAINTS are instantly cured by it, and for want of it, or delay in obtaining it, your little child may die before relief comes, and we advise all MOTHERS and nurses to have the remedy, where by night or by day without a moment's loss you can, by a single dose, relieve your child from pain and suffering, and set your mind at rest that it is free from danger.

Mother, do not let your prejudices or the prejudices of others prevent you from using the NURSING CORDIAL, as by so doing you will secure health and happiness to your offspring.

Mrs. Hastings' Cordial is a MILD, SAFE and CERTAIN cure for all diseases to which children are liable while TEETHING, and from long experience we know that so reliable a remedy will be appreciated in every family, as the mother will find that this simple remedy will give her and her infant a refreshing night's rest when either of them are suffering from that NERVOUS WAKEFULNESS which is so hard to overcome, and we have never known of a single case in which it has failed to give the most perfect satisfaction.

Mrs. Hastings' Nursing Cordial is prepared expressly for children, and the trade mark is secured by the Government Stamp Act, and all persons counterfeiting or selling an imitation will be met by the law. All genuine are signed on the outside wrapper—Wm. H. Gregg, M.D., Sole Proprietor, New York, and the words, Mrs. Hastings' Nursing Cordial, blown in the glass. FIRST-CLASS GOLD MEDAL FOR THE

WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINE.

Similar awards have been made in England.

One feature in the use of the WHEELER & WILSON Sewing Machine, resulting from the wide range of its application, is the varying branches of business to which it is applied as fashion changes. Thus, a house or a person furnished with these machines may, at different seasons, employ them in making ARMY CLOTHING, Skirts, or Mantillas, or Diamond Ruffling, or Shirts, or stitching Hats and Caps, etc. It is not as if they were limited to one branch of manufacture, and must remain unused unless that particular article were in demand. So long as sewing is to be done, these machines are sure of something to do. Hence the WHEELER & WILSON Sewing Machine, is the machine for all kinds of FAMILY SEWING, and for the use of Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, Silk Goods, etc.

The LOCK-STITCH made by this machine cannot be raveled, and presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam, a single line of thread extending from stitch to stitch. It is formed with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it. In beauty and regularity, and in the firmness of the seam formed, it excels hand sewing.

The qualities which recommend the Wheeler & Wilson machine are:

1. Beauty and excellence of stitch alike upon both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness, and durability of seam, that will not rip nor ravel, and made with
3. Economy of thread.
4. Its attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Compactness and elegance of model and finish.
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

The word "SOZODONT" is derived from the Greek words SOZO, to preserve, and ODONTES, the teeth.—SOZODONT, A Preserver of the Teeth. 1

ALTHOUGH Tooth Powders and Pastes are occasionally useful as dentifrices, so far as pertains to their friction or erasive power to remove tartar and scurf from the enamel, few or none of them possess the valuable property of cleansing the cavities, or the interstices between the teeth, from the food which lodges therein, and which is the greatest source of decay. It is the power possessed by the "SOZODONT" to dislodge all such deposits, and thus prevent decay, that gives it its greatest value. But, in connection with this power, is combined an embalming or antiseptic property, and a delicate aromatic fragrance, which makes it really a toilet luxury, as it removes all disagreeable odors, even that of tobacco, and keeps the mouth fresh and agreeable. It imparts such a delightful sensation to the teeth and mouth, as to make it a pleasure for both children and adults to use it as systematically as they are in the habit of performing their daily ablutions—a practice which is essential, in order to preserve the teeth in a healthy condition during life.

The SOZODONT has been found a highly useful wash for the mouths of invalids, and particularly those who are suffering from fevers, as a few drops, added to a mouthful of water, and well agitated in the mouth, will relieve the tongue and surrounding parts of their dry and feverish coating, and will impart a sensation of coolness to the mouth for several hours thereafter. The above process may be repeated several times a day, or as frequently as desired.

This popular Dentifrice is now used and recommended by many of the first Dentists in the country, as well as by some of the most eminent Divines, Physicians, Chemists, and scientific gentlemen of the day.

The following prominent clergymen and their families, of N. York City, together with hundreds of others, having used the "SOZODONT" and been made acquainted with its composition, are convinced of its excellent and invaluable qualities, give it their cordial commendation.

HARDENING THE GUMS

Imparting a delightfully refreshing taste, and feeling to the mouth, removing all Tartar and Scurf from the Teeth, completely arresting the progress of decay, and whitening such cavities in the teeth as have already become black by decay.

Testimonials from the well-known Dentists, Dr. C. B. THURSTON, of Newark, N. J., and Dr. J. R. DILLINGHAM, of Boston, Mass.

I most cheerfully bear testimony to the unrivalled excellence of Van Buskirk's "Sozodont" for the Teeth. During my practice in dentistry for a number of years past, I have not only used it personally, but have recommended its use to my customers as being the most efficacious as well as delicious dentifrice in use, and well calculated as a preserver of the Teeth. C. B. THURSTON.

Having used personally and in my practice for some time past the Dentifrice called Van Buskirk's "Sozodont," I find it the best preparation I have yet seen for Hardening the Gums, Cleansing and Preserving the Teeth; it gives the mouth a cleanness, thereby correcting any disagreeable odors arising from decayed teeth, which I have been unable to obtain in any other preparation. It is an elegant toilet article, and well worthy the encomiums it has received. J. R. DILLINGHAM.

For purifying the blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas and all scaly eruptions of the skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

Of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the blood, instils the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy, that could be relied on, has long been sought for, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonfuls of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the Decoction as usually made.

☞ THESE EXTRACTS HAVE BEEN ADMITTED TO USE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY, and are also in very general use in all the STATE HOSPITALS and PUBLIC SANITARY INSTITUTIONS throughout the land, as well as in private practices, and are considered as invaluable remedies.

Madame Zadoc Porter's Balsam IS A PURELY VEGETABLE EXPECTORANT, prepared with great care and scientific skill, from a combination of the best remedies the vegetable kingdom affords. Its remedial qualities are based on its power to assist the healthy and vigorous circulation of the blood through the lungs. It enlivens the muscles and assists the skin to perform the duties of regulating the heat of the system, and in gently throwing off the waste substance from the surface of the body. It loosens the phlegm, induces free spitting, and will be found very agreeable to the taste. It is not a violent remedy, but emollient, warming, searching and effective; can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child.

Madame Zadoc Porter's Curative Balsam is no new and untried medicine, but has been used by the public for the past 22 years, with unparalleled success, and has acquired its present extensive and largely increasing sale, simply by being recommended by those who have used it to their afflicted friends and others.

DR. ZADOC PORTER'S CURATIVE SUGAR-COATED PILLS.

Nothing perhaps is more universally required among all classes than a mild, safe, and perfectly reliable Purgative Medicine, and such will be found in the Curative Pills, being purely vegetable, entirely free from all minerals and other injurious substances; and where a cold is accompanied with a headache, soreness of the body, etc., 4 to 6 of the Curative Pills taken in connection with the Balsam, will allay that difficulty. Persons suffering from nervous or sick headache, costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, should not fail to use the CURATIVE PILLS.

TRIBUNE ALMANAC FOR 1864.

The Astronomical Calculations have been made in mean time, expressly for this Almanac, by SAMUEL H. WRIGHT, of Dundee, Yates County, New York.

ECLIPSES for the Year 1864.

There will be two Eclipses this year, both of the Sun, and neither of them visible in the Atlantic States.

I. A Central Eclipse of the Sun, May 5, in the afternoon. Invisible in the United States, east of the Mississippi River, except a mere contact of limbs just at sunset in Wisconsin and the western part of Illinois, in which regions, and in all the States west of that river except Louisiana, it will be visible as a small partial Eclipse just at or before sunset.

In California and Oregon the Eclipse will be quite large, being at San Francisco about 9 digits in size, and at Portland 7 digits; beginning at S. Francisco at 4h. 28m., and ending at 6h. 49m.

II. An annular Eclipse of the Sun, October 30. Invisible in the United States, except a mere contact of limbs in New Mexico and Texas. It will be visible all over Mexico, the West-Indies, and South America.

It will be seen in the west soon after sunset at those times, and will set at 6 12, 8 39, 7 34, and 5 58 on those days respectively, and the intervals between the setting of the sun, and the setting of the planet, will be 1h. 25m., 1h. 48m., 0h. 49m., 1h. 18m. TO ASCERTAIN THE LENGTH OF THE DAY OR NIGHT, at any time of the year, add 12 hours to the time of the sun's setting, and from the sum subtract the time of rising, for the length of the day. Subtract the time of setting from 12 hours, and to the remainder add the time of rising next morning, for the length of the night. These rules are equally true for apparent time.

A New and Valuable Tide Table.—To find the time of high-water at any of the places named in the following table, add the time indicated in the first column of figures to the time of "Moon South," found in the calendar pages. EXAMPLE: Required the time of high-water at New Haven for January 9th, and 12th. For the 9th, Moon South, at 0h. 29m. in the afternoon, which added to 11h. 16m. gives 11h. 45m. of the same evening for high-water. On the 11th, Moon South at 2h. 25m. eve., which added as before, gives 13h. 41m., or 1 o'clock 41m. in the morning of the 12th, for high-water.

The "Establishment of the Port," in the above table is the mean interval between the time of the Moon's meridian passage and the time of high-water succeeding that transit. The true interval varies with the Moon's age, being least when the moon culminates about 4h.30m. and greatest when culminating about 10 o'clock, and at the mean, generally when the moon is 2 days old.

It sometimes happens that the tide comes in several hours later or earlier than the most learned calculation would determine; and this in consequence of the strength and direction of the wind, which the calculator cannot reckon upon. In using the quantities in this and the Star Table, observe that more than 12 hours and less than 24, from midnight or the beginning of morning, is afternoon of the same day; and that more than 12 hours and less than 24, from noon, is morning of the next day.

TRUE TIME.—Two kinds of time are used in Almanacs; clock or mean-time in some, and apparent or sun-time in others. Clock-time is always right, while Sun-time varies every day. People generally suppose it is twelve o'clock when the sun is due south, or at a properly made noon-mark. But this is a mistake. The sun is seldom on the meridian at twelve o'clock; indeed this is the case only on four days of the year: namely, April 15, June 15, Sept. 1, and Dec. 24. In this Almanac, as in most other Almanacs, the time used is clock-time. The time when the sun is on the meridian or at the noon-mark, is also given to the nearest second, for the 1st, 9th, 17th, and 25th days of each month, at the right hand of the top of each calendar page. This affords a ready means of obtaining correct time and for setting a clock by using a noon-mark.

Old-fashioned Almanacs, which use apparent time, give the rising and setting of the sun's centre and make no allowance for the effect of refraction of the sun's rays by the atmosphere. The more modern and improved Almanacs, which use clock-time, give the rising and setting of the sun's upper limb, and duly allow for refraction.

There is a popular error of great extent which has obtained by the use of the old-style almanacs, and that is, that the sun must rise and set at 6 o'clock in March and September when it crosses the equator. It has not risen and set at 6 o'clock at those times since the world was made, and never can do so, for the reason that it does not pass the meridian then at 12 o'clock.

JEWISH CALENDAR.—The 5624th year of 13 months, containing 383 days and 54 Sabbaths, being the 19th and last year of the Jewish lunar cycle, began September 14th, 1863, and will end September 30th, 1864. The 5625th year begins October 1, 1864, and contains 12 months and ends on the 20th September, 1865.

The Jewish Era dates from the creation of the world, which the Jews believe to have been 3760¼ years before our era began. The Jewish year is luni-solar, and consists of 12 and sometimes 13 months, which contain 29 or 30 days each. Ve-Adar is the 13th month, and is introduced between Adar and Nisan; the latter of which is the first month of the ecclesiastical year. In a cycle of 19 years, Ve-Adar is introduced 7 times.

MAHOMETAN CALENDAR.—The year 1280, or 20th hundred and 42d cycle began on the 18th of June, 1863, and contains 354 days, ending on the 5th of June, 1864. The year 1281 begins on the 6th of June and ends May 26th, 1865.

The Mahometan era began with the day after the flight of Mahomet to Medina; which event occurred in the night of Thursday, July 18 (N.S.), 622 A.D. The year consists of 12 months, embracing 12 lunations, or 354 days. The intercalary, or leap-years, consist of 355 days. In a cycle of 30 years, there are 19 common and 11 leap-years. Since the Mahometan year is 11 days less than the tropical year, "it is obvious that in about 33 years the above months will correspond with every season and every part of the Gregorian year." The 9th month is the month of fasting, at the close of which the feast of Bairam begins.

Chronological View of the Year 1864.—The year of the Vulgar or Christian Era, 1864, corresponds with the 1868th from the Birth of Christ; with the latter part of the 88th, and the beginning of the 89th of the Independence of the United States of America, which was declared Thursday, July 4, 1776; with the close of the 1233d of the Persian Era, which began Tuesday, June 19, N.S., 682 A.D. (the years of this era begin now on the 29th of August); with the 1280-1281st of the Hegira, or Mahometan Era; with the 1312th of the Armenian Ecclesiastical year; with the 1580th of the Era of Diocletian, or Era of Martyrs; with the 1902d of the Era of the Cæsars, or Spanish Era; with the 1909th of the Julian Era, or since the reformation of the calendar of Numa Pompilius, by Julius Cæsar; with the 2176th of the Grecian Era of the Seleucides; with the 2611th of the Babylonish Era of Nabonassar, used by Hipparchus and Ptolemy (this Era dates from Thursday, February 26th, N.S. 747 B.C., according to Chronologers, or 746 B.C. according to Astronomers—the years contained 365 days only); with the 2617th (according to Varro) of the old Roman Era A.U.C.; with the 2640th of the Olympiads, or the latter part of the 3d year of the 659th, and beginning of the 4th of the 660th Olymplad of 4 years; with the 3879th of the Era of Abraham, used by Eusebius; with the 4212th from the Deluge (according to Usher and the English Bible); with the 4501st of the Cali Yuga, or Hindoo and Indian Era, which dates from the Deluge; with the 4261st of the Chinese, or the 1st of their 76th cycle; with the 5624th from the CREATION OF THE WORLD, according to the Minor Era of the Jews, or the 6223d, according to the Greater Rabbinical Era of the Jews; with the 6092d, according to Eusebius; with the 5808th, according to Scaliger; with the 5868th, according to Usher and the English Bible; with the 7356th, according to the Antiochian and Abyssinian Eras; with the 7366th, according to the Alexandrian Era; with the 7372d, according to the Era of Constantinople, used by the Byzantine Historians. The age of the world is involved in great obscurity. There are about 140 different eras respecting it, some claiming the world to be more than three millions of years old. Julius Africanus, following the Septuagint version of the Bible, which is the most reliable authority for chronology that is known, makes the Creation to have taken place on the 1st of the Jewish month Tisri, 5508 years B.C., or 7372 years ago.

Star Table.—To ascertain when any star or constellation found in the following Table will be on the meridian, add the numbers opposite in the left-hand column of figures to the time of "Sidereal Noon" found in the calendar pages. For the RISING of a star, subtract the number opposite in the right-hand column of figures from its meridian passage. For the setting of a star, add the same number to its meridian passage. Those marked (....) revolve in a circle of perpetual apparition, and do not rise or set north of the latitude of New York (40° 42' 40"), for which latitude the semi-diurnal arcs are calculated. The civil day begins at the preceding midnight, and consequently 24 hours after midnight, or 12 hours from noon, is morning of the succeeding day; and 12 hours to 36 hours from noon, is evening of the next day. This table is arranged in the order of culmination.

HINTS TO HOUSEKEEPERS.

Manifold and perplexing are the duties of the American housewife. The prosperity, happiness, healthfulness, as well as the general appearance of the household, are all within the range of her responsibilities, and yet how few there are among the recipients of those blessings that truly appreciate them? In fact, it often follows, that those who are benefited the most by the industry and prudence of the manager of the domestic circle, and whose business it is to sympathize and aid in the discharge of her arduous duties, are the first to complain, and find fault with what she has done.

The principal and most dangerous obstacle, however, arises from the deceptive practices of unscrupulous traders; and it would be impossible for any housekeeper to excel, particularly in the preparation of food, when the materials supplied are misrepresented. This is a subject that should engross the attention of every household provider, and if their own judgment is inadequate for the protection of these most important interests, they at least should select articles which have an unquestionable reputation. Saleratus, Cream Tartar, Soda, and Spices, for example, although extensively used in every family throughout the country, are seldom sold in a pure state; indeed, if consumers understood the extent to which they are imposed upon, they would shrink with horror from the use of such vile deceptions. Take, as an instance, Cream Tartar, such as is generally sold by grocers, and of every hundred pounds, it is safe to say that eighty pounds of it is an earthy substance, similar to chalk or ground plaster, mixed with acid enough to give it the requisite taste, and although resembling Cream Tartar in color and taste, is nevertheless void of merit and unfit to be taken into the stomach; but neither housekeepers nor grocers are obliged to submit to such impositions while JAMES PYLE'S Saleratus, Cream Tartar, Soda, and O. K. Soap, are obtainable everywhere, and have a reputation for purity, good weight, and general usefulness, beyond dispute, even of competitors. The publishers of this Magazine will bear us out in this assertion, and so will the editors of nearly all the religious papers in New York. The grocer, however, may try to persuade you otherwise, for the simple reason that he sells something which he buys at a lower price and makes a larger profit. We have known some under this influence to recommend the poorest goods in market; but it is your right to have what you want, and their duty to furnish you.

Pyle's Saleratus and Cream Tartar have been before the public seven years, and are generally conceded the best in market. Pyle's O. K. Soap, although but little over one year in market, is now the most popular soap in New York, and the demand is still increasing. Pyle's Bluing Powder is an important article for housekeepers. It not only makes the best and cheapest Bluing in use, but also produces a brilliant Blue Writing Ink. It is the Washerwoman's Favorite Bluing.

All these articles are sold in Packages bearing the name of JAMES PYLE, without which none are genuine. Several large Silver Medals have been awarded to the proprietor of the above articles, and the following mention was made by the Judges at the late Fair of the State Agricultural Society, New York:

(Copy.) NEW YORK STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY, ROCHESTER FAIR, 1862.

I hereby certify that JAMES PYLE, of New York, was awarded a special prize at the State Fair at Rochester, on his O. K. Soap, Dietetic Saleratus, Cream Tartar, Baking Soda, and various other articles of exceeding great merit; and the Executive Committee of the Society give special commendation for the great excellence of the articles exhibited.

In witness whereof I have hereunto subscribed my name, and affixed the official [L. S.] seal of the Society. B. P. JOHNSON, Secretary.

WHOLESALE PRICES IN NEW YORK FROM 1847 TO 1863.

THE annexed table, covering a period of seventeen years—from 1847 to 1863—exhibits the relative wholesale price of many staple articles in several years during this period. All the quotations except those of the last column are dated on the 1st of May. The last column is brought down to November.

The price of many articles in every-day use, not given in the table, has largely increased within a few years. All kinds of cotton manufactured goods have become immensely dear, reaching, on most fabrics, prices a hundred per cent., and on many, four hundred per cent. above the selling mark of 1860. Brown sheetings, which were 6 @ 9½ cts. per yard in 1860, are now 19 to 40 cts.; bleached are up from 9 @ 15 to 19 @ 42; shirtings have undergone a similar change; prints are up from 6 @ 11 in 1860 to 12 @ 23 now.

ACTS OF CONGRESS.

SYNOPSIS OF THE PRINCIPAL ACTS PASSED AT THE THIRD SESSION OF THE XXXVIIth CONGRESS. DEC. 1, 1862, TO MARCH 4, 1863.

CHAP. V.—To facilitate the Discharge of Disabled Soldiers.—Adds eight medical Inspectors to the medical corps of the Army, at regular pay of their grade. They are to inspect hospitals and convalescent camps, and determine what soldiers are fit to be returned to duty or discharged from service.

CHAP. VI.—Admission of West Virginia; approved Dec. 31, 1862.—Whereas the people inhabiting that portion of Virginia known as West Virginia did, by a convention assembled in the city of Wheeling on the twenty-sixth of November, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, frame for themselves a constitution with a view of becoming a separate and independent State; and whereas at a general election held in the counties composing the territory aforesaid on the third day of May last, the said constitution was approved and adopted by the qualified voters of the proposed State; and whereas the Legislature of Virginia, by an act passed on the thirteenth day of May, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, did give its consent to the formation of a new State within the jurisdiction of the said State of Virginia, to be known by the name of West Virginia, and to embrace the following named counties, to wit: Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall, Wetzel, Marion, Monongalia, Preston, Taylor, Tyler, Pleasants, Ritchie, Doddrige, Harrison, Wood, Jackson, Wirt, Roane, Calhoun, Gilmer, Barbour, Tucker, Lewis, Braxton, Upshur, Randolph, Mason, Putnam, Kanawha, Clay, Nicholas, Cabell, Wayne, Boone, Logan, Wyoming, Mercer, McDowell, Webster, Pocahontas, Fayette, Raleigh, Greenbrier, Monroe, Pendleton, Hardy, Hampshire, and Morgan; and whereas both the convention and the Legislature aforesaid have requested that the new State should be admitted into the Union, and the constitution aforesaid being republican in form, Congress doth hereby consent that the said forty-eight counties may be formed into a separate and independent State: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the State of West Virginia be, and is hereby, declared to be one of the United States of America, and admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original States in all respects whatever, and until the next general census shall be entitled to three members in the House of Representatives of the United States: Provided always, That this act shall not take effect until after the proclamation of the President of the United States hereinafter provided for.

It being represented to Congress that since the convention of the twenty-sixth of November, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, that framed and proposed the constitution for the said State of West Virginia, the people thereof have expressed a wish to change the seventh section of the eleventh article of said constitution by striking out the same and inserting the following in its place, namely: "The children of slaves born within the limits of this State after the fourth day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, shall be free; and that all slaves within the said State who shall, at the time aforesaid, be under the age of ten years, shall be free when they arrive at the age of twenty-one years; and all slaves over ten and under twenty-one years shall be free when they arrive at the age of twenty-five years: and no slave shall be permitted to come into the State for permanent residence therein:" Therefore,

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That whenever the people of West Virginia shall, through their said convention, and by a vote to be taken at an election to be held within the limits of the said State, at such time as the convention may provide, make, and ratify the change aforesaid, and properly certify the same under the hand of the president of the convention, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States to issue his proclamation stating the fact, and thereupon this act shall take effect and be in force from and after sixty days from the date of said proclamation.

CHAP. On failure to redeem its notes, a bank may be protested, and shall stop business; thereupon the controller shall investigate, and if satisfied of the bank's refusal to pay its notes, he shall within 30 days declare the security bonds forfeited, and notify holders of the notes of such bank to present them for payment, the controller to cancel an equal amount of security bonds; the recalled notes are to be destroyed; if the bank's security do not redeem its circulation, the United States pays the difference, and has a just lien on the assets of the bank for repayment. Instead of cancelling forfeited bonds, the controller may sell them at auction in New York, or at private sale, but not for less than par. [Minute regulations are made for putting defaulting banks in liquidation, for transfer of bonds, etc., but they are unimportant.] Worn or mutilated notes may be exchanged for new. These banks may be depositories for public money. [Stringent provisions are made to punish embezzlement, defaulting, and counterfeiting, or imitating the notes]. These notes are legal tender, except for duties and interest on public debt, for their face value, excluding interest. They are exchangeable for United States notes, of which $150,000,000 may be issued. Secretary may issue $150,000,000 United States notes not bearing interest, as exigencies of public service may require, which are also legal tender save for duties and interest; such notes may be reissued, or new ones put out in place of them. Old notes to be called in and exchanged for bonds up to July 1, 1863. In place of postage stamps, $50,000,000 in fractional currency may be issued, receivable for dues less than $5, except duties and interest. Secretary may receive deposits of gold coin and bullion and issue coin certificates which are received for duties and payable for interest; they are not to exceed 20 per cent. more than the coin deposited. The Secretary determines the form of notes and certificates. A tax is laid on circulating notes of banks, viz.: one per cent. semi-annually on the average amount of circulation, as follows: Banks of not over $100,000 capital are taxed on 90 per cent. thereof; $100,000 to $200,000, 80 per cent.; $200,000 to $300,000, 70 per cent.; $300,000 to $500,000, 60 per cent.; 500,000 to $1,000,000, 50 per cent.; $1,000,000 to $1,500,000, 40 per cent.; $1,500,000 to $2,000,000, 30 per cent.; over $2,000,000, 25 per cent.; branches are rated as separate banks; and all such banks shall pay a duty one-half of one per cent. each half year from April 1, 1864, on the average amount of notes not therein taxed and outstanding as currency during six months preceding the returns here ordered; and the tax on banks under the national currency act shall be the same, but collected as required in said act; fractional parts of a dollar issued as currency are taxed five per cent. each half year. CHAP. LXXV.—The Enrolling Law.—[This, usually called the Conscription Act, has been so widely discussed that it seems unnecessary to place it here. What the people do not know of the enrollment, draft, exemption, commutation, penalties, etc., under this act, they will hardly be able now to learn.] Aside from the draft, this act provided bounties for re-enlisted volunteers; for consolidation of reduced companies; allowing commanding generals in the field to execute spies; provided that officers absenting themselves might be reduced to the ranks; declared heavy penalties for inducing soldiers to desert; also for resisting the draft or counseling resistance; that in time of war, murder and other felonies may be punished by court martial; giving officers on sick leave, half pay; prohibited enlistment from the volunteer into the regular army, and declared that spies should suffer death.

Prisoners indicted may be bailed if the offence be bailable. Any order of the President, or under his authority, made at any time during the present Rebellion, shall be a defence in all cases to any action or prosecution, civil or criminal, pending, or to be commenced, for any search, seizure, arrest, or imprisonment, made, done, or committed, or acts omitted to be done, under and by virtue of such order, or under color of any law of Congress, and such defence may be made by special plea, or under the general issue. The act provides for the removal of actions against officers for torts in arrest to the United States circuit courts, wherein the State courts can go no further; if final judgment has been given in a State court, the case goes to the United States court on appeal and is tried as if originally begun there. Such appeals are not allowed in criminal cases when judgment has been given for the defendant. Appealed cases may be carried to the Supreme Court. ## THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION.

By the President of the United States of America.

Whereas, on the twenty-second day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, a Proclamation was issued by the President of the United States, containing among other things the following, to wit:

"That on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, all persons held as slaves within any State, or designated part of a State, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be then, thenceforth and FOREVER FREE, and the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to repress such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom.

"That the Executive will, on the first day of January aforesaid, by proclamation, designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof respectively shall then be in rebellion against the United States, and the fact that any State, or the people thereof, shall on that day be in good faith represented in the Congress of the United States by members chosen thereto at elections wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such State shall have participated, shall, in the absence of strong counter-trailing testimony, be deemed conclusive evidence that such State and the people thereof are not then in rebellion against the United States."

Now, therefore, I. ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President of the United States, by virtue of the power in me vested as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States in time of actual armed Rebellion against the authority and government of the United States, and as a fit and necessary war measure for suppressing said Rebellion, do, on this first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and in accordance with my purpose so to do, publicly proclaim for the full period of one hundred days from the day of the first abovementioned order, and designate, as the States and parts of States wherein the people thereof respectively are this day in rebellion against the United States, the following, to wit: ARKANSAS, TEXAS, LOUISIANA, except the Parishes of St. Bernard, Palquemines, Jefferson, St. John, St. Charles, St. James, Ascension, Assumption, Terre Bonne, Lafourche, St. Mary, St. Martin, and Orleans, including the City of Orleans), MISSISSIPPI, ALABAMA, FLORIDA, GEORGIA, SOUTH CAROLINA, NORTH CAROLINA, and VIRGINIA (except the forty-eight counties designated as West Virginia, and also the counties of Berkley, Accomac, Northampton, Elizabeth City, York, Princess Ann, and Norfolk, including the cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth), and which excepted parts are, for the present, left precisely as if this Proclamation were not issued.

And by virtue of the power and for the purpose aforesaid, I do order and declare that ALL PERSONS HELD AS SLAVES within said designated States and parts of States ARE, AND HENCEFORWARD SHALL BE FREE! and that the Executive Government of the United States, including the Military and Naval Authorities thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of said persons.

And I hereby enjoin upon the people so declared to be free, to abstain from all violence, unless in necessary self-defence, and I recommend to them that in all cases, when allowed, they labor faithfully for reasonable wages.

And I further declare and make known that such persons of suitable condition will be received into the armed service of the United States to garrison forts, positions, stations and other places, and to man vessels of all sorts in said service.

And upon this act, sincerely believed to be an act of justice, warranted by the Constitution, upon military necessity, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my name, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this first day of January, in the year of our Lord one [L. S.] thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-seventh.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

By the President.—WILLIAM H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

Of course all the three and nine months' men (and the two years' men) are now out of service.

In the totals included 262 raised in Maine, 3191 in Indiana, 10,540 in Missouri, 1860 in Kentucky for State defence, 2,587 for twelve months in Indiana, and 30,131 for two years in New York. No returns have been received from the States of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee and California. Since the date of the above summary there have been two calls for 300,000 each. An idea of the number in the field, or that may be put there, is conveyed by the War Department estimates. The Paymaster-General of volunteers asks money for 961 regiments of infantry, 159 of cavalry, 42 of artillery, 4 of engineers, and 174 artillery batteries—in all about equal to 1150 full regiments. The regular army to be added, consists of 6 regiments of cavalry, 5 of artillery, and 19 of infantry; making an aggregate army of about 1,200 regiments, which at the maximum numbers would embrace nearly a million and a quarter of men.

THE UNITED STATES NAVY.

When the war broke out in 1861, we had only 76 vessels of all sorts in the navy, and only 43 of these were in commission. And these had been scattered to the ends of the earth by the conspirators under the lead of Jeff. Davis, so that when the long-meditated blow should be struck, the government would be paralyzed. We have now, compared with 1862, as follows:

PRIZES IN 1863.—Whole number, 1045; of which, steamers, 179; schooners, 547; sloops, 131; brigs, 80; barks, 26; ships, 15; yachts, etc., 117. Many more were destroyed on the coast and great rivers. Value of prizes sent to courts since the blockade began, $13,000,000; already condemned, $6,897,970 86. During the war of 1812, we had 391 vessels of all sorts in the navy, and 517 privateers commissioned; the whole number of prizes taken by them during the war was 1719.

THE SHRINKAGE OF THE REBELLION.

THE following table gives a birdseye view of the extent to which the Slaveholders' Rebellious Confederacy has grown the wrong way (for them) since the flag of the Union was fired upon at Fort Sumter in April, 1861. The table shows how much the conspirators claimed in 1861 in territory and population, and how much of each they hold after two years and a half of active military operations:

| | REBEL CLAIMS IN 1861. | | RE-TAKEN TO DEC. 1863. | | IN REBELLION, DEC. '63. | |

* Florida ought to be counted about half and half; her territory gives no strength and her people contribute little aid (except in provisions) to the Rebellion. Arkansas is practically clear of every form of rebel power.

Thus it appears that the Slaveholders' Rebellion, which set out to grasp all territory south of the Missouri line (and claimed even Delaware, which we do not allow them), has already lost more than two-thirds of its territory, and more than three-fifths of its population as reckoned in 1860. What with the wear and tear of war, the escape of slaves, and the diseases incident to insufficiency of food and shelter, it may be safely estimated that the States now under the rule of Jeff. Davis, show a heavy decrease from the last census (as applied to the territory hy them now actually occupied)—say a total population now of but little over four millions, black and white, instead of the twelve and a half millions on which the war was based.

ARMS AND AMMUNITION.

[From the Report of the Secretary of War.]

The quantities of the principal articles of ordnance materials in the control of the department at the beginning of the war, the quantities of those articles that have since been procured, and the quantities of those articles on hand on June 80, 1863, are shown in the following table, viz.:

At the beginning of the war we were compelled to rely upon foreign countries for the supply of nearly all our arms and munitions. Now all these things are manufactured at home, and we are independent of foreign countries not only for the manufactures, but also for materials.

FOREIGNERS IN THE UNITED STATES.—It appears by census tables (not yet printed) that the entire population of the United States, born in foreign countries, was, in round numbers, in 1860, 4,136,000. This aggregate was distributed in States and Territories, in round numbers, as follows: Alabama, 12,000; Arkansas, 4,000; California, 146,000; Connecticut, 80,000; Delaware, 9,000; Florida, 3,000; Georgia, 11,000; Illinois, 324,000; Indiana, 118,000; Iowa, 106,000; Kansas, 12,000; Kentucky, 59,000; Louisiana, 81; Maine, 37,000; Maryland, 77; Massachusetts, 260,000; Michigan, 149,000; Minnesota, 58,000; Mississippi, 8,000; Missouri, 160,000; New Hampshire, 20,000; New Jersey, 122,000; New York, 993,000; North Carolina, 3,000; Ohio, 328,000; Oregon, 5,000; Pennsylvania, 430,000; Rhode Island, 37,000; South Carolina, 10,000; Tennessee, 20,000; Texas, 47,000; Vermont, 32,000; Virginia, 35,000; Wisconsin, 276,000; Colorado, 3,000; Dacotah, 2,000; District of Columbia, 12,000; Nebraska, 6,000; Nevada, 2,000; New Mexico, 6,000; Utah, 12,000; Washington Territory, 3,000.

PROCLAMATION OF AMNESTY,

ACCOMPANYING THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE, DECEMBER 8, 1863.

WHEREAS, in and by the Constitution of the United States, it is provided that the President "shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offences against the United States, except in cases of impeachment;" and whereas a rebellion now exists whereby the loyal State governments of several States have for a long time been subverted, and many persons have committed and are now guilty of treason against the United States; and whereas, with reference to said rebellion and treason, laws have been enacted by Congress declaring forfeitures and confiscation of property and liberation of slaves, all upon terms and conditions therein stated; and also declaring that the President was thereby authorized at any time thereafter, by proclamation, to extend to persons who may have participated in the existing rebellion, in any State or part thereof, pardon and amnesty, with such exceptions and at such times and on such conditions as he may deem expedient for the public welfare; and whereas the congressional declaration for limited and conditional pardon accords with well-established judicial exposition of the pardoning power; and whereas, with reference to said rebellion, the President of the United States has issued several proclamations, with provisions in regard to the liberation of slaves; and whereas it is now desired by some persons heretofore engaged in said rebellion to resume their allegiance to the United States, and to reinaugurate loyal State governments within and for their respective States: Therefore,

I, ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President of the United States, do proclaim, declare, and make known to all persons who have, directly or by implication, participated in the existing rebellion, except as hereinafter excepted, that a full pardon is hereby granted to them and each of them, with restoration of all rights of property, except as to slaves, and in property cases where rights of third parties shall have intervened, and upon the condition that every such person shall take and subscribe an oath, and thenceforward keep and maintain such oath inviolate; and which oath shall be registered for permanent preservation, and shall be of the tenor and effect following, to wit:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, in presence of Almighty God, that I will henceforth faithfully support, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States, and the union of the States thereunder; and that I will, in like manner, abide by and faithfully support all acts of Congress passed during the existing rebellion with reference to slaves, so long and so far as not repealed, modified, or held void by Congress, or by decision of the Supreme Court; and that I will, in like manner, abide by and faithfully support all proclamations of the President made during the existing rebellion having reference to slaves, so long and so far as not modified or declared void by decision of the Supreme Court. So help me God."

The persons excepted from the benefits of the foregoing provisions are, all who are, or shall have been, civil or diplomatic officers or agents of the so-called confederate government; all who have left judicial stations under the United States to aid the rebellion; all who are, or shall have been, military or naval officers of said so-called confederate government, above the rank of colonel in the army, or of lieutenant in the navy; all who left seats in the United States Congress to aid the rebellion; all who resigned commissions in the Army or Navy of the United States, and afterwards aided the rebellion; and all who have engaged in any way in treating colored persons, or white persons in charge of such, otherwise than lawfully as prisoners of war, and which persons may have been found in the United Service as soldiers, seamen, or in any other capacity.

And I do further proclaim, declare, and make known, that whenever, in any of the States of Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, and North Carolina, a number of persons, not less than one-tenth in number of the votes cast in such State at the presidential election of the year of our Lord 1860, each having taken the oath aforesaid, and not having since violated it, and being a qualified voter by the election law of the State existing immediately before the so-called act of secession, and excluding all others, shall re-establish a State government which shall be republican, and in nowise contravening said oath, such shall be recognized as the true government of the State, and the State shall receive thereunder the benefits of the constitutional provision which declares that "the United States shall guaranty to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and, on application of the Legislature, or the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence."

And I do further proclaim, declare, and make known that any provision which may be adopted by such State government in relation to the freed people of such State, which shall recognize and declare their permanent freedom, provide for their education, and which may yet be consistent, as a temporary arrangement, with their present condition as a laboring, landless, and homeless class, will not be objected to by the National Executive. And it is suggested as not improper, that, in constructing a loyal State government in any State, the name of the State, the boundary, the subdivisions, the constitution, and the general code of laws, as before the rebellion, be maintained, subject only to the modifications made necessary by the conditions hereinbefore stated, and such others, if any, not contravening said conditions, and which may be deemed expedient by those framing the new State government.

To avoid misunderstanding, it may be proper to say that this proclamation, so far as it relates to State governments, has no reference to States wherein loyal State governments have all the while been maintained. And for the same reason, it may be proper to further say that whether members sent to Congress from any State shall be admitted to seats, constitutionally rests exclusively with the respective Houses, and not to any extent with the Executive. And still further, that this proclamation is intended to present the people of the States wherein the national authority has been suspended, and loyal State governments have been subverted, a mode in and by which the national authority and loyal State governments may be reestablished within said States, or in any of them; and, while the mode presented is the best the Executive can suggest, with his present impressions, it must not be understood that no other possible mode would be acceptable.

Given under my hand, at the City of Washington, the 8th day of December, A. D. [L. S.] 1863, and of the independence of the United States of America the eighty-eighth.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

By the President:
WILLIAM H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

THE GREAT EUROPEAN COMPLICATIONS.

Prepared for the TRIBUNE ALMANAC by Prof. A. J. SCHEM.

The peace of Europe is continually being disturbed by a number of grave questions, and it is generally believed that it will never be established on a permanent foundation, until these questions are solved. As they may give rise at any moment to bloody wars or important diplomatic complications, an acquaintance with their main points will greatly facilitate an understanding of the events of the year 1864. We therefore give a brief statement of each of these questions.

I.—THE POLISH QUESTION.

The insurrection of the Poles against the Russian rule broke out in February, 1863, and notwithstanding the utmost efforts of Russia, it was not yet suppressed at the close of the year. The avowed object of the Poles was to wrest from Russia all the territory that had formerly belonged to the Polish empire. This result once obtained, they hoped to achieve, in the course of time, the re-establishment of the Polish empire within its limits of 1772. At that time, the year of the first partition, the empire contained 18,359 geo. sq. miles, and 12,216,000 inhabitants. Now the Poles are divided between Russia, Austria and Prussia. In Russia they inhabit the kingdom of Poland (4,800,000) and eight western provinces of Russia proper, where, however, according to the Russian statisticians, they form at present only a small minority of the total population, the race statistics of these provinces being as follows:—5,900,000 Russians, 1,027,000 Poles, 1,645,000 Lithuanians, 1,139,000 Jews, and 113,000 of different nationalities, among a total population of 9,849,000; or 60.10 per cent. Russians, 10.40 per cent. Poles, 16.90 per cent. Lithuanians, 11.65 per cent. Jews, and 1.15 per cent. different nationalities. Austria has 2,159,648 Poles living in the province of Gallicia, which has a total population of 4,597,470. The number of Poles, subject to Prussia, amounts to 1,950,199, who live in the provinces of Posen (777,646 in a total population of 1,494,621), Prussia (449,497 in a total population of 2,886,817), Silesia (719,387 in a total population of 3,390,743), Pomerania (8,633), and scattered in other provinces (86). Most of the other European powers have remonstrated with Russia in behalf of Poland, though they did not support the claim of the Poles to entire independence. Russia has refused to accept their advice until the pacification of Poland will be completed.

II.—THE SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN QUESTION.

The death of King Frederick VII., of Denmark, which occurred on Nov. 15, 1863, has brought on a crisis in the Schleswig-Holstein question. The two duchies of Schleswig and Holstein have never been integral parts of Denmark, but they were independent duchies, whose dukes happened to be at the same time kings of Denmark. In Denmark proper, the crown of the monarchy was transmissible to females; in the two duchies the Salic law prevailed, according to which the crown can only descend to heirs male. In consequence of this difference of the law of succession, the connection of the two duchies with Denmark had to cease with the death of King Frederick; the Prince of Augustenburg being the lawful successor in the two duchies, and another relative in Denmark. In order, however, to secure the integrity of the Danish monarchy, a conference of the great powers of Europe, held at London in 1852, and in which England, France, Russia, Austria, Prussia and Sweden took part, undertook to change the law of succession both in Denmark proper and in the duchies, designating Prince Christian, the father of the princess of Wales and of the new king of Greece, as entitled to succession for the whole monarchy. On the death of King Frederick, the Prince of Augustenburg claimed the succession in the two duchies, on the ground that the conference of London was not authorized to dispose of his rights and the privileges of the people of the two duchies—that neither the Diets of the duchies nor the federal Diet of Germany had given their consent to the protocol of 1852, and that it was therefore utterly invalid. The claims of the prince were at once recognized by a number of the German princes, and sustained by the German people generally.

The duchy of Holstein is exclusively inhabited by Germans, and is a part of the German Confederacy. In Schleswig about 146,500 inhabitants are speaking German, 88,000 Friesian, 135,000 Danish, and 85,000 Danish and German. Schleswig does not belong to the German confederacy, but by virtue of treaties is connected with Holstein. The two duchies (together with the duchy of Lauenburg) have a population of 1,004,473 souls, while Denmark proper has 1,600,551.

III.—THE GERMAN QUESTION.

The German Confederacy is, at present, little more than a federation of independent states. The universal desire of the people is to change the federation of states into one federal empire, whose supremacy over the governments of the several states is to be emphatically expressed. We subjoin a table of the states, at present composing the confederacy, with their area, population, contingent to the federal army, and their representation in the federal councils. Of the latter, there are two, the Plenum or General Assembly, and the Minor Council. In the former, Austria and each of the five kingdoms cast four votes each, and the smaller states, according to their importance, three, two or one each. In the Minor Council, Austria, each one of the five kingdoms, as also Baden, Hesse Cassel, Hesse Darmstadt, Holstein and Luxemburg, have one vote each; while of the smaller states, two or more have one vote in common. The German people generally demand the convocation of a German Parliament. Upon the invitation of the Emperor of Austria, in August, 1863, a Congress of the German princes and representatives of the free cities was held at Frankfort, to discuss a thorough reform of the Confederacy. The opposition of Russia, however, prevented the execution of the Austrian scheme.

* The Plenum or General Assembly consists at present of 65 votes, divided among the states as the column above indicates, Austria and other large states casting 4 votes each, and the other States in proportion. The Plenum meets whenever an organic change is to be introduced, or any affair relating to all the Confederation is to be decided.

† The Minor Council is composed of 17 votes, eleven of the larger states having each a single vote, and the remaining states 6 joint votes.

IV.—The Italian Question.

Italy, until 1859, divided among a number of princes, is now a powerful empire under the rule of the former king of Sardinia. A few territories are as yet prevented by force of arms from annexing themselves to Italy; these are Venetia (now belonging to Austria), with 2,446,056 inhabitants, and the Papal States with about 690,000 inhabitants. The Italian nationality also prevails in the southern part of the Tyrol (329,913 souls), in the Swiss Canton of Turin (116,348), and the French provinces of Corsica (252,859). The demanded annexation of Venetia and Rome to Italy constitutes the Italian question, in which the great majority of the Italian people agree. Many sanguine patriots look forward to the time when also the other districts, exclusively or predominantly inhabited by Italians, will be incorporated with Italy.

V.—The Turkish Question.

European Turkey is inhabited by about eleven millions of Christians, and only four-and-a-half millions of Mussulmen. The former feel, therefore, a natural aspiration to emancipate themselves from the Turkish rule, and achieve their independence. Four of the Christian provinces — Moldavia, Wallachia, Servia, Montenegro —already are semi-independent. Russia and Greece encourage the aspirations of the Christians, while England and France have hitherto defended the integrity of the Turkish Empire. In 1854, the Turkish question gave rise to the Crimean war.

KANSAS.

There was no general election except for Legislature and Local Officers in this State, in 1863. In most counties there was but one ticket, and that thoroughly Union. The Legislature is almost entirely Union, probably in the proportion of ten Unionists to one Democrat.

INDIANA.

In this State only County Officers were chosen in 1863. In about one-fourth of the counties there was no contest; in the rest of the State there was a Union gain of about 15000 over the vote of 1862, when the Democrats carried the State by 9543 majority. In 1860, the vote for President was: Lincoln, 139033; Douglas, 115509; Breckinridge, 12295; Bell, 5306; Lincoln over Douglas, 23524; over all, 5923. The Legislature is "Democratic."

OREGON.

No election has been held in this State since June, 1862, when Addison C. Gibbs, Union-Dem., was chosen Governor by 7039 votes, to 3450 for John F. Miller, Dem.; total vote, 10489. The Legislature, chosen at the same time, has a large Union majority.—In 1860, the vote was: Lincoln, 5270; Breckinridge, 5006; Douglas, 3951; Bell, 183. Lincoln over Breckinridge, 264; over Douglas, 1319; all others over Lincoln, 3870. Total vote, 14410.

THE TERRITORIES.

ARIZONA.

No election has been held here; the appointed governor and other officers are just organizing the Territorial Government, at Tucson.

COLORADO.

An election for both houses of the Territorial Legislature was held on the 1st of Sept., 1863. To the UPPER HOUSE 13 members were chosen for two years; to the LOWER HOUSE 26 members for one year. With the exception of two in the Upper House, all the members in both branches are thorough Unionists, and probably the two exceptions will generally sustain the government. No party lines were made between Republicans and War Democrats; the Pro-Slaverytes polled but few votes, not ever one-fifth of those cast, and did not elect a single candidate. The Legislature meets at Denver, Feb. 1st, 1864, to hold a session of 40 days.

DAKOTA.

An election for Legislature was held Sept. 7, 1863. No party lines were drawn, but a majority elected are Republicans. In two counties there will be contested seats. The council stands, Rep. 7, Dem. 6; House, Rep. 13, Dem. 11—Rep. majority on joint ballots, 3. The Legislature meets Dec. 7, 1863, at Yankton, for a session of 40 days.

IDAHO.

The first election in this Territory was held on the 30th Oct., 1863. A delegate to Congress and Legislature were chosen; the latter consisting of a Council of 7 and a House of 13 members; 5 of the Council and 8 of the House were allotted to the western slope of the mountains. The returns of the election did not reach us in time for putting on record in this place.

NEBRASKA.

A general election was held on the 13th Oct., 1863. The Unionists had the field pretty much to themselves, electing W. R. Harvey, Auditor, and Aug. Kountze, Treasurer of the Territory, with a Council and House of Representatives largely Union in sentiment.

NEVADA.

GENERAL ELECTION HELD SEPT. 2, 1863, for or against State Government, for a Constitutional Convention, and a Territorial Legislative Assembly, and local officers.

Maj. for State Government, 5158 (all the elected members are thoroughly Union). Union maj. on Convention vote, 3916.

LEGISLATURE.—All the members are Union men; 13 form the Council, and 26 the House.

NEW MEXICO.

An election for Delegate in Congress was held in this Territory, Sept. 7, 1863. The candidates were Col. Francisco Perea and Senor Gallegos. The former an earnest Union man, active as a citizen and soldier; the latter a pro-slavery Democrat, once a Catholic priest, expelled from the church by the bishop. The vote stood 7231 for Perea, and 6425 for Gallegos; majority for Perea, 806

UTAH.

A one-sided election was held in September, 1863, at which John F Kinney (Dem.), formerly United States Judge for the Territory, was chosen Delegate to Congress. Members of the Legislature and local officers were also chosen.

WASHINGTON.

The Territorial Legislatnre, elected in 1863, is composed of a Council (Union 4, Dem. 3) and a House (Union 15, Dem. 9). By the erection of Idaho Territory, Washington loses 2 in the Council and 6 in the House.

REBEL STATES.

A new Congress was chosen in 1863, to meet in Feb. 1864. Of course there were in general no candidates directly opposed to the Rebellion, but many of the originally secessionists were left at home, and men of more moderate views sent instead. In North Carolina, 8 out of 10 members of Congress newly elected are avowedly in favor of peace on terms of re-union. In Tennessee and Arkansas, no elections were held; nor, of course, in Missouri, Kentucky or Maryland. It is not probable that the incoming Congress (if it meets at all) will tolerate such bogus representatives as now claim to represent Missouri and Kentucky.

OHIO SOLDIERS IN LIBBY PRISON.

The officers of Ohio volunteers confined as prisoners of war in Libby Prison, Richmond, Va., met on the regular election day of their State (Oct. 13), and after choosing and swearing in the usual officers of election, all Ohio prisoners proceeded to vote by ballot, with the following result:

The returns was made out in due form, and forwarded by a released surgeon to Ohio. It could not be officially counted, but its testimony to the unswerving loyalty of our suffering brethren in Richmond is none the less precious.

The soldiers' votes were returned to the County Clerks, who rejected over 3000 cast for the Radical candidates. The fullest returns which we have been able to get (and these are quite incomplete), show the following result:

Radical .... 8827—Conservative.... 777

In one regiment the colonel was a candidate on the Conservative ticket. He received only 68 votes in his own regiment.

MINNESOTA, 1863.

The soldiers of this State voted at the election in 1863, but the returns had not been opened when our Almanac went to press.

CALIFORNIA, 1863.

The military vote has not yet been fully returned. Such figures as we have, show the following result:

In 1861, Pennsylvania soldiers voted: Union, 11351; Dem., 3173. While the votes of those soldiers who cast ballots in 1861 were heavily on the Union side, the results in 1862–63 are still more so; in fact, the progression is rapidly placing all the soldiers on one side, as may be seen by the above figures. Where, in 1862, there were 81 Union votes in each 100, there were 92 in each 100 in 1863. The votes here recorded were of course influenced in a great degree by personal friendships and local issues; on a square contest for or against the suppression of the Rebellion by force of arms and the preservation of the Union as it was, the minority would be not worth the trouble of counting. The Army is a unit for the old flag.

MUTUAL LIFE INS. CO.

CASH ASSETS, . . . . . $2,650,000

CLEAR SURPLUS, . . . . . $1,500,000

This Company, established in Boston, Mass., in 1843, is the oldest and most reliable wholly Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States, and has been uniformly successful, having always made large returns in cash dividends to all the policy holders. Last cash dividend 39 per cent.

It is strictly a benevolent institution for mutual protection; entirely beneficent in all its workings and tendencies; and is an excellent form of investment.

By the last report of the Insurance Commissioners, the surplus of assets over liabilities was $1,500,000, being proportionately greater than any Life Insurance Company in the United States. Expenses proportionately "less" than any other Company.

This Company, being purely mutual, insures at the lowest possible rates; and if the premiums paid exceed the actual cost, the surplus is returned to the parties insuring.

Every fifth year, at the time of declaring the dividends, the business is, as it were, closed, so that its actual position and solvency are made manifest at that time, and the surplus funds are divided pro rata among all the insured. This guards the assured against any possible loss from inefficiency on the part of the Company, and is a sure guaranty as regards the future.

Insurance may be effected for the benefit of married women, beyond the reach of their husbands' creditors. Creditors may insure the lives of debtors.

Parties at a distance may insure from blanks, which will be supplied and forwarded free of expense.

A LETTER FROM

Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher.

GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE COMPANY,

Gentlemen:—It gives me the greatest pleasure to add my testimony to the unrivalled excellencies of GROVER & BAKER'S Sewing Machine. It is in my opinion by far the most valuable of any I have tried. The thorough operation of it is most easy and simple, and its unobtrusive and quiet movements are very grateful to a weary head. The work when done is wonderful in its strength. More than two-thirds of all the sewing done in my family for the last two years has been done by GROVER & BAKER'S machine, and I have never had a garment rip or need mending, except those rents which frolicsome boys will make in whole cloth, and for them your machine has, I suppose, no remedy but a patch or darn.

The seam on the under side, sometimes represented as an objection to GROVER & BAKER'S machine, is, I think, only the evidence of unskillful operation.

Honestly appreciating the excellencies of your machine as fully as I have here stated, I could give it no higher praise than the fact that when my only daughter married I gave her this long-tried household friend, depriving myself of its services to lighten her first assumption of domestic duties.

I can manage any machine comfortably, but my daughter was never willing to use any but GROVER & BAKER'S.

I hope to be able soon to send you a well-deserved recommendation from my husband—meanwhile, if any part of this will be of value it is at your disposal.

Yours gratefully,

MRS. H. W. BEECHER.

FISH'S PATENT LAMP-HEATING APPARATUS.

No. 1, holding nearly one quart of water, is designed for the Sick-Room or Nursery, while it may be used for many other purposes.

To Nurses and Night-Watchers.—We have had in use in our family, for some time past, the Nursery or Night Lamp patented and manufactured by W. L. Fish & Co., this city. It is a most convenient article—one which we could not easily dispense with.—Scientific American, April 25, 1863.

I have examined Fish's Nursery or Night Lamp. It is admirably adapted to the wants of families with small children, and the convenience and comfort of a sick-room. VALENTINE MOTT, M.D.
New York, Aug. 22, 1862.

Health, Comfort, and Economy—which are all largely promoted by the use of an apparatus patented within the present year by Warren L Fish, for boiling, frying, stewing, and steeping food, and toasting bread, with the flame that lights the room, at an expense of gas (at 25 cents per 100 feet) of less than two cents an hour; if kerosene oil is used, the cost is still less. There is no dust, dirt, or ashes, and the varying circumstances to which the apparatus is applicable, would be scarcely conjectured at first sight; it is handy for young and old, for sick and well, for the laborer and the student, night or day, summer or winter. A single match will put it in operation instantly, and in fifteen minutes cold water is made to boil. In summer time, none but actual laborers ought to take anything for breakfast and supper but cold or toasted bread and butter, and a cup or two of hot tea or coffee, which can be prepared at the cost of a cent or two for the whole family. By having one of these lamps, a clerk or student could save ten times or more the price of the lamp in a year, by simply preparing his own breakfast, while persons who board, or go to the country for the summer, would by its use be able to add greatly to their comfort by preparing their own tea or coffee, and little delicacies in case of sickness. As an article for the sick-room and the nursery, this lamp is invaluable; no mother of a growing family, if she knew its value, would be willing to do without it for a day, simply because any child is liable to be taken sick any night, and in almost all the illnesses of childhood, warm water is more or less necessary. It is a prompt and perfect cure for Croup; but as a convenience for the sick-room in general, Fish's Lamp is literally invaluable. For hospital, tent, or barrack, for camping out, pic-nics, a-fishing, etc., it is an article of comfort beyond all proportion to its cost.—Hall's Journal of Health.

By the flame of a moderate sized lamp, at a cost of a cent's worth of oil, a very comfortable breakfast can be cooked, and in less time than by any other fuel except gas, which the occupant of an army tent or a country house does not find always at hand. Therefore, a kerosene stove or lamp boiler is a very handy thing to have about the house."—Tribune, Sept. 9, '63.

We also have other sizes and styles, for full description of which send for a pamphlet, which will be furnished gratis and mailed free.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these Pills have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic ever employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians, have lent their names to certify to the public the responsibility of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

Our American Almanac contains directions for their use, and certificates of their cures of the following complaints—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for Ayer's Pills, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value, or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

This remedy has won for itself such notoriety from its cures of every variety of pulmonary disease, that it is entirely unnecessary to recount the evidences of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distress ng and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. And not only in formidable attacks upon the lungs, but for the milder varieties of COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, Etc.; and for CHILDREN it is the pleasantest and safest medicine that can be obtained.

As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best that it ever has been.

GRAPE VINES, NATIVE AND FOREIGN,

FOR GARDENS, VINEYARDS, AND VINERIES.

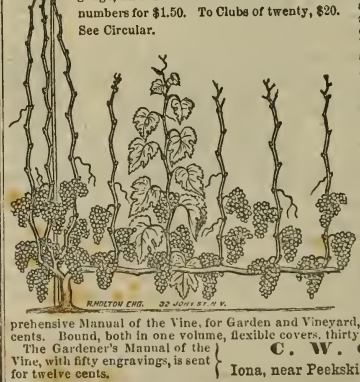
My Foreign Vines are good and cheap—not inferior to the best that are to be obtained, but HARDY VINES have been my SPECIALTY for fourteen years, and have received my earnest study and personal attention during nearly half a century.

It was in my hands that the Delaware and Diana received their development and were brought to their true normal or natural condition, by which they have revolutionized grape culture in America, and established a new era of the vine by which it has risen from a fruit of so little value and excellence as scarcely to deserve the name, to become our most important fruit in value, in excellence greatly exceeding all others. In the language of Col. Wilder, "The Delaware, which at our first knowledge of it was feeble and diminutive, has in the hands of Dr. Grant, at Iona Island, become vigorous, productive, and of good size, simply by judicious cultivation. By learning its wants and supplying them, he has brought it from its insignificant condition to become permanently our most excellent fruit."

I have this season introduced two new Seedlings, named Iona and Israella, which have the characteristic excellence of the Frontignans with the remarkable hardiness and earliness that renders them the most certain in productiveness of all our fruits.

I offer vines of unexampled quality, exceedingly cheap to single purchasers; and to Clubs at wholesale prices, which are so low as to barely repay the cost of production at the present advanced price of labor. Safe transportation assured for any distance.



LANDMARK's is the most thorough and comprehensive book on Cultivation, in any language, and is THE book of Fruits. Twelve numbers for $1.50. To Clubs of twenty, $20. See Circular.

My stock consists of more than 250,000 vines, of all the desirable varieties, but more than half of the whole consists of Delawares. The assortment comprises VINES for immediate bearing that will give a good crop the first season. VINES for early bearing that will give a good crop the second season. Vines for the vineyard, which at three years old will give a crop that will pay the whole cost of the vineyard up to the time, and leave a large surplus. A trellis of one hundred vines bought of me four years ago, has this season furnished hundreds of pounds for the family, and from one-half of the quantity sold, has contributed one hundred dollars to the Sanitary Commission. It is impossible to give the information which purchasers need in an advertisement, but my Descriptive Catalogue states the whole matter clearly. It is a pamphlet of twenty-four large pages, and many fine engravings drawn from life. It is sent for a two cent stamp. My Illustrated Catalogue, with nearly fifty engravings, is the most thorough and comprehensive Manual of the Vine, for Garden and Vineyard, in the language; it is sent for fifteen cents. Bound, both in one volume, flexible covers, thirty-five cents.

The Gardener's Manual of the Vine, with fifty engravings, is sent for twelve cents.

National Almanac and Annual Record for 1864.

Exhibiting the Political, Financial, Economical, Educational, and Military condition and progress of the United States and of the individual States, for the Years 1862-3, and the Personnel of the Government for 1864.

The first volume of this really great work is now well known to the public. It was the most full, accurate, fresh and interesting compend of desirable information relating to the condition of the country ever published in a single volume. As a consequence, an edition of that volume was issued greater than that of any similar book ever published in Europe or America.

It is the design of the publisher to make the volume for 1864 a decided improvement on that for 1863.

The contents of such a book cannot be adequately described in brief, for it will contain information about almost every subject relating to the National and State Governments, their officers and their affairs, about which a question can be asked.

Some idea of its valuable and varied contents may be derived from the following:

The volume will be divided into five principal parts.

I. The Calendar, with full astronomical tables prepared by one of the ablest computers in the country. This part, besides full meteorological tables for the whole United States, will be enriched by an original article on the Progress of Astronomy, one on the Physical Geography of the United States illustrated by colored maps, and one on Astronomical Observatories, all of them prepared by the most eminent living authorities on the subject.

II. THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES. This part is divided into the three great branches, Executive, Legislative and Judicial; and the Executive is again divided and subdivided through its Departments, Bureaus, etc. Complete and officially corrected lists are given of the principal officers, etc., of each of these Branches, Departments, Bureaus, etc., and full particulars of the transactions of the Executive offices, with valuable statistical tables for the years 1862-3. Under the head of the Department of State will be found the principal Officers, the Ministers of the United States and Consuls, etc., abroad, with salaries, etc.; and the Ministers and Consuls from Foreign Countries resident in the United States, etc., etc. Under the Treasury Department will be found the Officers and organization of that Department, the Statistics of Finance, Trade, Commerce, Navigation, Imports, Exports, etc.; AND THE HIGHLY IMPORTANT RESULTS OF THE OPERATION OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE LAWS. It is intended and expected that the information and tables under this head will be of the highest interest and value. Full lists of the Banks established under the National Banking Law will also be under this head. Under the War and Navy Departments will be found full and recently corrected official lists of the Officers of those Departments and of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, showing their organization, rank, pay, etc.; the vessels of the Navy, etc Under the Post Office Department will be found the Officers of the Department, a sketch of its origin, a digest of the new Postal Law, an accurate table of the foreign postages of the most convenient form for use, and the most interesting of the statistics of the Department. Under the Interior Department will be found the same character of official lists, embracing the Officers of the Department and its Bureaus, and of the Judicial System of the United States. Also copious particulars concerning the Land, Pension, Patent and Indian Offices, the Agricultural Bureau, etc. etc. Under the Congressional head there will be a carefully prepared Abstract of the Laws of the last Session; a revised and corrected alphabetical summary of the Excise Law; full lists of Senators and Representatives, with the Committees and Officers of both Houses, etc. etc.

III. THE STATES Individually and their affairs. This part will contain lists of the Officers of each State Government, when their terms expire, etc.; lists of Judges, their jurisdiction, times and places of holding court, etc. Also full particulars concerning the State Finances, Debt, Banks, Saving Banks, Schools, Charitable and Reformatory Institutions, Prisons, etc, and their affairs generally; including the FULLEST DETAILS yet published of the CONTRIBUTIONS OF SOLDIERS BY EACH STATE TO THE ARMIES OF THE UNITED STATES.

IV. THE WAR.—A COMPLETE CHRONICLE OF THE EVENTS OF THE WAR FOR THE YEAR 1863.

V. MISCELLANEOUS.—Embracing miscellaneous matters generally, and the affairs of Foreign Countries. The affairs of England, France, Russia, Spain, Portugal, etc., will be presented in this part with a fullness, freshness and value never before approached in this country. It is designed also to give the governments and to exhibit the condition of the British North American Provinces, and of the Mexican and South American States. The miscellaneous part will also contain articles on Immigration as it effects our population; on the Sanitary Commission; on Mortality and Disease in the Army, illustrated by diagrams; Statistics of Religion and Education; Tables showing the condition of the Colleges of the United States, etc. etc. Statistics of Wrecks, Naval Prizes taken, Bankruptcy, Obituaries, chronicles of important events, etc.

The volume forthcoming will be invaluable to professional men, to public officers, to teachers, to financiers, and to men of affairs in every situation in life.

The Rolls, being of Vulcanized Rubber, will bear hot and cold water, and will neither break nor tear off buttons.

Our Improved Method of Fastening the Rubber to the shaft, secured to us by Letters Patent just issued, we believe to be superior to any other.

The frame being of iron, thoroughly galvanized, all danger from rust is removed, and the liability to shrink, swell, split, etc., so unavoidable in wooden machines, is prevented.

The Spiral Springs over the rolls are made of the best Steel, thoroughly tempered, and will outlast any other part of the Machine, and render it Self-Adjusting, so that small and large articles, as well as articles uneven in thickness, are certain to receive uniform pressure.

The Patent Fastening by which the Machine is tightened to the tub, we believe to be superior, in simplicity and efficiency, to anything yet offered.

It will wring thoroughly anything, from a single thread to a bed quilt, without any alteration whatever.

No thumb-screws or complicated fastenings to wear out or get out of order. It can be fastened firmly to the tub in a single second.

Every housekeeper should have one of the PUTNAM SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES-WRINGERS, for they are a real comfort, and it is a great pleasure to use them. ## THE GENERAL DIFFUSION OF POLITICAL KNOWLEDGE

So justly urged, at the present day, as a means of securing to the American people the blessings of Constitutional freedom, is an enterprise which commends itself to the favorable regard of every true patriot. With special reference to this object, the following works have been prepared by ANDREW W. YOUNG, A.M., of New York; each an independent work of itself, and forming, together, A COMPLETE POLITICAL LIBRARY.

I.—GOVERNMENT CLASS BOOK: Designed as a School Text-Book for the Instruction of Youth in the Principles of Government, and the Rights and Duties of Citizens.—This work contains:

(1.) The Principles of Civil Government, familiarly explained. (2.) A general view of the State Governments, with a Synopsis of the Constitutions of the several States. (3.) The Government of the United States; comprising the Governments of the Colonies and the Confederation, and the Government under the Constitution, with explanatory notes on the Constitution. (4.) Common and Statutory Law, defining the Rights and prescribing the Duties of Citizens in the Civil and Domestic Relations. (5.) The Law of Nations; or the established usages and customs by which the intercourse of Nations is regulated. The work has received the unqualified commendation of State and County Superintendents, and of the Principals of Seminaries, in several States; and a general effort is now making for its introduction to supply a defect which has too long existed in the course of instruction. It contains 308 pages 12mo. Price, $1. A liberal discount to the Book Trade, and to Teachers.

II.—THE CITIZEN'S MANUAL OF GOVERNMENT AND LAW: Comprising the Elementary Principles of Civil Government; a Practical View of the State Governments, and of the Government of the United States; a Digest of Common and Statutory Law, and of the Law of Nations; and a Summary of Parliamentary Rules for the Practice of Deliberative Assemblies.

The full and comprehensive title of this work supersedes the necessity of an extended Prospectus. This work is intended for that large class of young citizens who have completed their school education, and for adults generally. It is believed that no other work of its size, containing an equal amount and variety of information useful to every citizen, has ever issued from the American press. It contains 448 solid 12mo. pages. Price, $1 25.

III.—NATIONAL ECONOMY: a History of the American Protective System, and its Effects upon the several Branches of Domestic Industry.

An important branch of a political education is National Economy. No question has been the subject of more controversy than the Protection of Home Industry by duties on foreign productions. This work is designed to assist our citizens in the investigation of this great question. It is not an Essay or Treatise reproducing the speculative opinions of any one or a few writers on Public Economy. A more valuable service has been performed by giving a faithful history of the Protective System of our country, presenting the arguments of our ablest statesmen on both sides of the question. And as experiment is the true test of a theory, the practical workings of both the protecting and non-protecting policies have been given, accompanied by statistics, to show the effects of these opposite systems upon the agriculture, manufactures and commerce of the nation. 468 pages 12mo. Price, $1 25.

IV.—THE AMERICAN STATESMAN: a Political History, exhibiting the Nature, Origin, and Practical Operation of Constitutional Government in the United States; the Rise and Progress of Parties; and the views of distinguished Statesmen on questions of Foreign and Domestic Policy; with an Appendix, containing Explanatory Notes, Political Essays, Statistical Information and other useful matter.

This work covers the whole period of our governmental history, embracing the Governments of the several Colonies of the Old Confederation during the Revolution, and of the Union under the Constitution. It presents all the prominent questions of public policy which have arisen under the present Government, and which have divided the people into parties from 1783 to 1864. It is the only complete political History of the United States published, and brings within the reach of the people, in a single volume, information which has been hidden away in the cumbrous archives or State papers, and other voluminous works inaccessible to the mass of our citizens. It is recommended by statesmen, politicians, and editors of all parties, as impartial and invaluable, and must become a standard book of reference. The history makes nearly 1,200 pages octavo, and is bound in superior Library style.—Sheep, marbled edges. Price, $4.

Single copies of these books supplied by mail, post paid, or by Express, carriage paid.

PATENT UMBRELLA LOCK STAND,

MANUFACTURED BY

WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINE CO.

Office, 505 Broadway, New York.

This new invention combines with a tasteful umbrella stand perfect security against the loss of an umbrella, and is recommended as an article of universal utility.—The World.

One of the most ingenious as well as useful inventions of the day, insuring perfect safety to an article proverbially given to be led astray.—Journal of Commerce.

It is an invention which gives great promise of putting an end to umbrella theft, and for hotels, restaurants, and similar places, this novel invention must be very desirable.—Commercial Advertiser.

An ingenious and perfect contrivance for preserving the right of property in an article which is notoriously difficult to keep. Without the check-key (a piece of brass small enough to put in the vest pocket) the umbrella cannot be removed. Hence every man gets his own, and knows that nobody else can get it. The stand is ornamental and low priced.—Evening Post.

We have used FOOTE'S Patent Umbrella Lock Stand, and find it not only useful for the ordinary purposes of umbrella stands, but perfectly adapted for securing to owners of umbrellas what has been considered rather in the light of common property. TIFFANY & CO., Nos. 550 and 552 Broadway, N.Y.
